This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1896.

In this issue of the REGISTER great pains have been taken to get full returns. Where preachers have failed to respond to the request for Statistics, Secretaries of State Conventions have supplied the deficiencies so far as they could, and only where these have been unable to help have the figures of last year been repeated. Preachers who have filled the cards sent them, have, as a general thing, given in their estimates of the number of Families in their respective Parishes, "contributors to the support of the parish, non-contributors and those represented only in the Sunday School." State Convention Secretaries have generally been able to give only the Families contributing, and probably this is true of all or nearly all the figures copied from last year's REGISTER. This will account for what may seem to some like overestimates in some cases and underestimates in others. The aggregate number of Universalist families is no doubt larger than has ever been reported in the REGISTER, and the only way to approximate accuracy is to report the whole number who are contributors, non-contributors, and those represented in the Sunday School only. Thanks are tendered to all who have assisted in making this Year Book as accurate as it is.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organization of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian Provinces, meets biennially. The next session — 1897 — will be held in Chicago, Ill., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, A. J. Canfield, D. D. The convention is composed of the Presidents (or in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates, and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention, and if there be but one parish so situated, it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention as reported at the session in Meriden, Conn., October, 1895, aggregate $263,978.92, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $126,294.53. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. The Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the repayment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $50,956 90, and the income is appropriated to loans to new students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884, on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $11,669.55.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which had an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $12,909.06.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention, in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the Fund amounts to $9,260.

VI. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VII. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund, $14,000.

VIII. William H. Ryder Fund. $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

IX. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $9,450 to the Convention as the beginning of a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of the remainder to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder.

X. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

XI. Guaranty Fund. $291.53.

XII. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,347.35.

The appropriations for the Convention year 1894-'95 are whatever income from any source may be deemed best by the Trustees.

The Board of Trustees have been authorized and directed "to provide for two or more Universalist Church Conferences, to be held at central locations, in the years intervening between the regular sessions of the Convention, not for ecclesiastical, legislative or financial work, but for the purpose of considering important questions relating to religion, morals and education."

The officers of the Convention are:—

President—Charles L. Hutchinson, Chicago, Ill.

Vice-President—G. L. Perin, D. D., Boston, Mass.

Secretary—G. L. Demarest, D. D., Manchester, N. H.

Trustees—J. D. W. Joy, Boston, Mass., Chairman; Hon. Sidney Perham, Paris, Me.; H. W. Rugg, D. D., Providence, R. I.; H. A. Manning, Stamford, Conn.; E. C. Sweetser, D. D., Philadelphia, Pa.; C. Elwood Nash, D. D., N. Y.; J. Coleman Adams, D. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Harry M. Fowler, Cleveland, Ohio; Stevenson Taylor, New York, N. Y.; G. L. Demarest, D. D., Manchester, N. H., Secretary.

Financial Secretary—Henry W. Rugg, D. D., Providence, R. I.

Sunday School Library Commission—Rev. J. N. Emery, Bridgeport, Conn.; E. F. Endicott, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass.; Miss Mary Snow, Orleans, Mass.; Mrs. Almon Gunnison, Worcester, Mass.; Miss Eva S. Morse, Boston, Mass.

THE WOMAN'S CENTENARY ASSOCIATION.—[The Woman's National Missionary Society of the Universalist Church.] This Association was organized in 1869, and meets annually on the Wednesday preceding the third Sunday in May, at such hours as shall be appointed by the Executive Board. Its officers are a President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, and three Elective Members; with a President for each State, District of Columbia, or other Territory within the jurisdiction of the Association. The first five officers, together with the Chairman of the Publishing Committee, and the Elective Members—one of the latter representing the Eastern States, and one the Middle and Southern States, and one the Western States, constitute the Executive Board of Managers of the Association.

The present officers are:—

President—Mrs. C. A. Quinby, Boston, Mass.

Vice-President—Mrs. M. A. Adams, Melrose Highlands, Mass.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Ella E. Manning, Stamford, Conn.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. E. L. Sherwood, P. O. Box 93, Anacostia, D. C.

Treasurer—Mrs. M. M. Dean, 942 P Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Elective Members—Mrs. Mary Swan, Chicago, Ill.; Miss M. E. Bortle, Buchtel College; Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, New York, N. Y.

Chairman of Publishing Committee—Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, 680 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y.

State Vice-Presidents are abolished, except in unorganized States. Each State, where the work is organized, elects its own officers, and is auxiliary to the national organization.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S CHRISTIAN UNION OF THE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH was organized at Lynn, Mass., in October, 1889. Its object is to unite the young people's organizations connected with the Universalist Church. Session of 1896 to be held in Jersey City, N. J.

Executive Board: President—Rev. Elmer J. Felt, Tacoma, Washington; Secretary—Rev. Harry L. Canfield, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass.; Treasurer—Miss Elizabeth H. Goldthwaite, Box 325, Danvers, Mass.; Miss Belle S. Macduff, Tufts College, Mass.; Miss Flora B. Brown, Dublin, Ind.; Jas. S. Stevens, Philadelphia, Pa.; Harry M. Fowler, Cleveland, O.

A Post-Office Mission is maintained under the auspices of the Union. Superintendent, Q. H. Shinn, D. D.; Secretary, Miss Minnie M. Lott, 700 Penn Mutual Buliding, Philadelphia, Pa.; Treasurer and Librarian, Miss Grace F. White, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass. Contributions are received and free literature sent by the Treasurer and Librarian.

The Junior Department, which is designed to train the children between the ages of 5 and 14, in the religion and work of the church, is under the superintendency of Mrs. Mary Grace Canfield. 30 West Street, Boston, Mass.

The Department of Christian Citizenship is well organized with Herbert B. Briggs, 1368 Madison Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, as superintendent.

THE UNIVERSALIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY. This Society was organized in 1834, for the collection of facts, books and papers pertaining to the history and condition of Universalism. The Society is incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts. It has a library of about four thousand volumes, besides important manuscripts and papers. This library has been of great help in tracing the history and fortunes of our distinguishing faith in other countries and times. Donations of books and money are earnestly solicited, that the library may be rendered as complete as possible, and its usefulness augmented. President—Richard Eddy, D. D., East Providence, R. I.; Vice-President—Hon. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. I.; Secretary and Librarian, T. J. Sawyer, D. D., Tufts College, Mass.; Assistant Secretary—Charles F. Potter, Malden, Mass.; Treasurer, G. L. Demarest, D. D., Manchester, N. H.; Trustee—Hon. Newton Talbot, Boston, Mass.

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (||) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday Schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un. denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (||) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, and from official reports of State Convention Secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources the figures of last year are used.

TUFTS COLLEGE.

This college is located at Tufts College, Middlesex County, Mass. It was incorporated in 1852, and opened for students in 1855.

TRUSTEES OF THE CORPORATION. — President, John D. W. Joy, Boston; Vice-President, Henry B. Metcalf, A. M.; Pawtucket, R. I.; Secretary, Arthur E. Mason, 99 Chauncy street, Boston; Treasurer, Newton Talbot, 30 West street, Boston; Lucius R. Paige, D. D., Cambridgeport; Timothy T. Sawyer, Charlestown; Elmer H. Capen, D D., Tufts College; Charles S. Fobes, A.M., Portland, Me.; Hosea M. Knowlton, New Bedford; Henry W. Rugg, D.D., Providence, R. I.; J. Coleman Adams, D.D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Hon. Charles Whittier, Roxbury; Byron Groce, A.M., Roxbury; Arthur E. Denison, Boston; Henry D. Williams, A. M., Boston; Thomas G. Frothingham, Boston; William O. Cornell, Providence, R. I.; Hosea W. Parker, A. M., Claremont, N. H; Walter E. Parker, Lawrence; W. W. Spaulding, A. B., Haverhill; David Cummings, Somerville; Fred S. Pearson, A. M. M., Boston; Sumner Robinson, A.M., LL.B.; William H. Sherman, Charles E. Morrison.

Faculty. — E. H. Capen, D.D., president and professor of Moral Philosophy and Political Economy; John P. Marshall, A.M., professor of Geology and Mineralogy, and dean of the faculty of the College of Letters; Jerome Schneider, Ph. D., professor of the Greek Language and Literature; H. A. Dearborn, A.M., professor of the Latin Language and Literature; B. G. Brown, A.M., Walker professor of Mathematics; Moses T. Brown, A.M., professor of Oratory, Emeritus; W. R. Shipman, D.D., professor of Rhetoric, Logic and Metaphysics; A. E. Dolbear, Ph. D., professor of Physics and Astronomy; Wm. L. Hooper, A.M., professor of Electrical Engineering; D. L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of English Literature and Oratory; C. E. Fay, A.M., Wade professor of Modern Languages; C. D. Bray, C.E., A.M., professor of Civil and Mechanical Engineering; J. S. Kingsley, Sc.D., professor of Biology; Arthur Michael, Ph.D., professor of Chemistry; Frank E. Sanborn, S.B., instructor in Mechanical Engineering; Frank P. Graves, professor of Classical Philology; Frank T. Daniels, A.M.B., instructor in Drawing and Surveying; Edwin A. Start, A.M., instructor in History; Leo R. Lewis, A.M., professor of Music; Frank W. Durkee, A.M., assistant professor in Chemistry; Helen L. Mellen, librarian; Thomas Whittemore, A.B., instructor in English; Charles St. Clair Wade, A.M., instructor in French; Frank S. Wren, A.B., instructor in Mathematics; Geo. A. Arnold, B.Ph., Non-Resident Lecturer; Gilbert Rogers, C.E., on Economics of Street Railways; Charles R. Gray, Superintendent of Buildings and Assistant Librarian.

Finances—The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than $1,600,000.

Scholarships—There are upwards of forty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. The course for those who enter for the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy extends through four years, and the course for those students who enter for the degree of Civil Engineer extends through three years. A part of the studies for the junior and senior class are elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges $100. Board in club, at cost, about $3 per week.

TUFTS DIVINITY SCHOOL.

Faculty—E. H. Capen, D.D., president; T. J. Sawyer, D.D., Packard professor of Christian Theology, Emeritus; C. H. Leonard, D.D., professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology and dean of the Divinity School; W. G. Tousey, A.M., D.B., professor of Psychology and Natural Theology; Rev. G. T. Knight, A.M., D.D., professor of Church History; Rev. G. M. Harmon, A.M., D.B., professor of Biblical Theology; Rev. A. B. Curtis, Ph.D., professor of Hebrew; Rev. Warren A. Woodbridge, A.M., professor of Applied Christianity; D. L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of Oratory; Henry I. Cushman, D.D., C. W. Biddle, D.D., Professor D. G. Lyon, lecturers.

Candidates must bring testimonials as to character, and avow their purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. Bachelors of Arts are admitted without examination. Other candidates are examined in Greek, and in the other branches usually taught in the best high schools and academies. The full collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable men forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the college to an intellectual centre like Boston affords,—libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D. B. is conferred upon A. B's who take the full course of three years, and upon others who make equivalent attainments. To others taking the four years' course a suitable certificate is given.

The necessary expenses will not exceed $200 a year. Tuition, room-rent, use of furniture, free. Students may add to their resources by preaching during the year and a half previous to graduation. The Universalist General Convention aids students by a system of loans.

TUFTS MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Faculty—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., president; Albert Nott, M.D., professor of Physiology and Hygiene, dean; Charles P. Thayer, M.D., professor of General, Descriptive and Surgical Anatomy, Secretary; Henry W. Dudley, M.D., professor of Pathology; William R. Chipman, A.B., M.D., professor of Principles and Practice of Surgery and Operative Surgery; Herbert T. Smith, M.D., professor of Chemical Surgery; Walter L. Hall, M.D., professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine; John W. Johnson, M.D., professor of Obstetrics; Frank G. Wheatley, M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Arthur E. Austin, A.B., M.D., professor of Medical Chemistry; Charles A. Pitkin, Ph.D., professor of General Chemistry; John A. Tenney, M.D., professor of Opthalmology and Otology; Samuel G. Webber, M.D., professor of Nervous Diseases; Thomas M. Durrell, M.D., professor of Medical Jurisprudence; Fred. S. Raddin, A.B., M.D., lecturer on Genito-Urinary Surgery; J. Cushing Gallison, M.D., instructor in Surgery; William A. White, M.D., instructor in Theory and Practice; Richard A. Pierce, demonstrator of Physiology; Edward E. Thorp, M.D., instructor in Medical Chemistry; Charles L. Cutler, M.D., instructor in Gynæcology; Frank P. Brown, M.D., instructor in Pathology. Lecturers: Charles F. Eames, D.M.D., M.D.; J. Sterling Kingsley, S.D.; W. R. Woodbury, M.D.; Harold Williams, M.D., professor of the Diseases of Children; Ernest W. Cushing, M.D., professor of Gynæcology; Walter Channing, M.D., professor of Mental Diseases; W. P. Derby, M.D., assistant in Obstetrics; Rufus E. Durrah, lecturer on Clinical Surgery; George A. Webster, M.D., lecturer on Otology; George Whitehale, M.D., professor of Anatomy; Thomas F. Green, M.D., assistant demonstrator of Anatomy.

Admission. Applicants must be of good moral character, and unless they have previously matriculated in some accredited medical college or are graduates of some reputable college, high, or normal school, or of an institution of a similar grade, must pass an examination upon the branches of an English education, including Mathematics, Composition and Elementary Physics.

Graduation. Candidates must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine three full years, attended three courses of medical lectures, the last at this college, dissected one full course and passed all the required examinations. Graduates of other medical colleges, in good standing, can obtain the degree by attending one full course of lectures, and passing the examinations of the senior year. It is understood that attendance upon a course of lectures requires actual presence at a majority of the exercises of each term.

For information inquire of Charles P. Thayer, M.D., 74 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.

This institution, located at Canton, N. Y., comprises two departments: The College of Letters and Science, and the Canton Theological School. These departments are independent in their faculties, funds and government.

1.—The College of Letters and Science, comprising the usual four years' classical, a four years' scientific, and a four years' philosophical course.

2.—The Theological School, comprising a regular three years' course for diploma and a four years' or a post graduate course for degree.

Albertus A. Smith, Ogdensburg; Rev. Daniel Ballou, Utica; Linus S. Freeman, Middleport; Rev. O. M. Hilton, Auburn; Charles N. Hemiup, A.B., Geneva; George S. Conkey, Canton.

Faculty—Absalom Graves Gaines, D.D., L.L.D., Craig professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and of Political Economy; Charles Kelsey Gaines, M.A., Ph.D., secretary and professor of Greek and instructor in English Literature; Henri Hermann Liotard, M.A., professor of the German and French Languages; Henry Priest, M.A., dean and Hayward professor of Mathematics; George Robert Hardie, M.A., professor of Latin; R. E. Ford, A.B., instructor in Mathematics; Proper instructor in English and History.

Librarian, Professor H. P. Forbes, D.D.; steward, Tracy Southworth.

Number of undergraduate students on the catalogue for 1894–95 one hundred. Young men and women are admitted to the institution on the same terms. The University confers no degrees on a course of study of less than four years. The courses are full, the instruction thorough, and the mental training practical and efficient.

Calendar—Second term begins Feb. 10, 1896. Tree-holiday April 25. Term examinations begin June 17, and end June 23. Commencement, June 25. First examination for admission, June 24 and 26. Second examination for admission, September 23 and 24. First term of college begins Sept. 24, 1895. The number graduated in 1894 was fifteen. College fees, $50 per year. Board with the steward and elsewhere, $3.50 per week. Whole expense not to exceed $200 per year.

2. The Canton Theological School. — Faculty.—I. M. Atwood, D.D., president and professor of Theology and Ethics; J. S. Lee, D.D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology; H. P. Forbes, D.D., professor of Biblical Languages and Literature; Rev. Lewis Beals Fisher, Ryder professor of Preaching and Pastoral Theology. Present number of students, thirty-four.

Courses of lectures on preaching and pastoral work are given each year by eminent clergymen,—Universalist and other.

Applicants for admission must bring testimonials as to their moral and religious character; must be possessed of a good English education, and must avow their fixed intention to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. The full course of study requires three years; college graduates can complete it in two. There is also a course arranged for four years, on the completion of which students will receive the degree of B.D. Students can enter for a shorter term, and will be entitled to a certificate stating their attainments.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856. It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3 a week; in the village, $3.50. Students may obtain loans of the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $150 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar.—First term closes Jan. 23, 1896. Second term opens February 19. Commencement, June 26, 1896. Fall term begins Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1896.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY.

Lombard University is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter February 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 298. As organized at present, the University embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the Department of Music and Art. The University year begins the first Tuesday in September, and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-three subjects, in Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Eighteen credits are required for admission to full standing.

Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitations or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in eighty-one courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty-eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the eighteen credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The Department of Music and Art is under the management of superior teachers. Excellent instruction is given in piano, organ, singing, drawing and painting.

Faculty of Lombard University.— Charles Ellwood Nash, D.D., president; J. V. N. Standish, Ph.D., L.L.D., president Emeritus; Rev. John Clarence Lee, Ph.D., vice-president, professor of English Literature, Rhetoric, Homiletics and Biblica-Interpretation; Isaac A. Parker, Ph.D., professor of Greek; N. White, Ph.D., D.D., in charge of the Ryder Divinity School; Jon Watson Grubb, M.S., professor of Latin; Frederick W. Rich, B.S., professor of Natural Science; Philip G. Wright, A.M., professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Myra Baker, A.M., instructor in French and German; Anna Chappell Gunnell, instructor in Elocution and Physical Culture; Isabelle Blood, instructor in Drawing and Painting; Arthur G. Miller, instructor in Piano and Organ; Helen Carlton Marsh, instructor in Singing; Mary Gaston Crippen, instructor in Guitar and Mandolin; Emily Augusta Hadley, principal in charge of the Ladies' Hall; non-resident lecturers, Augusta J. Chapin, D.D., A. J. Canfield, D.D., M. D. Shutter D.D., Jacob Straub, D.D.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—Hon. Samuel Kerr, Chicago, President; Charles A. Webster, Galesburg, Secretary; Lake W. Sanborn, Treasurer; C. E. Nash, D.D., Galesburg; J. V. N. Standish, Ph.D., LL.D., Galesburg; A. J. Canfield, D.D., Chicago; Albert Webster, Galesburg; Hon. J. B. Harsh, Creston, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove; Almon Kidder, Esq., Monmouth; Hon. A. M. Brown, Galesburg; James H. Swan, Chicago; Charles Styer, Indianapolis, Ind.; Hon. Hamilton S. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; J. N. Conger, Galesburg; George Tapper, Chicago; Hon. Howard Knowles, Galesburg; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis, Minn.; Marion D. Shutter, D.D., Minneapolis, Minn.; H. N. Higinbotham, Chicago; Amos Crum, D.D., Webster City, Iowa; Hon. George W. Wakefield, Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. E. P. Townsend, Sycamore; Lyman McCarl, Esq., Quincy; G. B. Stocking, D.D., Galesburg; Hon. T. J. Hale, Galesburg.

Expenses. The tuition fees are low, ranging from $3.00 to $4.10 for each full course per term. Half courses are at half rates. Board can be secured at $3.00 or $3.50 per week.

The Ryder Divinity School.— The Divinity School of Lombard University was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the University the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the University exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

The primary object of the Divinity School is to furnish education and training to candidates for the Christian ministry. The regular course occupies four years, and the graduates receive the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

The school is also open to persons who do not intend to enter the ministry. The pursuit of studies of a theological or religious character is an interesting and helpful means of personal culture. Such a course is especially recommended to persons who desire to become better fitted for useful service in the Sunday school, the church, the Young People's Christian Union, and similar societies, or for charitable and philanthropic work. Upon those who come with these purposes, no denominational test will be imposed.

Students of all denominations and beliefs will be welcome to the advantages of study and training in the Divinity School, as in other departments of the University.

Tuition is free to all regular members of the Divinity School, and they are also admitted to the advantages presented by the other departments of the University. Board can be secured for from $3.00 to $3.50 per week.

Pecuniary Aid.— Students who are candidates for the ministry of the Universalist Church may, upon complying with all the necessary conditions and receiving the recommendation of the Faculty, obtain assistance from the Universalist General Convention in the form of a loan, to an amount not exceeding $150 per year. Those who have not a definite purpose of entering the Universalist ministry are not eligible to the Convention Loan.

The Calendar of the Divinity School corresponds with that of the other departments of the University. The Winter term begins Jan. 2, 1896; the Spring term, March 31, 1896; Commencement is held June 4, 1896; the Fall term will begin on the first Tuesday in September.

Faculty of the Ryder Divinity School.— Charles Ellwood Nash, D.D., president; Nehemiah White, Ph.D., D.D., in charge of the Divinity School, professor of Biblical Languages and Exegesis; Isaac Augustus Parker, Ph.D., professor of Greek; Rev. John Clarence Lee, Ph.D., professor of Homiletics and Biblical Interpretation; Anna Chappell Gunnell, instructor in Elocution; Marion D. Shutter, D.D., non-resident lecturer on Biblical Literature; A. J. Canfield, D.D., non resident lecturer on Preaching; Jacob Straub, D.D., non-resident lecturer on Pastoral Theology.

BUCHTEL COLLEGE.

This institution is situated in the city of Akron, Summit County, Ohio. It was founded by the Universalist State Convention of Ohio, and was named in honor of John R. Buchtel, its most liberal benefactor. It was opened to students of both sexes September 11, 1872.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES —President, George W. Crouse, Akron; Secretary, Charles R. Olin, Akron; Treasurer, Albert B. Tinker, Akron; Col. George T. Perkins, Akron; Frank Pierce, Sharpsville, Pa ; Judge Newell D. Tibbals, Akron; Rev. Andrew Willson, Ravenna; Rev. Henrietta G. Moore, Springfield; Dayton A. Doyle, Akron; Judge Alvin C. Voris, Akron; John F. Eddy, Bay City, Mich.; William H. Slade, Columbus; Arthur A. Stearns, Cleveland; Mrs. Abby S. Schumacher, Akron; Hon. George L. Case, Cleveland; A. L. Conger, Akron.

There are three four years' courses of study — the classical, the philosophical and the scientific. There is also a preparatory course for each of these courses.

Faculty.— O. Cone, D.D., president, Messenger professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy; Charles M. Knight, A.M., Buchtel professor of Physics and Chemistry; Karl F. Kolbe, A.M., Hilton professor of Modern Languages; professor of the Greek Language and Literature and Philological Science; Charles C. Bates, A.B., professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature; Edward W. Claypole, B.A., D.Sc. (London), F G , S.S., L.E. and A., professor of Natural Science; Hermas V. Egbert, A.B., Ainsworth professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Ellen E. Garrigues, A.M., Pierce professor of English Literature, Logic and English History; Jennie Gifford, A.M., principal of Preparatory Department and teacher of Science and School Management; Maria Parsons, A.M., teacher of English and Rhetorical Work; Mary E. Stockman, teacher of English and Latin; S. E. Findley, A.B., teacher of Latin and Greek; Miss M. C. Lylla, teacher of Piano and Theory; Catharine Parsons, teacher of Vocal Music; Gustave Sigel, teacher of Violin, Cello and Zither; Minnie C. Fuller, teacher of Painting and Drawing.

Expenses.— The necessary yearly expenses of students range from $150 to $200. Board in clubs, at cost, $2.50 a week.

There are fifty perpetual scholarships, each of $60. The scholarship endowments are each of $1,000. Number of students, 250.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE AND MILITARY ACADEMY.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding students. The Institute spares its lady pupils the necessity of climbing stairs; a hydraulic elevator for their exclusive use was provided in 1888, at an expense of nearly $2,500.

Competent judges have pronounced the buildings the finest of their kind in the state. Recent improvements include the Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the new water works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured.

The Cadet's Gymnasium, erected ten years ago, is a two story brick structure 76x40 feet, with four bowling alleys and the usual gymnasium apparatus.

The Girls' Gymnasium is a room 56 feet long, opening from the chapel. Here, under a very efficient instructor, the girls are taught the most important parts of the Swedish system of gymnastics.

The Institute aims to furnish advantages of the very highest order at the least cost to students. All the departments of academic training are in charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the Department of Modern Languages, students may acquire a speaking mastery of German and French. Piano Music is in charge of Prof. Bodell, a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Stockholm. The second piano assistant is Miss Luella Dievendorf, one of Prof. Bodell's graduates, and a teacher of experience. Miss Ida Canfield is at the head of the Vocal School. She is a teacher of high standing. The course in Elocution is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this branch. The Art department is admirably equipped with casts, copies, etc.; wood carving has just been introduced and forms a very modern and interesting feature.

The course in the Porter School of Business Training is one of the best of the kind offered anywhere. Common English receives particular attention, and is well articulated with the excellent course in the higher English branches. Students are prepared for any college. Excellent courses in Literature, Science and History.

Besides a preparatory year in common English, the school provides eight regular courses, viz.: The College Preparatory, four years; the Scientific, four years; the Literary and Musical, three years; the Business, one year; Piano, three years; Vocal, three years; Art, three years; Elocution, two years. These will be found outlined in the school catalogue.

The Boys' Department is on a military basis. The commandant of cadets is an officer of the U. S. army. Rifles, cannon, and ammunition are supplied by the War Department. The armory, with clear floor space 150x80 feet, is one of the largest school armories in the United States.

Expense for board, tuition, church sitting, furnished room and washing, from $275 to $300. Reduced rates to children of clergymen.

The school is situated in one of the most delightful and healthful portions of the Mohawk Valley, about midway between Albany and Utica, on the New York Central and West Shore Railroads. Twelve passenger trains from the East, and twelve from the West stop at Fort Plain daily.

Students under thirteen years of age are not admitted.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—William J. Tingue, Port Chester; Alexander Martin, North Bloomfield; Abram Dievendorf, Fort Plain; Rev. Daniel Ballou, Utica; Charles Benedict, Little Falls; Henry C. Lyman, M.D., Sherburne; John Finehout, Canajoharie; Edwin W. Wood, Fort Plain; Reuben Elwood, Fort Plain; Lester M. Weller, Fort Plain; Asa Saxe, D.D., Rochester; W. Irving Scott, Bridgewater.

Faculty.—Col. Charles E. Burbank, President; Jane S. Higham, Lady Principal. Sixteen competent instructors are employed in the different departments appertaining to a first-class academic institution.

The value of the buildings and grounds is at least $125,000. The other property consists of the general endowment of $25,000, and the John Westover Scholarship Fund of $10,000. The income of the Scholarship Fund is used (1) for the benefit of students fitting for the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., and pursuing college preparatory studies; and (2) for the benefit of students of limited means who are not preparing for the ministry, but whose parents are Universalists.

Catalogues with full information can be had on application to the President, Fort Plain, N. Y.

DEAN ACADEMY.

This is a first-class Boarding and Day School for both sexes. It is situated in Franklin, Norfolk County, Mass., twenty-seven miles from Boston, on the line of the New York and New England Railroad, and directly in communication with all parts of the country.

The Academy, which was incorporated in 1865, and which derives its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, owns a magnificent school edifice, with various outbuildings, valued at $240,000. The building is lighted with gas and heated by steam. It has every modern improvement and convenience for the comfort of the pupils. It has also an endowment fund which lessens the cost of instruction.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—Vice-President, Albert Dickerman, A.M., Boston; Treasurer, Charles J. McKenzie, Franklin; Secretary, H. I. Cushman, D.D., Providence, R. I.; Augustus Harrington, Peabody; A. J. Patterson, D.D., Roxbury; Hon. Joseph G. Ray, Franklin; Hon. Josiah G. Peabody, Lowell; E. H. Capen, D.D., President Tufts College; A. G. Rogers, D.D., Washington, D. C.; Charles Whittier, Roxbury; David Cummings, Boston; Rev. George Hill, Norwood; Benjamin B. Whittemore, Boston; Almon Gunnison, D.D., Worcester; Rev. William M. Thayer, Franklin; Chester B. Woodbridge, North Cambridge.

Board of Instruction.—Lester L. Burrington, A.M., Principal, Chase Professor of Latin and Greek; Howard R. Burrington, A.M., Associate Principal, Goddard Professor of Mathematics and Latin; Charles S. Flanders, A.M., Professor of Science; Ethel A. Horrick, Teacher of Elocution; Miss Sarah A. Hamlin, Preceptress, Teacher of Literature and History; Cora F. Adams, Teacher of German and English; Ida J. Phelps, A.B., Teacher of French; Maie E. Wilcox, Assistant Teacher in Literature and History; Charles P. Scott, Professor of Instrumental Music; Mrs. Minnie Little, Teacher of Vocal Music; Adra R. Mason, Teacher of Drawing and Painting; Otis A. Skeele, Director of Gymnasium.

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years. A preparatory course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the regular courses. Special attention is given to fitting students for college.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of ornamental branches and washing, per year, $225, divided as follows: First term, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Ornamental branches, Drawing, Painting and Music, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The seminary is situated at Barre, Vt, six miles from Montpelier, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best eudcation a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted and the method of daily lessons results in assured progress. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. Her work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of nineteen hundred volumes.

A new gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The new Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility for twenty-eight students, being near Barre, to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $27,000, and will be materially increased by the bequests of the late Mrs. Almira Smith of Barre, and other gifts subject to life interest.

Expenses.—Board, $3.50 per week, including room-rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Ten free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to about $175.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—W. R. Shipman, D.D., Tufts College, Mass; Rev. S. A. Parker, Bethel; L. F. Aldrich, Barre; Charles Templeton, Barre; Hon. R. S. Taft, Burlington; Hon. A. T. Clark, Shorthand; Mrs. L. B. Harkness, matron.

Catalogues, and other information, may be had by addressing the Principal at Barre.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in Deering, Me., two and one-half miles from Portland.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining-hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and a Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in Goddard Hall, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard. Five thousand dollars have been expended, and the hall is supplied with all modern improvements. It is also newly furnished with ash and oak sets. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The institution offers six courses of study: A common English and Business course for three years, the English, the college preparatory, the scientific and the ladies' classical course, each of four years, and a post graduate course of one year. Diplomas are given to those completing any of the higher courses, and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches and modern languages, for the full school year, vary from $155 to $170.

NECROLOGY.

The deaths of the following named preachers, thirteen in all, have occurred since Nov. 1st, 1894:

ALANSON KELSEY, born in Smyrna, Chenango Co., N. Y., May 17, 1810, died at Griffin, Ga., Nov. 15, 1894. He began preaching in 1836, and was ordained at Pavilion, N. Y., in 1845. His ministry, as a pastor, was wholly in his native state, at Stafford, Pavilion, Portageville, Nunda, Middleport, Newark, Albion, Rochester, and closed at Newark in 1857, although for several years thereafter he supplied at Clarendon, Fairhaven, Barre Centre, Ridgeway, Middleport and Albion. He resided several years at Washington, D. C., and subsequently at Savannah and Griffin, Georgia, being compelled by asthma, from which he was a great sufferer, to seek a warm climate. He was a sweet spirited man, living above reproach and made "a ministerial record, humble but honorable."

MOSBY LEE HEWITT, born at Baltimore, Md., December 31, 1848, died at Linesville, Pa., January 12, 1895. He was reared in the Episcopal faith, but at the age of twenty-two, having just been admitted to the bar, in Washington, D. C., he began to attend the Universalist Church in Baltimore, "and finding in the Universalist faith his highest ideal, like a true apostle he left all and followed it." Licensed to preach in 1875 and ordained in 1876, he began his ministry in western New York, preaching about two years at Boston and Le Roy. His subsequent pastorates were at Bradford and Nicholson, Pa.; McConnelsville, Ohio; Victor, N. Y.; Belpre, Ohio; Honeoye Falls and North Bloomfield, N. Y.; and Linesville, Pa. A diseased condition of the throat and lungs which no medical treatment could cure, was the cause of his death. "He showed a characteristic courage in his struggle with disease, and conscious to within a few moments of the end, bore all with wonderful patience and firmness." He is described by one who knew him well "as an able preacher, a lecturer of unusual powers to interest and always a favorite with the young people."

SIMEON HOVEY, born at Lima, N. Y., Sept. 12, 1814, died at Collinwood, Ohio, January 17, 1895. He was licensed to preach in 1843 and ordained in 1844, his residence then being at Fredericktown, Ohio. Subsequent residences were at Le Roy, Painesville, Perry, Rutland, Middleport, Mentor, Pennsylvania; Akron and Collinwood, Ohio; and for a brief time at St. Clair City, Mich. "He never filled any prominent position in the church, but loved the gospel and embraced every opportunity that came to him to preach. He will be remembered as a faithful and devout man, whose life was a living gospel, and he will be missed by large numbers who were accustomed to see him at occasional meetings."

ALMON GAGE, born July 14, 1817, died at Rochester, N. Y., February 18, 1895. A student in theology with Rev. Dr. George W. Montgomery, Mr. Gage began to preach in 1848. He had pastorates at Richmond, Va.; Louisville, Ky.; and in Lewiston, Maine. For ten years in his early ministry he travelled and itinerated in the South. "Many years ago he practically retired from the ministry, though he kept his interest in pulpit work and religious themes. With an independent fortune, he was a life long student. He graduated as a lawyer and for a time was the attorney-general of Arizona; he took a medical course, but with no thought of adopting the profession; studied finance and was the first greenback candidate for the governorship of Maine. He investigated nearly every system of religion and every theory of government and was omnivorous in his reading. Few men were more widely read and few excelled him in debate or conversation. His memory was tenacious and he was as fascinating as he was stimulating and instructive in conversation. He was without ambition, and refused many places of honor and profit which were tendered him. Until the last he was a brilliant and effective speaker, but shrank from publicity. His loyalty to friends was marked and his charties were as constant as they were unostentatious. He was a man of high character, despising shame and pretence."

LA FAYETTE PORTER, born in Orleans County, N. Y., January 27, 1827, died at Clarinda, Iowa, March 13, 1895. At a very early age he was identified with the Methodists, but before reaching his majority he became a Universalist. Teaching school in Albion, N. Y., he pursued theological studies under the direction of Rev. Dr. Montgomery of Rochester, and was ordained at Coudersport, Pa., where he had organized a parish, in 1856. He afterwards had settlements at Webster, N. Y.; Brooklyn, Pa.; Afton, N. Y.; Scranton and Conneautville, Pa.; Morris and Oneonta, N. Y.; Susquehanna, Pa.; Waterloo, Iowa; Anoka, Minn; Bloomfield, Clarinda, and Villisca, Iowa. "During his long ministry of over forty years he was largely engaged in missionary work outside of his regular parish ministrations. He organized a great many parishes and churches, and personally superintended and built three churches and was the chief instrumentality through which two other churches were built. He also rebuilt three other churches." He was widely known and greatly beloved as a preacher and a man. Death had no terrors to him, his last words being "I am ready to go, the sooner the better, for my faith is paramount to all others, because it contains all that their's does and a great deal more."

TIMOTHY HANNIBAL TABOR, born in Rutland County, Vt., August 21, 1824, died in Chicago, Ill., April 11, 1895. "His religious training in youth was of the old school Presbyterian order as his parents were both members of that denomination. He soon outgrew Presbyterian tendencies and in early manhood was born into Universalism, in which faith he lived and labored and died." He was ordained in 1852, and had his first pastorate at South Danville, N. Y. He afterwards had settlements in McHenry and Woodstock Ill.; Briggsville and Markesan, Wis.; Blue Island, Macomb, Kirkwood, Yates City, Bradford, La Fayette, Ill.; Bloomfield, Iowa; New Salem, Ill. He became proprietor, publisher and editor of Manford's Magazine in 1886, and removed to Chicago, where he resided until his death, which resulted from paralysis. His two sons, James B. and Manley W. also became Universalist preachers. The former succeeds his father in editing and publishing the magazine, and the latter resides in central New York. "Mr. Tabor was a man of faith and strong convictions and of constant industry as a pastor and preacher. His work is attested by the success which has followed his labors as a church organizer and builder. His Universalism was rock bottomed; he could never be moved from the fundamental principles of that faith as outlined in Christianity. . . .Universalism in Illinois owes much to the faithful man whose earthly career is now terminated. In this state and in Iowa and Wisconsin there are substantial parishes founded by him and blessed by his faithful and self-sacrificing labors."

CLARK RICE MOOR, born at Rutland, Vt., May 15, 1825, died at Cambridge, Mass., April 27, 1895. He studied theology with Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer, at Clinton, N. Y.; and was ordained in 1848. His pastoral settlements were at Brattleboro, Vt.; Watertown, Mass.; Portland and Augusta, Me. Since 1875 he had been without pastoral charge and had resided in Cambridge where he had been a helpful parishioner. His death was sudden and wholly unexpected, but his life was a grand preparation for any change. A man of high character and of unsullied reputation, endowed in an unusual degree with mental and moral power, he was a sermonizer of more than ordinary ability and a forcible preacher. The pages of the Universalist Quarterly were frequently enriched by his thoughtful and well finished papers, and he often wrote for our weekly journals. He was active and influential in organizing and for a while in the management of the Universalist Publishing House, was also a trustee of Tufts College, and in many ways gave himself to whatever enterprise or work promised intellectual and moral elevation and the enrichment of our literature. A good man and a true friend passed from the earth when death touched him.

ANDREW OLIVER WARREN, born in Jaffrey, N. H., June 5, 1817, died at Montrose, Pa., April 28, 1895. He fitted for the ministry under the direction of Rev. Messrs. J. V. Wilson and Charles Woodhouse, and was licensed to preach in 1840, and ordained at McDonough, N. Y., in January, 1842. His pastorates in New York were at McDonough, Upper Lisle and Smithville Flats. In 1849 he moved to Montrose, Pa., where he was pastor nine years, and where he made his home during the remainder of his life. He was also pastor at Brooklyn, Pa., several years. For nearly half a century he was identified with Universalism in northeastern Pennsylvania and his services were much sought on funeral and marriage occasions. He was an eminently good man and an effective preacher.

SALMON WARD SQUIRE, born in Canton, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y. April 1, 1819, died in Franklin, Mass., April 26, 1895. While studying for the Methodist ministry he had the opportunity of hearing Universalism preached and became a convert thereto. He was ordained in 1843, and did his first preaching and parish work at Massena and Nicholville, N. Y. Afterwards he was at Glover and Bethel, Vt.; Jeffrey and Wentworth, N. H.; Stoneham, Lynn and Franklin, Mass. In 1867 he withdrew from pastoral work and turned his whole attention to his farm. When the rebellion broke out he enlisted but was rejected on examination, but he did good service for the Union in conducting war meetings and raising volunteers. He was greatly interested in general education and while in New Hampshire was, for a number of years, a Commissioner of Schools and for more than twenty years was a member of the School Committee in Franklin. He had a good presence, was a forceful speaker and impressed all who listened to him as being sincere in his convictions. He had hosts of friends and a deservedly excellent reputation.

ALMOND WOOD MASON, born at Cheshire, Mass., April 5, 1807, died at Minneapolis, Minn., May 1, 1895. Born into a close communion Baptist family he made public profession of that faith and at the age of sixteen was immersed by the celebrated Rev. John Leland. He occasionally heard Universalism preached and although it was approved by his reason, he dared not believe it nor listen to it without prejudice. While engaged in superintending a mill in Lowell, he directed a choir in the Universalist Church and listening to the preaching of the late Rev. Dr. T. B. Thayer, came into the full light and joy of the truth, and began to seriously contemplate entering the Universalist ministry; eight years later, in 1841, he was ordained at Marblehead, Mass. His first preaching was in Cummington, Adams, North Adams and Cheshire, Mass. In 1852 he located on a farm in Pulaski, near Concord, Mich., where he had a pastorate and afterwards at Hanover, Jackson, Pulaski, Baldwins, Manchester, Mattawan, Jonesville and Grand Rapids, in the same state. His last pastorate was at Waukesha, Wis., which he closed in 1877, since which time he made his home with his children. He was a genial, happy man, passionately fond of music, the principles of which he taught to thousands. "He was always a Bible preacher, holding the gospel as the foundation of all exalted life and character."

EDWARD PAYSON BALDWIN, born in Ridgefield, Ill., Oct. 26, 1856, died in Minneapolis, Minn., May 25, 1895. He was the son of a Presbyterian clergyman and was always serious and devout. Graduating from the University of Minnesota in 1883, he entered the McCormick Theological School, Chicago, in preparation for the ministry in the Presbyterian Church, but doubts in regard to the truth of its tenets caused him to withdraw and to enter upon teaching in the public schools of Minnesota. He was licensed as a Universalist preacher in 1889, and ordained at Albert Lea, Minn., Jan. 9, 1890. His settlements were at Albert Lea, and at Oshkosh, Wis., and for a year at Minneapolis, Minn. He was proprietor and editor of the "Western Leader," which he made the organ of the Prohibition party in Minnesota. Having disposed of this paper he had made arrangements to follow a literary career, when he was suddenly struck down while on his bicycle, by an electric car, receiving injuries from which he died on the following day. "He was a man of pronounced versatility and superior attainments. As a preacher his sermons were always logical, earnest and convincing. . . . His severe Calvinistic training was apparent in many of his thoughts about the world of humanity, but to do the world good, to lead it up to higher levels, was the aim of his whole life of thirty-eight years."

ALONZO AMES MINER, D.D., LL.D., born in Lempster, N. H., August 17, 1814, died in Boston, Mass., June 14, 1895. "Dr. Miner seemed 'to have been born religious and a Universalist.. This doctrine early commanded his deliberate approval and whole hearted allegiance. In those days this was not only unpopular as a heresy, but was generally deemed morally reprehensible as militating against moral principle. But young Miner's character very early proved its own vindication, inspired respect and confidence, and secured for him positions of responsibility and trust.' Before reaching his majority he was a highly approved and successful instructor. But the force of his religious convictions impelled him to enter into the Universalist ministry, and he was ordained in 1839. His initial pastorate was at Methuen, Mass. Thence he was called in 1842, to the Second Universalist Church in Lowell, Mass. Here, in a pastorate of six years, he achieved great success, and began a career of public influence enduring to the end of his life. In Lowell, "trusts and various official positions were rapidly laid upon him. Though never robust he showed an extraordinary power of work, combined with a public spirit, a patience and kindliness of temper, a balance of judgment and a hopeful progressiveness of practical thought, which make him a tower of strength.' In 1848, the Rev. Hosea Ballou welcomed Mr. Miner as Associate Pastor of the Second Universalist Church of Boston; and after the decease of the former in 1852, he became sole pastor. Dr. Miner's relations with that church continued until the close of his life, making a record of 47 years as associate pastor, pastor and senior pastor, and of 56 years in the ministry of the Universalist Church. In the founding of Tufts College, Dr. Miner did important service; and after the decease of Dr. Hosea Ballou 2d, the first president, in 1861, Dr. Miner was urged to accept the presidency. He was inducted into this office in 1863, a junior sharing in the labors of the pastorate. During Dr. Miner's presidency the funds of the college were largely increased and the foundations of its later prosperity laid. He continued in the office nine years, when his parish insisted upon his exclusive attention to its interests. He was, however, during the whole life of the college, until his decease, a member of its Board of Trustees, actively engaged in the oversight of its affairs. He was especially interested in the Divinity School connected with the college, and presented for its use a fine building, Miner Hall, a monument of his practical interest and beneficence upon College Hill. His perpetual interest in education was also shown in his membership of the State Board of Education of Massachusetts, of which he was one of the most active and aggressive members. In all philanthropic movements he was foremost. Whether regarding slavery, in its day; the maintenance of the Union intact; the abolition of capital punishment; the cause of national arbitration; the promotion of total abstinence from intoxicants, and the suppression of drinking shops: in whatever form his love for God and man could manifest itself; his voice and counsel were as ready as welcome. 'Yet Dr. Miner never sank the church in these various and scattered labors. This he always regarded as the bulwark of moral and religious truth and life, and the most firm ground on which to build our hope of future progress.' "

ROBERT CHADWICK BROWN, who was a native of Noank, Conn., where he lived and died, came of sea-faring stock, and at an early age began a sea-faring life as cabin boy, and through the natural order of promotion passed the intervening positions of seamanship to that of master of a vessel. At about the age of 35 years he retired from this calling, and soon after became a preacher of the Great Salvation. He was settled by the influence of the late state missionary, Abraham Norwood, over a missionary station at Winchester and Goshen in his native state, where he remained about two years. It is believed by his friends that the customs and habits and modes of living of an inland, farming community were distasteful to one whose life had been upon the sea, and always near its associations; so he returned to his home and acres which he inherited, and foregoing business, devoted his life to an unpretentious and quiet ministry among the sea-faring community of his native town. He carried the light of a sunny spirit and the cheer of a brotherly faith into their homes, and was a welcome guest always. Occasionally he was called to a funeral service and sometimes to a church supply. He was an enthusiastic singer of home songs and devotional hymns, and made his visits pleasurable from his almost inexhaustible repertory. He was wonderfully familiar with the Bible and the standard poets, and read with ease several languages. All in all, he was a useful worker in many fields where his religious convictions were made acceptable by his life and love. He was killed by the cars on the 12th of July, 1895, endeavoring to avoid a freight train on one track he was struck by an express on another and instantly killed. He was 72 years old and never married. A. T.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1897.

Again we have to confess that we have not yet reached such accuracy in statistics as we desire and as we believe to be in the range of possibilities. One-half of our preachers and pastors have responded promptly and so have fully done their part in making the perfect statement at which we aim. The half who have not responded are responsible for the defects. Have they no desire that our Year Book,—now venerable with age,—shall represent the various interests in our parishes? This would not be a just affirmation, we are sure; but there is a tremendous feeling of irresponsibleness on the part of these delinquents. That it also plagues other denominations, does not help us, but shows how wide-spread this feeling is. It is hoped that certain contemplated improvements in and enlargement of our tabular pages another year, will in some degree remedy our imperfections; but, after all, the ministers must each and all do their duty before we fully succeed. Thanks to those who have done all that they could, and deep regrets for those who have crippled our work. May we all do better in the future.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER

FOR 1897.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organization of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian Provinces, meets biennially. The next session — 1897 — will be held in Chicago, Ill., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, A. J. Canfield, D.D. The convention is composed of the Presidents (or in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates, and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention, and if there be but one parish so situated, it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention as reported at the Conferences, October, 1896, aggregate $271,014, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $130,294.53. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. The Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the repayment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $53,275.70, and the income is appropriated to loans to new students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884, on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $11,792.80.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which had an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $13,047,49.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention, in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the Fund amounts to $9,260.

VI. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VII. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund. $14,000.

VIII. William H. Ryder Fund. $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

IX. The "T." Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $9,875 to the Convention as the beginning of a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of the remainder to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder.

X. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

XI. Guaranty Fund. $291.53.

XII. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,376.85.

The appropriations for the Convention year 1896-'97 are whatever income from any source may be deemed best by the Trustees.

The Board of Trustees have been authorized and directed "to provide for two or more Universalist Church Conferences, to be held at central locations, in the years intervening between the regular sessions of the Convention, not for ecclesiastical, legislative or financial work, but for the purpose of considering important questions relating to religion, morals and education."

There were five conferences held Oct. 22-24, 1896. The New England District at Portland, Me; Central District, Syracuse, N.Y.: Western District, Oak Park, Ill; Southern District, Atlanta, Ga.; Pacific Coast District, Oakland, Cal.

President—Charles L. Hutchinson, Chicago, Ill.

Vice-President—G. L. Perin, D.D., Boston, Mass.

Secretary—G. L. Demarest, D.D., Manchester, N. H.

Trustees—J. D. W. Joy, Boston, Mass., Chairman; Hon. Sidney Perham, Paris, Me.; H. W. Rugg, D.D., Providence, R. I.; H. A. Manning, Chicago, Ill.; E. C. Sweetser, D.D., Philadelphia, Pa.; C. Elwood Nash, D.D., Galesburg, Ill.; J. Coleman Adams, D.D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Harry M. Fowler, Cleveland, Ohio; Stevenson Taylor, New York, N. Y.; A. Gunnison, D.D., Worcester, Mass.; G. L. Demarest, D.D., Manchester, N. H., Secretary.

Financial Secretary,—Henry W. Rugg, D.D., Providence, R. I.

Sunday School Library Commission—Rev. J. N. Emery, Middleton, N. Y.; E. F. Endicott, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass.; Miss Mary Snow, Orleans, Mass.; Mrs. Almon Gunnison, Worcester, Mass.; Miss Eva S. Morse, Boston, Mass.

THE WOMAN'S CENTENARY ASSOCIATION. — [The Woman's National Missionary Society of the Universalist Church.] This Association was organized in 1869, and meets annually on the Wednesday preceding the third Sunday in May, at such hours as shall be appointed by the Executive Board. Its officers are a President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, and three Elective Members; with a President for each State, District of Columbia, or other Territory within the jurisdiction of the Association. The first five officers, together with the Chairman of the Publishing Committee, and the Elective Members — one of the latter representing the Eastern States, and one the Middle and Southern States, and one the Western States, constitute the Executive Board of Managers of the Association.

The present officers are: —

President—Mrs. C. A. Quinby, Boston, Mass.

Vice-President—Mrs. M. A. Adams, Melrose Highlands, Mass.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Ella E. Manning, Chicago, Ill.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. E. L. Sherwood, P. O. Box, 93, Anacosta, D. C.

Elective Members—Mrs. E. Swan, Chicago, Ill.; Miss M. A. Bortle, Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Ara Cushman, Auburn, Me.

Chairman of Publishing Committee—Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, 680 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y.

State Vice-Presidents are abolished, except in unorganized States. Each State, where the work is organized, elects its own officers, and is auxiliary to the national organization.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S CHRISTIAN UNION OF THE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH was organized at Lynn, Mass., in October, 1889. Its purpose is to unite the local Unions in religious, philanthropic, missionary and reform work.

Executive Board: President, Rev. Elmer J. Felt, Tacoma, Wash.; Secretary, Harry L. Canfield, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass.; Treasurer, Harry M. Fowler, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Mary Andrews, Hamilton; Miss Jennie L. Ellis, Pawtucket, R. I.; Rufus F. Leach, Somerville, Mass.; Edward G. Mason, Hightstown, N. J.

A Post Office Mission is maintained under the auspices of the Union. Its purpose is the distribution of Universalist literature. Information regarding this department, will be furnished by Harry L. Canfield, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass., and applications for literature and gifts for this mission should be made to him.

The Department of Church Extension is well organized, and funds for it are solicited by the Two-Cents-a-Week for Missions plan.

The Junior Department, which is designed to train the children between the ages of 5 and 14, in the religion and work of the church, is under the superintendency of Mrs. Mary Grace Canfield, 30 West Street, Boston, Mass.

The Department of Christian Citizenship is well organized with Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker, Bakersfield Street, Dorchester, Mass., as superintendent.

THE UNIVERSALIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY. This Society was organized in 1834, for the collection of facts, books and papers pertaining to the history and condition of Universalism. The Society is incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts. It has a library of about four thousand volumes, besides important manuscripts and papers. This library has been of great help in tracing the history and fortunes of our distinguishing faith in other countries and times. Donations of books and money are earnestly solicited, that the library may be rendered as complete as possible, and its usefulness augmented. President—Richard Eddy, D.D., Providence, R. I.; Vice-President—Hon. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. I.; Secretary and Librarian—T. J. Sawyer, D.D., Tufts College, Mass.; Treasurer—G. L. Demarest, D.D., Manchester, N. H.; Trustee—Hon. Newton Talbot, Boston, Mass.

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday Schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un. denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, and from official reports of State Convention Secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources the figures of last year are used.

ALABAMA.

structor in English; Charles St. Clair Wade, A.M., assistant professor of Greek; Frank S. Wren, A.B., instructor in Mathematics; Gilbert Rogers, C. E., on Economics of Street Railways; Charles R. Gray, Superintendent of Buildings; Miss Ethel Hays, Assistant Librarian.

Finances. — The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than, $1,600,000.

Scholarships. — There are upwards of forty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. The course of those who enter for the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy extends through four years, and the course for those students who enter for the degree of Civil Engineer extends through three years. A part of the studies for the junior and senior class are elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston, on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges $100. Board in club, at cost, about $3 per week.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the departments of Tufts College, the general advantages of which are enjoyed by all its members in common. The College Library, the Museum of Natural History, the Gymnasium, are open to all. Courses of study and lectures in the College of Letters are open to the Divinity students, subject, however, to the discretion of the Faculty. The graduates of the Divinity School in common with the graduates of the other departments are enrolled in the Quinquennial Catalogue of the college, and are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association of Tufts College.

Faculty. — Elmer H. Capen, D.D., president, in charge of Political Economy; Charles H. Leonard, D.D., Dean, Goddard professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; Thomas J. Sawyer, D.D., Packard professor of Christian Theology, Emeritus; William G. Tousey, A.M., B.D., professor of Ethics and Philosophy of Theism; George T. Knight, D.D., secretary, professor of Church History, also in charge of Systematic Theology; George M. Harmon, A.M., B.D., professor of Biblical Theology; David L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of Oratory; Warren S. Woodbridge, A.M., B.D., Woodbridge professor of Applied Christianity. Non-resident lecturers, Henry I. Cushman, D.D., lecturer on Methods of Biblical Study;

Joseph K. Mason, D.D., lecturer on Preachers and Preaching; F. W. Hamilton, A.M., lecturer on Christian Economics; Charles R. Tenney, B.D., lecturer on Character and the Ministry.

Requirements for Admission. — Candidates unknown to the Faculty must bring satisfactory testimonials of good character. They must believe in the Christian religion, and have a sincere purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. It is expected that they will present themselves on the day preceding the first day of the academic year.

Bachelors of Arts are admitted to a three-years course, without examination, to be candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Candidates for this degree who are not Bachelors of Arts are required to take a four-years course, and to well sustain an examination on average passages from the Latin of Cæsar, Cicero, and Virgil; and on average passages from the Greek of Xenophon, Homer, and the Gospels. Ability to read simple prose in French or German, and to write in French or German a paragraph upon an assigned subject, is accepted as an alternative for the requirement in Latin.

They are also required to pass a satisfactory examination in Greek, Roman, English, and American History; in Rhetoric; in English Literature and in English Grammar and Composition, in which the requirement is as follows:—

English Grammar and Composition.—Spelling, punctuation, structure of sentences, correct use of words, clearness of expression.

The examination will consist (1) in criticising specimens of incorrect English; (2) in writing a short composition on a subject assigned. Subjects for composition will be drawn from the following standard works in English literature. All the books named for the given year are to be read, and, from two or three of them, subjects will be assigned at the time of examination.

For 1897. — Shakespeare's As You Like It, and Merchant of Venice; Defoe's History of the Plague in London; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Scott's Marmion; Macaulay's Life of Samuel Johnson; Irving's Tales of a Traveller; Hawthorne's Twice Told Tales; Longfellow's Evangeline; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

Those whose age or circumstances forbid so extensive preparation are admitted to the privileges of the school, to take such studies in the regular classes as are suited to their attainments and needs. It is recognized that earnest and capable men aspire to the Christian Ministry, who are not able to make the formal preparation required of those who enter to be candidates for the degree.

Applicants from other theological institutions whose course of study is the equivalent of that pursued in this institution, will be received ad eundem.

Expenses and Pecuniary Aid. — No charge is made for tuition, rent of rooms and use of furniture in Paige Hall, or for use of libraries. The necessary expenses for board, washing, steam heat, gas, care of room, and gymnasium charges do not exceed two hundred and twenty-five dollars a year. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars a year to any one student; and the Faculty of the Divinity School is authorized to assign Dockstader scholarships to those whose circumstances require it. Those students, also, who are in the regular course are permitted to preach, under the direction of the Faculty, during the year and a half preceding their graduation. In this way they may add to their pecuniary resources.

TUFTS MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Faculty. — Elmer H. Capen, D.D., president; John L. Hildreth, A.B., M.D., professor of Clinical Medicine, dean; Charles P. Thayer, M.D., professor of General, Descriptive and Surgical Anatomy, Secretary; Henry W. Dudley, M.D., professor of Pathology; Herbert T. Smith, M.D., professor of Clinical Surgery; Walter L. Hall, M.D., professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine; Frank G. Wheatley, M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Arthur E. Austin, A.B., M.D., professor of Medical Chemistry; Charles A. Pitkin, Ph.D., professor of General Chemistry; John A. Tenney, M.D., professor of Ophthalmogy and Otology; Samuel G. Webber, M.D., professor of Nervous Diseases; Thomas M. Durrell, M.D., professor of Medical Jurisprudence; Fred. S. Raddin, A.B., M.D., lecturer on Genito-Urinary Surgery; J. Cushing Gallison, M.D., instructor in Surgery; William A. White, M. D., instructor in Theory and Practice; Richard A. Pierce, demonstrator of Physiology; Edward E. Thorp, M.D., instructor in Medical Chemistry; Charles L. Cutler, M.D., instructor in Gynæcology; Frank P. Brown, M.D., instructor in Bacteriology. Lecturers: Charles F. Eames, D.M.D., M.D.; J. Sterling Kingsley, S.D.; W. R. Woodbury, M.D.; Harold Williams, M.D., professor of the Diseases of Children; Ernest W. Cushing, M.D., professor of Gynæcology; Walter Channing, M.D., professor of Mental Diseases; W. P. Derby, M.D., assistant in Obstetrics; Rufus E. Durrah, lecturer in Clinical Surgery; George A. Webster, M.D., lecturer on Otology; George Whitehale, M.D., professor of Anatomy; Thomas F. Green, M.D., assistant demonstrator of Anatomy.

Admission. Applicants must be of good moral character, and unless they have previously matriculated in some accredited medical college or are graduates of some reputable college, high, or normal school, or of an institution of a similar grade, must pass an examination upon the branches of an English education, including Mathematics, Composition and Elementary Physics.

Graduation. Candidates must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine three full years, attended three courses of medical lectures, the last at this college, dissected one full course and passed all the required examinations. Graduates of other medical colleges in good standing, can obtain the degree by attending one full course of lectures and passing the examinations of the senior year. It is understood that attendance upon a course of lectures requires actual presence at a majority of the exercises of each term.

For information inquire of Charles P. Thayer, M.D., 74 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.

St. Lawrence University, founded in 1856, is located at Canton, St. Lawrence County, N. Y. It comprises two departments: The College of Letters and Science, and the Canton Theological School. These departments are independent in their faculties, funds and government. Men and women are admitted to both departments. The University confers no degrees on a course of study of less than four years. The courses are full, the instruction thorough, and the mental training practical and efficient.

HERRING LIBRARY. — Librarians, Henry Prentiss Forbes, D.D., Robert Dale Ford, M.S. The library, founded by the late Silas C. Herring, and embracing about ten thousand volumes, is contained in Herring Library Hall.

I. THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE. — Courses. The College of Letters and Science offers four courses, leading respectively to the degrees of B.A., B.S., B.L., and Ph.B. The last two years of each course are largely elective.

Faculty. — John Clarence Lee, Ph.D., S.T.D., president and professor of English; Absalom Graves Gaines, D.D., LL.D., Craig professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and of Political Economy; Henri Hermann Liotard, M.A., professor of French and German; Henry Priest, M.A., dean, and Hayward professor of Physics and Chemistry; George Robert Hardie, M.A., recorder, and professor of Latin; Robert Dale Ford, M.S., professor of Mathematics; Frederick C. Foster, M.A., professor of Greek and History; ——— ——— Cummings professor of Natural Science; ——— ——— Chapin professor of Geology and Mineralogy.

Calendar. — The college year is divided into two terms. The second term will begin Feb. 8, 1897. Tree holiday, April 30. Commencement, June 23. The first term of the succeeding year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 21, 1897.

Students and Expenses. — The number of college students in 1895–96 was ninety. Tuition, fifty dollars a year. Board, from $3.50 to $4.00 per week. Sixteen free scholarships.

2. THE CANTON THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL. — Courses of Study The regular course of instruction, for Diploma, covers three years. For the degree of B.D., four years. These courses include the departments of Ethics, History, Theology, Comparative Religion, Homiletics, Apologetics, Church Administration, Psychology, and Interpretation and Criticism. Students so situated as to require it may enter for a shorter term than the regular course, and will be entitled to a certificate stating their attainments.

Conditions of Admission. — The students particularly desired are those who give promise of usefulness in the ministry of the Universalist Church. The best preliminary preparation is a classical course in college. Students whose opportunities have not admitted of such preparation are received if they possess a High School or equivalent education in English Sound moral principle and approved Christian standing are indispensable.

Lectures. — Courses of lectures on preaching and pastoral work are given each year by eminent clergymen, — Universalist and other.

Faculty. — I. M. Atwood, D.D., president and professor of Theology and Ethics; J. S. Lee, D.D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology; H. P. Forbes, D.D., professor of Biblical Languages and Literature; Rev. Lewis Beales Fisher, Ryder Professor of Preaching and Pastoral Theology. Number of students in 1895–96, thirty-three.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856. It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3 a week; in the village, $3.50. Students may obtain loans of the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $150 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar. — First term closes Jan. 22, 1897. Second term opens Feb. 18. Commencement, June 22, 1897. Fall term begins Wednesday, Sept. 22, 1897.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY.

Lombard University is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-one classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 316. As organized at present, the University embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the department of Music and Art. The University year begins the first Tuesday in September, and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-three subjects, in Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Eighteen credits are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitations or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction at present, in eighty-five courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the eighteen credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The Department of Music and Art is under the management of superior teachers. Excellent instruction is given in piano, organ, singing, drawing and painting.

Faculty of Lombard University. — Charles Ellwood Nash, D.D., president; J. V. N. Standish, Ph.D., LL.D., president emeritus; Willard S. Small, professor of English Literature, Rhetoric, Homiletics and Biblical Interpretation; Isaac A. Parker, Ph.D., professor of Greek; N. White, Ph.D., D.D., in charge of the Ryder Divinity School; Jon Watson Grubb, M.S., professor of Latin; Frederick W. Rich, B.S., professor of Natural Science; Philip G. Wright, A.M., professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Rev. Eben H. Chapin, professor of Applied Christianity and Pastoral Theology; Myra Baker, A.M., instructor in French and German; Helen B. Welsh, instructor in Elocution and Physical Culture; Isabelle Blood, instructor in Drawing and Painting; Albert Woeltge, director of Department of Music, and instructor of Piano, Organ, and the Science and History of Music; Helen Carlton Marsh, instructor in Singing; Mary Gaston Crippen, instructor in Guitar and Mandolin; Emily Augusta Hadley, principal in charge of the Ladies' Hall; non-resident lecturers, A. J. Canfield, D.D., M. D. Shutter, D.D., J. C. Adams, D.D., Geo. B. Stocking, D.D.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES. — Hon. Samuel Kerr, Chicago, President; Charles A. Webster, Galesburg, Secretary; Lake W. Sanborn, Treasurer; C. E. Nash, D.D., Galesburg; J. V. N. Standish, Ph.D., LL.D., Galesburg; A. J. Canfield, D.D., Chicago; Albert Webster, Galesburg; Hon. J. B. Harsh, Creston, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove; Almon Kidder, Esq., Monmouth; Hon. A. M. Brown, Galesburg; Mrs. James H. Swan, Chicago; Charles Styer, Indianapolis, Ind.; Hon. Hamilton S. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; J. N. Conger, Galesburg; George Tapper, Chicago; Hon. Howard Knowles, Galesburg; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis, Minn.; Marion D. Shutter, D.D., Minneapolis, Minn.; H. N. Higinbotham, Chicago; Amos Crum, D.D., Webster City, Iowa; W. W. Washburn, Galesburg; Mrs. E. P. Townsend, Sycamore; Lyman McCarl, Esq., Quincy; G. B. Stocking, D.D., Galesburg; Robert Chappell, Galesburg.

Expenses. — The tuition fees are low, ranging from $3.00 to $4.10 for each full course per term. Half courses at half rates. Board can be secured at $3.00 or $3.50 per week.

The Ryder Divinity School. — The Divinity School of Lombard University was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the University the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the University exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

The primary object of the Divinity School is to furnish education and training to candidates for the Christian ministry. The regular course occupies four years, and the graduates receive the degree of the Bachelor of Divinity.

The school is also open to persons who do not intend to enter the ministry. The pursuit of studies of a theological or religious character is an interesting and helpful means of personal culture. Such a course is especially recommended to persons who desire to become better fitted for useful service in the Sunday school, the church, the Young People's Christian Union, and similar societies, or for charitable and philanthropic work. Upon those who come with these purposes, no denominational test will be imposed.

Students of all denominations and beliefs will be welcome to the advantages of study and training in the Divinity School, as in other departments of the University.

Tuition is free to all regular members of the Divinity School, and they are also admitted to the advantages presented by the other departments of the University. Board can be secured for from $3.00 to 3.50 per week.

Pecuniary Aid.—Students who are candidates for the ministry of the Universalist Church may, upon complying with all the necessary conditions and receiving the recommendation of the Faculty, obtain assistance from the Universalist General Convention in the form of a loan, to an amount not exceeding $150 per year. Those who have not a definite purpose of entering the Universalist ministry are not eligible to the Convention Loan.

The Calendar of the Divinity School corresponds with that of the other departments of the University. The Winter term begins Dec. 1, 1896; the Spring term March 9, 1897; Commencement is held June 3, 1897; the Fall term will begin on the first Tuesday in September.

Faculty of the Ryder Divinity School.—Charles Elwood Nash, D.D., president; Nehemiah White, Ph.D., D.D., in charge of the Divinity School, professor of Biblical Languages and Exegesis; Isaac Augustus Parker, Ph.D., professor of Greek; Rev. Willard S. Small, A.B., professor of Homiletics and Biblical Interpretation; Helen B. Welsh, instructor in Elocution; Albert Woeltge, professor of Music; Rev. Eben H. Chapin, B.D., A.M., professor of Applied Christianity and Pastoral Theology; Marion D. Shutter, D.D., non-resident lecturer on Biblical Literature; A. J. Canfield, D.D., non-resident lecturer on Preaching; Jacob Straub, D.D., non-resident lecturer on Pastoral Theology.

BUCHTEL COLLEGE.

This institution is situated in the city of Akron, Summit County, Ohio. It was founded by the Universalist State Convention of Ohio, and was named in honor of John R. Buchtel, its most liberal benefactor. It was opened to students of both sexes Sept. 11, 1872.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES. — President, Hon. George W. Crouse, Akron; Secretary, Charles R. Olin, Akron; Treasurer, Albert B. Tinker, Akron; Col. George T. Perkins, Akron; Frank Pierce, Sharpsville, Pa.; Judge Newell D. Tibbals, Akron; Rev. Andrew Willson, Ravenna; Rev. Henrietta G. Moore, Springfield; John F. Eddy, Bay City, Mich.; William H. Slade, Columbus; Arthur A. Stearns, Cleveland; Mrs. Abby S. Schumacher, Chicago, Ill.; George L. Case, Cleveland; Col. Arthur L. Conger, Akron; Alexander W. Maynes, Akron; D. Irving Badger, Akron; William T. Sawyer, Akron; Ferdinand Schumacker, Akron; Hon. I. N. Hathaway, Chardon.

There are three four years' courses of study — the classical, the philosophical, and the scientific. There is also a preparatory course for each of these courses.

Faculty. — Charles M. Knight, A.M., acting-president, and Buchtel professor of Physics and Chemistry; Carl F. Kolbe, A.M., Hilton professor of Modern Languages; Charles C. Bates, A.M., professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature; Edward W. Claypole, B.A., D.Sc. (London) F.G., S.S., L E., and A., professor of Natural Science; Hermas V. Egbert, A.M., Ainsworth professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Ellen E. Garriques, A.M., Pierce professor of English Literature, and instructor in Logic and English History; Adèle M. Garriques, instructor in Elocution and Reading; Frederick C. Bryan, A.B., LL.B., instructor in Law; Joseph H. James, B.S., instructor in Physics, and Assistant in Chemistry; Jennie Gifford, A.M., principal of Preparatory Department, and teacher of Science and School Management; Mary E. Caryle Sylla, teacher of Piano and Theory; Katharine Parsons, teacher of Vocal Music; Gustav Sigel, teacher of Violin, Cello, and Zither; Minnie C. Fuller, teacher of Painting and Drawing.

Expenses — The necessary yearly expenses of students range from $150 to $200. Board in clubs at cost. There are fifty perpetual scholarships, each of $1,000 yielding an annual income of $60. These are intended to aid worthy and deserving students. Number of Students season of 1895–96, 200.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE AND MILITARY ACADEMY.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding students. The Institute spares its lady pupils the necessity of climbing stairs; a hydraulic elevator for their exclusive use was provided in 1888, at an expense of nearly $2,500.

Competent judges have pronounced the buildings the finest of their kind in the state. Recent improvements include the Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the new water works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured.

The Cadet's Gymnasium, erected ten years ago, is a two-story brick structure 70x40 feet, with four bowling alleys and the usual gymnasium apparatus.

The Girls' Gymnasium is a room 50 feet long, opening from the chapel. Here, under a very efficient instructor, the girls are taught the most important parts of the Swedish system of gymnastics.

The Institute aims to furnish advantages of the very highest order at the least cost to students. All the departments of academic training are in charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the Department of Modern Laaguages, students may acquire a speaking mastery of German and French. Piano music is in charge of Prof. Bodell, a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Stockholm. The second piano assistant is Miss Luella Dievendorf, one of Prof. Bodell's graduates, and a teacher of experience. Miss Ida Canfield is at the head of the Vocal School. She is a teacher of high standing. The course in Elocution is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this branch. The art department is admirably equipped with casts, copies, etc.; wood carving has just been introduced and forms a very modern and interesting feature.

The course in the Potter School of Business Training is one of the best of the kind offered anywhere. Common English receives particular attention, and is well articulated with the excellent course in the higher English branches. Students are prepared for any college. Excellent courses in Literature, Science and History.

Besides a preparatory year in common English, the school provides eight regular courses, viz.: The College Preparatory, four years; the Scientific four years; the Literary and Musical, three years; the Business, one year; Piano, three years; Vocal, three years; Art, three years; Elocution, two years. These will be found outlined in the school catalogue.

The Boys' Department is on a military basis. The commandant of cadets is an officer of the U. S. army. Rifles, cannon and ammunition are supplied by the War Department. The armory with clear floor space 150x80 feet, is one of the largest school armories in the United States.

Expense for board, tuition, church sitting, furnished room and washing, from $275 to $300. Reduced rates to children of clergymen.

The school is situated in one of the most delightful and healthful portions of the Mohawk Valley, about midway between Albany and Utica, on the New York Central and West Shore Railroads. Twelve passenger trains from the East, and twelve from the West stop at Fort Plain daily.

Students under thirteen years of age are not admitted.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES. — William J. Tingue, Port Chester; Alexander Martin, North Bloomfield; Abram Dievendorf, Fort Plain; Rev. Daniel Ballou, Utica; Charles Benedict, Little Falls; Henry C. Lyman, M.D., Sherburne; John Finehout, Canajoharie; Edwin W. Wood, Fort Plain; Reuben Elwood, Fort Plain; Lester M. Weller, Fort Plain; Asa Saxe, D.D., Rochester; W. Irving Scott, Bridgewater.

Faculty.—Col. Charles E. Burbank, President; Jane S. Higham, Lady Principal. Sixteen competent instructors are employed in the different departments appertaining to a first-class academic institution.

The value of the buildings and grounds is at least $125,000. The other property consists of the general endowment of $25,000, and the John Westover Scholarship Fund of $10,000. The income of the Scholarship Fund is used (1) for the benefit of students fitting for the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., and pursuing college preparatory studies; and (2) for the benefit of students of limited means who are not preparing for the ministry, but whose parents are Universalists.

Catalogues with full information can be had on application to the President, Fort Plain, N. Y.

DEAN ACADEMY.

This is a first-class Boarding and Day School for both sexes. It is situated in Franklin, Norfolk County, Mass., twenty-seven miles from Boston, on the line of the New York and New England Railroad, and directly in communication with all parts of the country.

The Academy which was incorporated in 1865, and which derives its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, owns a magnificent school edifice, with various outbuildings, valued at $240,000. The building is lighted with gas and heated by steam. It has every modern improvement and convenience for the comfort of the pupils. It has also an endowment fund which lessens the cost of instruction.

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years. A preparatory course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the regular courses. Special attention is given to fitting students for college.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of ornamental branches and washing per year, $225, divided as follows: First term, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Ornamental branches, Drawing, Painting and Music, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., six miles from Montpelier, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted and the method of daily lessons results in assured progress. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. Her work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of nineteen hundred volumes.

A new gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The new Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund. — The permanent fund amounts to about $28,000 and will be materially increased by the bequests of the late Mrs. Almira Smith of Barre, and other gifts subject to life interest.

Expenses. — Board, $3.50 per week, including room-rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to about $175.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in Deering, Me., two and one-half miles from Portland.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining-hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and a Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in Goddard Hall, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard. Five thousand dollars have been expended, and the hall is supplied with all modern improvements. It is also newly furnished with ash and oak sets. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The institution offers five courses of study: The English course, of three years, the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years, and a post graduate course of one year. Diplomas are given to those completing any of the higher courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for college.

Expenses. — Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches and modern languages, for the full school year, vary from $155 to $170.

NECROLOGY.

The deaths of the following named preachers, fifteen in all, have occurred since November, 1895:

JAMES EASTWOOD, was born in Rotham, parish of La Colle, Canada, March 16, 1829, and died at Guilford, Vt., Dec. 11, 1895. His father was a woolen manufacturer and the son was trained for the same business, but having a strong desire for an education he fitted for college and entered Tufts in 1856 and graduated in 1860. He preached his first sermon in Hanson, Mass., in October, 1856, and continued to occupy pulpits in the vicinity of Boston throughout his college course. His first settlement was at Union Square, now Allston, Mass., and while pastor here he was ordained in 1862. In the early fall of 1864 he took charge of the Soldiers' Mission sustained by the Universalists of New England and was engaged in this work, with headquarters at City Point, Va., until the close of the war. The five following years he was pastor at Brattleboro, Vt., and gave much time in our Centenary Year, and with great success, in raising memorial funds in that State. During 1871 and 1872 he canvassed Wisconsin in the interests of Jefferson Liberal Institute and was successful in extinguishing its debt. In 1873 he returned to New England and took a pastorate at Foxboro, Mass., and later at Brockton in the same State. After making a somewhat extended trip in Europe in 1876, he again resumed pastoral work and had settlements at Clifton Springs, N. Y., Newport and Kingston, N. H., and Turner, Me. At the latter place he was disabled by paralysis in 1891. Other shocks succeeded after his making his home in Guilford, the last and fatal one occurring the Sunday before his death. "He had marked literary ability, and during the last twenty-five years had written many articles for the denominational and other publications. His pulpit productions were marked by depth of thought and conviction. In his personal relations he was a beloved pastor, while his life was true in every respect to the profession of which he was an honored member."

WILLIAM DAVID SHIPMAN, born in Gustavus, Trumbull County, Ohio, Oct. 25, 1852, died at Greene, Ohio, Dec. 16, 1895. His father was the venerable widely known preacher in the Universalist Church, the Rev. Charles L. Shipman, under whose guidance his life was early grounded in faith and duty. He graduated from Buchtel College in 1877, and at once becoming a teacher in that institution, continued to serve it faithfully until within a few months of his death. He was licensed to preach in 1874, and was ordained at Brimfield, Ohio, Sept. 5, 1886. He was a wise counsellor and at the time of his death he was President of the Ohio Universalist Convention, and President of the Western Reserve Association. "By his death the church loses the counsel and help of an earnest, capable and consecrated minister, and the college a friend who had given the best of his life to its welfare."

RUSSELL ARNOLD BALLOU, born in Monroe, Mass., June 14, 1827, died in Newton, Mass., Dec. 29, 1895. Brought up a plain farmer boy, he subsequently received an education in the best academies of Massachusetts and Vermont, and continuing to work on the farm summers, taught school several winters. Having preached a few times before attaining his majority, he received the Fellowship of the Winchester Association at its session in his native town, in June, 1849. A year later he went to Medford, Mass., and for about two years was a student in theology with the late Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou, 2d. His first pastoral settlement was in West Bridgewater, Mass., where he was ordained April 25, 1852. In 1858 he was settled in Augusta, Me., but left this pastorate in 1862, to become the proprietor and editor of The Gospel Banner. In 1864 he sold the paper and was for three years the General Agent of the Universalist Publishing House. From this he gave his attention to his own secular interests, continuing in the business world with varying success, many years. In 1894 he was fellowshipped anew, but had no subsequent pastoral charge. He loved the Universalist faith, its church and institutions, and hoped to have been able to contribute from his material gains something that should contribute to its permanent success. A man of strong convictions, warm sympathies and Christian life.

ALFRED VAN CLEVE was for several years a licentiate. We have no information concerning him except the following in a letter from Rev. James Billings: "I was quite well acquainted with Bro. A. Van Cleve; yet I know but very little of his life. He came to Texas from Kentucky as a licentiate. During his first years in Texas he did considerable missionary work. He was very diffident about speaking in public. He was one of the best of men; he was a strong man in fireside mission work and with his pen. He settled on a good farm in Comanche County, raised quite a family of children, who have grown to be worthy citizens and believers in Universalism. He was in poor health the last years of his life. He passed on to the higher life sometime last winter, the date I do not know, nor his age, but somewhere in the seventies."

ROBERT BLACKER, born in Boston, Mass., Jan. 13, 1814, died in Bangor, Me., Jan. 7, 1896. He began his ministry in South Reading, Mass., in 1838, and was subsequently settled in Columbia, New Sharon, Norridgewock, Sangerville, North Auburn, Livermore, Kenduskeag, Me., and Warren, Mass. About six years ago his health failed, and from that time until his death he made his home with his son, in Bangor, Me. Wherever he labored during his long ministry he was held in high esteem. Although in feeble health several years he passed away suddenly and unexpectedly to those who were in his home. He leaves an honored name and a precious remembrance.

JACOB BAKER, born in Dudley, Mass., July 14, 1817, died in South Weymouth, Mass., April 26, 1896. He was educated at Nichols Academy, in his native town, an institution of learning originally established under the patronage of Universalists connected with the General Convention, in 1818. He fitted for the Christian Ministry with Rev. Thomas J. Greenwood, and was ordained in 1839. His first pastorate was at South Shrewsbury, next at Prescott and Willimantic, Conn., and for a number of years he was at his native town and Oxford, Mass. In 1859 he became Home Missionary under the direction of the Massachusetts State Convention and the Union Missionary Association, continuing in the field seven years. He was instrumental in establishing churches at Webster, Gardner, Westminster, Palmer, Spencer and West Boylston. In 1869 he took the pastorate of the Second Church of Weymouth, where he remained ten years. He was afterwards pastor of the churches at Scituate and Halifax. During eight years he was a member of the Board of Selectmen and Assessors of the town of Weymouth. In 1862 he represented the towns of Dudley and Southbridge in the Legislature of Massachusetts. Since the death of his only son, a few years ago, his health gradually declined, and in the last two years of his pilgrimage he experienced great feebleness. He was a good preacher and a faithful pastor.

GEORGE HILL, born in Meredith, N. H., July 8, 1825, died at Norwood, Mass., June 22, 1896. He fitted for the ministry under the direction of Rev. Uriah Clark, when the latter was pastor of the first Universalist Church in Lowell, Mass., and was ordained at West Cambridge (now Arlington), where he had his first settlement, March 13, 1850. In 1860 he took charge of the church at Milford, and in 1865 he moved to South Dedham (now Norwood), where he was pastor seventeen years, and where he had his home during the remainder of his life. Although long out of a pastorate, his services were in great demand in supplying vacant pulpits and in doing missionary work in new fields. For the last year or more he had been Chaplain of the Norfolk County Reformatory. For two years, 1885-86, he edited the REGISTER. Mr. Hill was a vigorous thinker and clear in the expression of his thoughts. He was also ardent in advocacy of the reforms and advanced philanthropies of the age, and his pen and voice were ever ready to aid a good cause. A good man and faithful in all things.

LUCIUS ROBINSON PAIGE, D.D., born at Hardwick, Mass., March 8, 1802, died in Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 2, 1896. For many years he was the oldest minister in the Universalist Church, although he had not been in the active ministry for a long time. He was aided in preparing to preach by Rev. Hosea Ballou, and preached his first sermon in Charlestown, Mass., June 1, 1823. On the 12th of that month he received a Letter of Fellowship and was ordained at South Wilbraham, Mass., June 2, 1825. In the winter of 1823-24, he was a school teacher near Little Falls, N. Y., and often preached in that vicinity. His first pastorate was at Springfield, Mass., and began about the time of his ordination and terminated in 1829, on account of growing poor health. In a short time, however, he settled at Sandy Bay, Gloucester, now the town of Rockport, and received great benefit from his residence on the sea-coast. For seven years, beginning in 1832, he was pastor at Cambridgeport. This was his last pastorate, although he continued to preach as a supply several years longer.

During his last pastorate, he prepared and published a notable volume entitled "Selections from Eminent Commentators." Its object was to show that learned advocates of the doctrine of endless punishment had interpreted so-called proof-texts of that dogma as teaching a different doctrine. It was a book evincing careful study and research, and was of invaluable service to the Universalist cause. The first edition appeared in 1833. Two years later he began to publish in the columns of the Trumpet, a series of "Notes on the Scriptures," out of which grew, in 1844, the first volume of his "Commentary on the New Testament," which was completed in 1869. It is a worthy monument to his scholarship and industry.

Dr. Paige was a historian as well as an expounder of the gospel. His History of Hardwick, and his History of Cambridge are marked by great fulness and thoroughness. For many years he was the senior member of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and of the New England Historic Genealogical Society. For one who never was in robust health, he was a wonderfully busy man. Thirteen years in the onerous position of town and city clerk of Cambridge; sixteen years treasurer of the Cambridgeport Bank; seventy-two years an active and zealous member of the Masonic fraternity; sixteen years Secretary of the corporation of Tufts College, and from its existence one of its wisest counsellors; he crowded his long life with industry and with unquestioned Christian excellence. In recognition of his varied scholarship, Harvard University gave him in 1850 the degree of A.M., and in 1861 Tufts College conferred on him the degree of D.D. He was also elected an honorary member of numerous Historical Societies. A Universalist in doctrine, life and spirit, loyal to his church and missing no opportunity to advance its interests, his memory is blessed.

JOY BISHOP, born in Readsboro, Vt., Feb. 12, 1815, died in Delphos, Kan., Sept. 24, 1896. He began to preach in 1840, although his name does not appear in the REGISTER until 1848, at which time he was residing in Readsboro, which continued to be his residence until 1856. That year he moved to Iowa, and for fifteen years "his work was chiefly confined to that State. He organized churches in Valley Falls, Greeley, Strawberry Point and other places, and did the work of a genuine evangelist in all parts of the young State. At that time railroads were not; and the self-constituted missionary traversed the prairies with his faithful steed, held meetings in school-houses, private dwellings and wherever Providence opened a door for him to enter and deliver his message literally 'without money and without price.' He was never idle he was never deaf to a call, however far from home; and few are the places where now we have churches where any other preacher preceded him and there are scores of localities where his persuasive voice is the only one that has ever been heard proclaiming the Everlasting Gospel." In 1871 he took up his residence at Delphos, Kan., where he spent the remainder of his days, and until within a few years he was in the active ministry. "One who has known him well assures us that he was literally 'a man without guile'; a genuine Christian in grain, a devoted, consecrated saint, whose life was a living sermon. He loved to live, but ever looked forward to the Beyond with anticipation and desire."

WILLIAM ETHAN MANLEY, D.D., born near Norwalk, Conn., 1812, died in Denver, Col., Sept. 28, 1896. The Denver Republican, in noticing his decease, said of him: "As a boy he was considered to be the brightest member of a large family and his parents decided to educate him for the Presbyterian ministry. The young man had strong reasons why he should oppose the Presbyterian faith with all its terrible views held in those early days, and he forthwith entered upon a close study of the Bible in order to evolve for himself a kindlier faith. After several years he blossomed out a Universalist, to the disgrace of his relatives and friends. An uncle of his, a Presbyterian minister, determined to win the erring young student back to the true faith, and for that purpose took up his residence with the young man for a whole year. That was a great year of religious debating, the young man pitted against his elder uncle, and both stubborn religious students. Young Manley won, and in so doing converted his Presbyterian uncle to the Universalist faith." He studied theology with Rev. Stephen R. Smith, at Clinton, N. Y., and was fellowshipped in 1832. For the first ten years thereafter he preached in various places in Central and Western New York. Rev. Nathaniel Stacy who met Mr. Manley in 1834, in the extreme Western part of New York, found in him "a young man of uncommon talents and a scholar, ready to use all his influence and labors for establishing 'circuit preaching' in that section; and he did so with all the faithfulness and ardor of an inspired Apostle, until he broke down his health and manly constitution and was actually under the necessity of retiring from the field, and resting from his labors for a year or more, I believe, to recruit his health. It was truly astonishing to witness the zeal and to see the amount of labor performed by that excellent young man in so short a space of time." The young preacher had many incitements to his zealous efforts, and among them the fact that his own mother had been rendered insane by Presbyterian preaching on the sin against the Holy Ghost.

After preaching in various portions of the State of New York, he went to Illinois in 1842 in the hope of establishing a Universalist church in Galena, but stopping a short time in Chicago, was induced to make that his home, in 1843. Here he organized what is now known as St. Paul's Church, and remained its pastor between two and three years, when he engaged for a few years in teaching a select school, and in 1848, in company with Rev. J. M. Day, he started the publication of the New Covenant, now THE UNIVERSALIST. Leaving Chicago in 1850, he was for two years pastor at Richfield Springs, N. Y.; then two years in pastoral service at Tecumseh, Mich. In 1855 he removed to Chicago, where he resided,—devoting himself to work on his "Biblical Review" or Commentary on the Old Testament, the five volumes of which were published 1859—1874,—eleven years. In 1867 he went to Auburn, N. Y., to reside with his adopted daughter, where he had his home until 1883, when he took up his abode with his daughter in Denver, Col.

BENTON SMITH, born in May, 1822, died at Mattapoisett, Mass., Oct. 16, 1896. He was ordained at Hardwick, Mass., where he had his first settlement, July 2, 1845. After five years' service there he was five years at Shirley, then five at South Reading, now Wakefield, six at Chatham and two at Waltham, all in Massachusetts. From 1868 to 1873 he was Agent of the Universalist Publishing House. After this he was for several years a supply for vacant pulpits in the vicinity of Boston, two years at South Market, N. H., two years pastor at Mattapoisett, three years pastor at Marion, although continuing to reside at Mattapoisett. Feeble health and shattered nerves have made his services intermittent in recent years and he has not been to any great extent before the people. He was a student of the Scriptures, having given such special attention to all relating to Abraham in the Old Testament and to St. Paul in the New, that he was an acknowledged authority among us with regard to the Father of the Faithful and to the great Apostle to the Gentiles. He was a man of pure life and made a high and honorable record in our Church.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN FOSTER, born at Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 28, 1820, died in Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19, 1896. He fitted for the ministry at Oxford, Ohio, with Rev. Henry Gifford, was ordained in 1842, and had his first settlement at Perryville, Ind., then at Terra Haute, and in 1845 at Madison. In 1846 he became editor of The Herald of Truth. In 1854, according to the REGISTER, he became pastor at Indianapolis, from whence he went to Richmond, Ind., in 1861. In 1862 he returned to Indianapolis and was elected State Librarian in 1863, and reelected in 1865. After the expiration of his term of office, he preached in various places in the State, and settled in Dayton, Ohio, in 1869. A year later he returned to Indianapolis which continued to be his home during the remainder of his mortal career. He was a prominent member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and was for many years the editor of its organ in Indiana. "His was a long and honorable career."

BENJAMIN KIMBALL RUSS, born in Salem, N. H., Jan. 17, 1834, died in Gorham, N. H., Nov. 6, 1896. Mr. Russ was a member of the class of 1860, Tufts College, and began to preach some time in 1861, and was ordained in 1862. Rev. Dr. Leonard, Dean of Tufts Divinity School, who knew Mr. Russ all through his college days, says of him. "All through his college course he was interested in theological questions. He heard a greater number of preachers than any one I ever knew. They were his study and theological school." His first pastorate was at Somerville, Mass., where he remained about twelve years. Not long after leaving Somerville he was stricken with paralysis and was an invalid several years. In 1889 he went to Gorham, N. H., where he soon had another shock, but had partially recovered from its effects and was a faithful pastor and helpful preacher, serving the parish without a stipulated salary and taking only such pecuniary assistance as came as a free-will offering. He had a sensitive nature and was averse to putting himself forward for notice or praise. His work was faithfully done and he bound those who waited on his ministering, both the aged and the young, by the strongest and most loving ties to himself. A great lover of children, he was devotedly loved by them. Death came to him in the way in which he had not long ago said he desired to have it come, when he was alone and unaccompanied by a painful struggle. A born preacher and a faithful pastor he still lives in many hearts that loved him.

HENRY DE LAFAYETTE WEBSTER, born in the State of New York, August 29, 1824, died at Chicago, Ill., Nov. 4, 1896. He began to preach in 1846, was ordained in 1848, and had his first settlement near Paris, N. Y., that year. Subsequently he was at various points in Ohio, and Connecticut, and in Warren, Mass. Going west he was pastor for a short time at Elkhorn, Wis. Leaving the ministry a few years and engaging in the practice of medicine, he returned to the work most congenial to him in 1863, since which time he had pastorates at Winona, Minn.; Ravenna, Ohio, Erie, Pa.; Springfield and Cleveland, Ohio; Neenah and Racine, Wis. "His last and most influential pastorate" was at Oak Park, Ill. Later he spent several winters at Tarpon Springs, Fla., where he rendered effective service for our parish there, and his last work was of a missionary character at San Diego and other points in California. Suffering acutely from disease he returned some two months ago to his pleasant home in Chicago to die.

"Mr. Webster was a preacher of marked ability and resource, logical and convincing, always presenting his thought in a clear and systematic manner. He was a faithful pastor and attached many friends in all his pastorates. He loved music and the devotional services of the sanctuary, and was a faithful worker in the Sunday-school. His record in our ministry is one of untarnished honor. His pure life, fraternal spirit and helpful ministry will keep his memory green among his friends and contemporaries."

JOHN HILTON, born in Ontario, Canada, April 7, 1848, died in Freeport, Illinois, Nov. 4, 1896. When about to graduate from the State Agricultural College, at Lansing, Mich., his attention was called to Universalism by an intimate acquaintance with the late Rev. J. B. Gilman, and responding to the earnest appeal of the latter, he entered the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., in 1871, where he was prepared for the ministry. He was ordained at Hinsdale, N. H., Sept. 13, 1876. His first settlement was at Windsor, Vt., from whence he removed, in 1876, to Hinsdale, N. H., a wider and more promising field of labor. But here "his hopes and aspirations as a minister of his much-loved church were blasted by the development of a serious lung trouble that drove him from the pulpit and long-silenced his voice in all public speaking." He then fitted himself for the practice of dentistry and established himself at Ft. Atkinson, Wis., where, against medical advice, he consented to preach and did much for the establishing of our cause in that locality. Since 1892 his residence has been in Freeport, Ill. By his death a good man passes from the earth which he blessed by his life upon it.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER 1898.

The contemplated improvements in and enlargement of our tabular pages announced last year, have their beginning in this issue of the REGISTER. That they will be appreciated and approved we have no doubt. That those who see in them an attempt to give a more perfect and satisfactory exhibit of the facts which it is desirable to know, will join us in regret that so many pastors and others from whom information was solicited, have been indifferent or negligent in helping us to a more full and complete statement of our actual condition, we feel well assured. We keenly feel that the indifferent and negligent from whom we have sought information possible for them to give, have in such large numbers thwarted our effort to show our exact condition. Something more than thirteen hundred circulars asking for information, have been sent to preachers and parish clerks, and not quite two-thirds of them have been received back. After waiting as long as possible to hear from the other third, aid was sought from the secretaries of such State Conventions as were sufficiently near the place of publication to warrant the expectations of their being able to help us in time for the printers demand for copy. To all these officials we make grateful acknowledgement of favors received and most hearty thanks for the service they have rendered. "Almost against hope, we still believe in hope" that our careless delinquents will some day help us to make a REGISTER that we shall all pronounce satisfactory. To this end may there be more helpers in the coming year.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemora ing those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organization of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1899—will be held in Columbus Avenue Church, Boston, Mass., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, A. J. Canfield, D.D. The convention is composed of the Presidents (or in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the agggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention as reported at the Convention, October, 1897, aggregate $289,521, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $130,294.53. The income of this fund is used 'in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. The Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the repayment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $57,183.45, and the income is appropriated to loans to students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884, on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $13,916.62.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $14,183.47.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purpose of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the Fund amounts to $9,260.

VI. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

STATISTICS.

In the attempt to make in this issue of the Register a more full exhibit of desirable information in regard to Parishes and their adjuncts and auxiliaries, we are compelled to put all such matter in a different form on the page from that heretofore used. Hence it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, from clerks of parishes not regularly supplied with preaching, and from official reports of State Convention secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources the figures of the last reported year are used ematics; Charles R. Gray, Superintendent of Buildings; Miss Ethel Hays, Assistant Librarian.

Finances.—The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than $1,600,000.

Scholarships.—There are upwards of forty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. All the courses are four year courses but provision is given to students to complete them in less with superior work. A part of the studies for the junior and senior class are elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston, on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges $100. Board in club, at cost, about $3 per week.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the departments of Tufts College, the general advantages of which are enjoyed by all its members in common. The College Library, the Museum of Natural History, the Gymnasium, are open to all. Courses of study and lectures in the College of Letters are open to the Divinity students, subject, however, to the discretion of the Faculty. The graduates of the Divinity School in common with the graduates of the other departments are enrolled in the Quinquennial Catalogue of the college, and are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association of Tufts College.

Faculty. — Elmer H. Capen, D D., president in charge of Political Economy; Charles H. Leonard, D.D., Dean, Goddard professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; Thomas J. Sawyer, D.D., Packard Professor of Christian Theology, Emeritus; William G. Tousey, A.M., B.D., professor of Ethics and Philosophy of Theism; George T. Knight, D.D., secretary, professor of Church History, also in charge of Systematic Theology; George M. Harmon, A.M., B.D., professor of Biblical Theology; David L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of Oratory; Warren S. Woodbridge, A.M., B.D., Woodbridge, professor of Applied Christianity. Non-resident lecturers, F. W. Hamilton, A.M., lecturer on Christian Economics; Charles R. Tenney, B.D., lecturer on Character and the Ministry; Henry Blanchard, D.D.; Rev. E. L. Houghton.

Requirements for Admission.—Candidates unknown to the Faculty must bring satisfactory testimonials of good character. They must believe in the Christian religion, and have a sincere purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. It is expected that they will present themselves on the day preceding the first day of the academic year.

Bachelors of Arts are admitted to a three years' course, without examination, to be candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Candidates for this degree who are not Bachelors of Arts are required to take a four-years' course, and to well sustain an examination on average passages from the Latin of Cæsar, Cicero, and Virgil; and on average passages from the Greek of Xenophon, Homer, and the Gospels. Ability to read simple prose in French or German, and to write in French or German a paragraph upon an assigned subject, is accepted as an alternative for the requirement in Latin. They are also required to pass a satisfactory examination in Greek, Roman, English, and American History; in Rhetoric; in English Literature and in English Grammar and Composition, in which the requirement is as follows : —

English Grammar and Composition.— Spelling, punctuation, structure of sentences, correct use of words, clearness of expression.

The examination will consist (1) in criticising specimens of incorrect English; (2) in writing a short composition on a subject assigned. Subjects for composition will be drawn from the following standard works in English literature. All the books named for the given year are to be read, and, from two or three of them subjects will be assigned at the time of examination.

For 1898. — Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's Paradise Lost, Books I. and II.; Pope's Iliad, Books I. and XXII.; the Sir Roger de Coverley Papers in The Spectator; Goldsmith's The Vicar of Wakefield; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; De Quincey's The Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Coleridge's The Ancient Mariner; Southey's Life of Nelson; Carlyle's Essay on Burns; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; Hawthorne's The House of the Seven Gables; Tennyson's The Princess.

Those whose age or circumstances forbid so extensive preparation, are admitted to the privileges of the school, to take such studies in the regular classes as are suited to their attainments and needs. It is recognized that earnest and capable men aspire to the Christian Ministry, who are not able to make the formal preparation required of those who enter to be candidates for the degree.

Applicants from other theological institutions whose course of study is the equivalent of that pursued in this institution, will be received ad eundem.

EXPENSES AND PECUNIARY AID.

Beginning with the college year 1897-98, students in the Divinity School will be charged one hundred dollars annually for tuition. This charge will include the privilege of occupying a room in Paige Hall, and provision for heating and caring for it. A remission of one-half of this amount may be made by the Executive Committee of the Trustees to students who cannot be accommodated in Paige Hall or who live at home. The necessary expenses for board, washing, gas, gymnasium charges do not exceed two hundred dollars a year. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars a year to any one student; and the Faculty of the Divinity School is authorized to assign Dockstader scholarships to those whose circumstances require it. Those students, also, who are in the regular course are permitted to preach, under the direction of the Faculty, during the year and a half preceding their graduation. In this way they may add to their pecuniary resources.

TUFT'S MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., president; John L. Hildreth, A.B., M.D., professor of Clinical Medicine, dean; Charles P. Thayer, M.D., professor of General, Descriptive and Surgical Anatomy, Secretary; Henry W. Dudley, M.D., professor of Pathology; Herbert L. Smith, M.D., professor of Clinical Surgery; Walter L. Hall, M.D., professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine; Frank G. Wheatley, M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Arthur E. Austin, A.B., M.D., professor of Medical Chemistry; Charles A. Pitkin, Ph.D., professor of General Chemistry; John A. Tenney, M.D., professor of Ophthalmogy and Otology; Samuel G. Webber, M.D., professor of Nervous Diseases; Thomas M. Durrell, M.D., professor of Medical Jurisprudence; J. Cushing Gallison, M.D., instructor in Surgery; William A. White, M.D., instructor in Theory and Practice; Richard A. Pierce, demonstrator of Physiology; Edward E. Thorp, M.D., instructor in Medical Chemistry; Charles L. Cutler, M.D., instructor in Gynæcology; Frank P. Brown, M.D., instructor in Bacteriology. Lecturers: Charles F. Eames, D.M.D., M.D., J. Sterling Kingsley, S.D.; W. R. Woodbury, M.D.; Harold Williams, M.D., professor of the Diseases of Children; Ernest W. Cushing, M.D., professor of Gynæcology; Walter Channing, M.D., professor of Mental Diseases; W. P. Derby, M.D., assistant in Obstetrics; Rufus E. Durrah, lecturer in Clinical Surgery; George A. Webster, M.D., lecturer on Otology; George Whitehale, M.D., professor of Anatomy; Thomas F. Green, M.D., assistant demonstrator of Anatomy.

Admission. Applicants must be of good moral character, and unless they have previously matriculated in some accredited medical college or are graduates of some reputable college, high, or normal school, or of an institution of a similar grade, must pass an examination upon the branches of an English education, including Mathematics, Composition and Elementary Physics.

Graduation. Candidates must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine four full years, attended four courses of medical lectures, the last at this college, dissected one full course and passed all the required examinations. Graduates of other medical colleges in good standing, can obtain the degree by attending one full course of lectures and passing the examinations of the senior year. It is understood that attendance upon a course of lectures requires actual presence at a majority of the exercises of each term.

For information inquire of Charles P. Thayer, M.D., 74 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.

St. Lawrence University, founded in 1856, is located at Canton, St. Lawrence County, N. Y. It comprises two departments: The College of Letters and Science, and the Canton Theological School. These departments are independent in their faculties, funds and government. Men and women are admitted to both departments. The University confers no degrees on a course of study of less than four years. The courses are full, the instruction thorough, and the mental training practical and efficient.

Calendar.—The college year is divided into two terms. The second term will begin Feb. 14, 1898. Tree holiday, April 29. Commencement, June 29. The first term of the succeeding year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 20, 1898.

Expenses.—Tuition, fifty dollars a year. Board, from $3.50 to $4.00 per week. Eighteen free scholarships.

2. THE CANTON THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.—Courses of Study.—The regular course of instruction, for Diploma, covers three years. For the degree of B.D., four years. These courses include the departments of Ethics, History, Theology, Comparative Religion, Homiletics, Apologetics, Church Administration, Psychology, and Interpretation and Criticism. Students so situated as to require it may enter for a shorter term than the regular course, and will be entitled to a certificate stating their attainments.

Conditions of Admission.—The students particularly desired are those who give promise of usefulness in the ministry of the Universalist Church. The best preliminary preparation is a classical course in college. Students whose opportunities have not admitted of such preparation are received if they possess a High School or equivalent education in English. Sound moral principle and approved Christian standing are indispensable.

Lectures.—Courses of lectures on preaching and pastoral work are given each year by eminent clergymen,—Universalist and other.

Faculty.—I. M. Atwood, D.D., president and professor of Theology and Ethics; J. S. Lee, D.D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology; H. P. Forbes, D.D., professor of Biblical Languages and Literature; Rev. Lewis Beales Fisher, Ryder Professor of Preaching and Pastoral Theology; Rev. W. C. Selleck, Lecturer on History.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856. It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3.00 a week; in the village $3.50. Students may obtain loans of the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $150 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar.—First term closes Jan. 21, 1898. Second term opens Feb. 17. Commencement, June 28, 1898. Fall term begins Wednesday, Sept. 28, 1898.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY.

Lombard University is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-two classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 334 As organized at present, the University embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The University year begins the first Tuesday in September, and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty six subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Eighteen credits are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitations or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction at present, in 145 courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of thirty-eight full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the eighteen credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Highest grade instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel painting and china painting.

Townsend, Sycamore, Ill.; Amos Crum, D.D., Webster City, Iowa; Geo. Tapper, Chicago; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis; Hon. Hamilton L. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove, Ills.

Gymnasium and Ladies' Hall.—The Gymnasium, just completed, is one of the handsomest, completest, and best appointed buildings for the purpose in the West. Physical education is made a specialty. The new Ladies' Hall, completed in 1896, is also a thoroughly modern and well equipped building, which offers the advantages of a refined home under maternal oversight.

Expenses.—Tuition fees are low, being $3 50 per term for each full course, half or third rates for fractional courses and for studies in the Preparatory School. Board in Ladies' Hall, with heat (steam) and light (gas) $3.50 to $4.25 per week. In private families from $3.00 a week upwards. Self-boarding at a minimum cost encouraged.

The Ryder Divinity School.—The Divinity School of Lombard University was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the University the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Hen y Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the University exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

Tuition in the Divinity school is free to those studying for the Christian ministry. 18 credits from a list of 26 subjects are required for admission.

Catalogues sent on application to C. Ellwood Nash, D.D., President, Galesburg, Ills.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE AND MILITARY ACADEMY.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding students. The Institute spares its lady pupils the necessity of climbing stairs; a hydraulic elevator for their exclusive use was provided in 1888, at an expense of nearly $2,500.

Competent judges have pronounced the buildings the finest of their kind in the state. Recent improvements include the Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the new water works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured.

The Cadet's Gymnasium, erected ten years ago, is a two-story brick structure 70x450 feet, with four bowling alleys and the usual gymnasium apparatus.

The Girls' Gymnasium is a room 50 feet long, opening from the chapel. Here, under an efficient instructor, the girls are taught the most important parts of the Swedish system of gymnastics.

The Institute aims to furnish advantages of the very highest order at the least cost to students. All the departments of academic training are in charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the Department of Modern Languages, students may acquire a speaking mastery of German and French. Piano music is in charge of Prof. Bodell, a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music at Stockholm. The second piano assistant is Miss Zada Lee, one of Prof. Bodell's graduates, and a teacher of experience. Miss Ida Canfield is at the head of the Vocal School. She is a teacher of high standing. The course in elocution is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this branch.

The course in the Porter School of Business Training is one of the best of the kind offered anywhere. Common English receives particular attention, and is well articulated with the excellent course in the higher English branches. Students are prepared for any college. Excellent courses in Literature, Science and History.

Besides a preparatory year in common English, the school provides seven regular courses, viz.: The College Preparatory, four years; the Scientific four years; the Literary and Musical, three years; the Business, one year; Piano, three years; Vocal, three years; Elocution, two years. These will be found outlined in the school catalogue.

The Boys' Department is on a military basis. The commandant of cadets is an officer of the U. S. Army. Rifles, cannon, and ammunition are supplied by the War Department. The armory with clear floor space 150x82 feet, is one of the largest school armories in the United States.

Expense for board, tuition, church sitting, furnished room and washing, from $276 to $300 Reduced rates to children of clergymen.

The school is situated in one of the most delightful and healthful portions of the Mohawk Valley, about midway between Albany and Utica, on the New York Central and West Shore Railroads. Twelve passenger trains from the East, and twelve from the West stop at Fort Plain daily.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—William J. Tingue, Port Chester; Alexander Martin, North Bloomfield; Abram Dievendorf, Fort Plain; Rev. Daniel Ballou, Utica; Charles Benedict, Little Falls; Henry C. Lyman, M. D., Sherburne; John Finehout, Canajoharie; Edwin W. Wood, Fort Plain; Cortland Wilber, Binghamton; Lester M. Weller, Fort Plain; Asa Saxe, D.D., Albany; W. Irving Scott, Bridgewater.

Faculty.—William C. Joslin, A. M. (Brown University), President; Latin and Historical Studies, Mrs. Ellen K. Hooker, Lady Principal; Rhetoric and Literature, Edwin Grovener, (Amherst); Mathematics, Warren Parks (Tufts); Science, Nathan Beckwith (Union); Commercial Department, Agnes Hooker; French and English, Helen Loomis; Greek and German, Charlotte Barber; Elocution and Physical Training; Anna M. Whitwell, History and Civics; Minnie Dutcher, Stenography and Typewriting; Carl Bodell, Piano; Zada Lee, Piano; Ida Canfield, Vocal Music; Capt. Wm. Manning, 23 Infantry, U. S. A. Military Science and Tactics; Nellie Latimer, Librarian.

The value of the buildings and grounds is at least $125 000. The other property consists of the general endowment of $25,000, and the John Westover Scholarship Fund of $10,000. The income of the Scholarship Fund is used (1) for the benefit of students fitting for the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., and pursuing college preparatory studies; and (2) for the benefit of students of limited means who are not preparing for the ministry, but whose parents are Universalists.

Catalogues with full information can be had on application to the President, Fort Plain, N. Y.

DEAN ACADEMY.

This is a first-class Boarding and Day School for both sexes. It is situated in Franklin, Norfolk County, Mass., twenty-seven miles from Boston, on the line of the New York and New England Railroad, and directly in communication with all parts of the country.

The academy which was incorporated in 1865, and which derives its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, owns a magnificent school edifice, with various outbuildings, valued at $240,000. The building is lighted with gas and heated by steam. It has every modern improvement and convenience for the comfort of the pupils. It has also an endowment fund which lessens the cost of instruction.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—President, James M. Pullman, D. D., Lynn; Vice-President, Albert Dickerman, A. M., Boston; Treasurer, Charles J. McKenzie, Franklin; Secretary, H. I. McIntosh, A. B., Elocution; Charles P. Scott, professor of Instrumental Music; Mrs. Minnie Little, teacher of Vocal Music; Adra R. Mason, teacher of Drawing and Painting; Otis A. Skeele, director of Gymnasium.

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years. A preparat ry course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the regular courses. Special attention is given to fitting students for college.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of ornamental branches and washing per year, $225, divided as follows: First trem, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Ornamental branches, Drawing, Painting and Music, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., six miles from Montpelier, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted, and the method of daily lessons results in assured progress. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. Her work gives general satisfactton.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of nineteen hundred volumes.

A new gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The new Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $28.000 and will be materially increased by the bequests of the late Mrs. Almira Smith of Barre, and other gifts subject to life interest.

Expenses.—Board, $3.50 per week, including room-rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to about $175.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in Deering, Me., two and one-half miles from Portland.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and a Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been expended, and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The institution offers five courses of study. The English course, of three years' the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of these courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10 00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches and modern languages, for the full school year, vary from $155 to $170.

NECROLOGY.

The deaths of the following named preachers, nineteen in all, have occurred since November 5, 1896:

CHARLES ABRAHAM CLARK GARST, born in Clark County, Ohio, Sept. 8, 1864, died at Riverside, California, Nov. 13, 1896. His early and constant religious convictions were those of the home in which he was born and reared, Universalist; and his education was such as was afforded in the public schools of Illinois and at Lombard University, and he graduated from the Ryder Divinity School in 1889. Licensed to preach in January, 1887, he was ordained at Avon, Ill., Oct. 18, 1889, where, and at Table Grove he had his first pastorate. Subsequently he became the missionary pastor in Glasgow, Scotland, under the auspices of the Woman's Centenary Association, and remained abroad two years. Returning to this country, he took charge of the Ryder Memorial Church in Woodlawn, Chicago, but was soon compelled to resign his charge on account of a rapidly developing pulmonary difficulty. Health and strength being partly regained by several months' residence in New Mexico, he accepted a call to Riverside, Cal., and was successfully engaged in his work, until a new feature of his disease developed which speedily brought his mortal life to a close. He was well equipped for his work and had been eminently successful in it. Rev. Dr. White, one of his teachers in the Divinity School, says of him: "Bro. Garst possessed in large degree, the spirit of self-sacrifice. He was always ready to help others. It was that goodness in him which rises to the pitch of self-sacrifice which often conquered opposition and made the indifferent grow ashamed of useless and self-pleasing lives. In the words of another: 'He had the courage which dares and endures, the love which conquers selfishness and is ready to fling away life itself, if only others can thus be served and saved.' Without doubt his death was hastened by his unremitting labors, often performed under the trying conditions of bodily infirmity."

NICHOLAS VAUGHAN was born in Essex County, N. H., June 7, 1807, and at seven years of age, moved with his parents to Perry County, Ind., where with two other families, they formed the basis of what is now Cannelton, and where he continued to reside until his death Dec. 11, 1896 His granddaughter gives the information that "he and his family were Baptists and he often said that his childhood was clouded by his fear of a God such as the ministers of the past delighted to picture." Not until he was favored with listening to the preaching of the Rev. Edward B. Mann, an early Universalist minister in Indiana, were the clouds lifted. Then "like a burst of sunshine was the revelation of the new faith to him, and he began at once to read all that he could obtain on this subject." Mr. Vaughan's name first appears, as a new preacher, in the REGISTER for 1847, and sometime during that year he was ordained. He was never a settled pastor, but "preached in various places in the county and while on numerous flat boat expeditions down the Ohio and Mississippi, especially at Memphis, Tenn. He also did much for the cause in distributing Universalist periodicals and other literature. A wound on his head brought on epilepsy and the last years of his life were clouded by mental unsoundness. While himself, his faith in the goodness of God never wavered and his smiling face in his coffin, testified that all was well with him."

HARRISON CLOSSON, born at Northampton, Mass., July 23, 1828, died at Manchester, N. H., Jan. 23, 1897. He was fitted for college in the schools of his native town, and took the entire college course under a private tutor, a graduate of Oxford, England. At the age of fifteen, he became a member of the Edwards Congregational Church, in Northampton, and was for several years an active worker therein. He was ordained in the Universalist ministry, at Oxford, Mass., Sept. 8, 1854. His first settlement was at Cavendish, Vt., and his subsequent pastorates were at Gardner, Marblehead, Essex, Mass., and Middletown, Conn. He was an eloquent extempore preacher, and was a special favorite with the young people in his respective churches. Three young men were fitted for the ministry under his supervision. He is reported to have united in marriage more than 1,500 couples, and to have attended 2,600 funerals. In 1875 he represented Marblehead in the Massachusetts legislature. His last sickness forced him into retirement from pulpit service and he died of Uraemic poisoning.

ROBERT WOODEN, born in Chili, Monroe County, N. Y., died at Onsted, Mich., Jan. 29, 1897. His educational advantages in the schools, were meagre, but his fine native powers made him alert to learn from nature and from his observations of and experiences with men. He became a Universalist early in life and until infirmities crippled him he was zealous and earnest in the support and defence of his faith. At the age of thirty he began to preach, and was ordained in Michigan, —where he had made his home three years before,—in 1848. He was one of the pioneer preachers of Universalism in that state and for thirty years he preached regularly, at first wherever he could get a hearing and afterwards at stated places. In 1847, he organized a society and erected a church at Lambert-ville and ministered there four years. He afterwards preached at Wolf Creek, Newell, Somerset and Hudson. "He was glad to be known as a farmer preacher, ever ready to preach where there was no money to pay. His desire was to spread the joyful tidings. He was an earnest, faithful, good man, a good defender of our faith and thoroughly loyal to our church and its work."

W FRANKLIN SMITH, born at Dowagiac, Mich., died in the Sanitarium at Boulder, Col., Feb. 9, 1897. He received his fitting for University training in the High School at Chatham, Ontario, Canada and was a graduate of Lombard University, Galesburg, Ill. and was also a student in oratory at the Emerson College, Boston and at the Columbia School, Chicago. Before becoming a Universalist he preached one year in the Methodist connection, in Canada. He was ordained in Lapeer, Mich., Sept. 28, 1891. His pastorates were in Manchester, Iowa; Omaha, Neb.; Junction City, Kan.; and Whitewater, Wis. "He was in feeble health for many months before he gave up, and Colorado air and sunshine was the last resort, but as the event proved, unavailing. He has passed away in early youth, leaving his young wife and daughter to mourn their great bereavement."

WILLIAM AUGUSTUS START, born in Camden, Me., March 1, 1837, died in Boston, Mass., March 4, 1897. He received his fitting for college, at Westbrook Seminary and graduated from Tufts College in 1862. Before entering college he had set his mind on becoming a Christian minister and he therefore studied theology under the direction of Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou 2d, and was ordained in 1862. He soon after enlisted in the war for the preservation of the Union, and was commissioned Chaplain of the 58th Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry and served during the peninsular campaign. On leaving the army he took up pastoral duties and was in charge of churches at North Bridgewater, Marlboro, Mass.; New Haven, Conn.; North Cambridge and Melrose, Mass. In Cambridge he was several years secretary of the school board. Elected in 1872 Secretary of the Massachusetts Universalist Convention, he retained the position until 1893, with the exception of two years and showed great capacity as an organizer, executive officer and counsellor. He was also for many years clerk of the Publishing House Corporation and of the Bethany Home from its organization For about a year prior to his death he had been Bursar of Tufts College. He was also, at the time of his death, acting pastor of the parish in Mansfield, Mass. His death was the result of an explosion under the electric railway at the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, in Boston, and occurred as he was walking along on the sidewalk. He was instantly killed and so escaped suffering. Honored and respected by all for his uprightness and his goodness, a life lived wholly in consonance with what was right and holy, he leaves, what is above all price, a good name.

BARTON FYLER ROGERS born in Piermont, Grafton County, N. H., July 23, 1831, died at Fort Atkinson, Wis., March 4, 1897. Brought up on a farm and working in a factory winters and only a little while in school each year until he was eighteen, then for a brief time in an academy, he became a teacher in early manhood and followed that profession several years, even after he had determined that he would fit himself to become a preacher of the faith which he had always heard taught in his home. He preached his first sermon in 1856, and was ordained in 1858. He settled first at Fox Lake, Wis., and for four years travelled over several adjacent counties, preaching wherever he could find opportunity. At the close of the year 1862, he entered the Federal Army as Chaplain of the Fifteenth Illinois Volunteers. He was a faithful and consecrated chaplain, ever alert to render Christian service and braving all the dangers to which his regiment was exposed. "General Sherman gave him the name of the 'working chaplain,' and other chaplains envied him his faculty and power of gaining the regard of the soldiers; but whoever they were they loved him and learned of him. Mother Bickerdyke met him and loved him for his love of the boys; and entrusted to him her stores of treasures for their good. She never forgot him, and talked lovingly of him and his friends long after the cruel time was over. Vicksburg, Champion Hills, Atlanta, Rome, Hatchie, Kenesaw Mountain, these were some of the bloody spots that witnessed his toils and sacrifices and Angel ministries." When the war was over he came back to labor anew in his old fields and for twenty years he went in and out before the people, "a good man, full of the Holy Ghost and of faith." For several years he was the victim of creeping paralysis, suffering severely from the inroads, which it was impossible to stay of the disease which continually advanced towards the citadel of his life. Patiently he waited for his release and stronger grew his confident hope in immortality.

SAMUEL ARNIM DAVIS, born in Reading, Vt., March 11, 1816, died at Hartford, Conn., March 17, 1897. He was educated at Chester Academy in that state; preached his first sermon in 1833 and was ordained in June, 1834 and began his ministry in Pittsburg, Penn., where in 1836, associated with

Rev. M. A. Chappell, he began the publication of a small quarto paper, called The Glad Tidings and Ohio Universalist, published simultaneously, semi-monthly, at Pittsburg and Columbus, Ohio. With the beginning of vol. iii, the name was changed to The Glad Tidings and Ladies' Universalist Magazine, and was published weekly, at Akron, Ohio. At the close of vol. iv., it was merged in the Star in the West. In 1837, he was associated with Rev. Mr. Chappell in compiling The Western Universalist Hymn Book. which was published in Pittsburg. It was a small book (32 mo) of 192 pages and contained 220 well selected hymns. In 1839 he was pastor at Akron, Ohio, where he remained only a short time. After a year or so spent in travelling in that great state, he settled in Massachusetts, having pastorates at Hingham, Quincy and Sterling, and was subsequently at Bethel and South Woodstock, Vt. In 1862 he established his home in Hartford, Conn., and was for many years State Missionary, at the same time conducting the Connecticut department of The Gospel Banner. Early interested in anti slavery, Mr. Davis' home was for many years a station for the underground railroad, where many a fugitive slave found shelter and help. He was also greatly interested in the Temperance reform, and in every work which sought the good of the unfortunate. A long life crowned with usefulness was God's blessing on him.

LEE HOWARD FISHER, born at Charlotte. Me., Jan. 9, 1860, died at Cooperstown, N. Y., March 16, 1897. He was educated in the Charlotte district schools, later at the Eastport, Me., High school. Then after being for some time a teacher of district schools in Eastern Maine, he took a four years' course at Tufts Divinity School and was ordained at Portsmouth, N. H., where he had his first settlement, Nov. 4, 1886. He was also pastor at Monson, Mass., Cooperstown, N. Y., "and for a few months, while a confirmed invalid and in great bodily weakness, at Hubbardsville, N. Y. For more than three years idleness has been an imperative necessity, yet he preached, officiated at funerals, etc., whenever opportunity offered. He was a vigorous preacher with a vein of originality and a fine literary taste that made his discourse strong and interesting." Death came to him suddenly and gave him painless exit from all mortal troubles.

JOSIAH WARREN TALBOT, born in January, 1813, died in Norwood, Mass., March 26, 1897. He studied for the Christian ministry under the late Rev. Dr. Sylvanus Cobb, in 1835, and the late Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou, 2d, in 1836 and was ordained Nov. 2, 1836. His first settlement was in Holliston and Milford; and he also had pastorates in Hingham, Melrose, Peabody and East Boston, all in Massachusetts. He was also one of the founders of the parish in Norwood, and was prominent in the affairs of the town. Many years ago he was the first to introduce the taking of daguerreotypes in the county of Norfolk and on retiring from active business several years ago, he gave much attention to horticulture. "He was a zealous and helpful parishioner. He appreciated the pastor's peculiar difficulties and sought to assist and never to hinder the work of the church. He was a good man, loyal to 'the faith once delivered to the saints.'"

ELMER HEWITT, born in Pomfret, Vt., Sept. 15, 1805, died in South Weymouth, Mass., March 28, 1897. With the exception of the venerable Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer, nearly two years his senior, Mr. Hewitt was at the time of his death, the oldest minister in the Universalist Church. Born in a farming community and early inured to such toils as were incident to the circumstances of his birth, he developed a stalwart and healthy body which enabled him to do with ease the work of his life and lightened many of the burdens of advancing age. His educational advantages, although meagre, were well improved and for three winters, and afterwards during longer portions of the year, he was a successful school teacher. At the age of twenty-three he entered the home of his cousin, the late Rev. James H. Bugbee, then pastor of the Universalist Church at Plymouth, Mass., to prepare, under his guidance, for the Christian ministry, to which he was ordained at Plymouth, Sept. 2, 1829. His first settlement was in Hanson, Mass., where he had a long pastorate, during which he also travelled extensively and preached in many places in Plymouth County. The REGISTER for 1843 places him at Abington, Mass.; in 1846 back to Hanson, and so on until 1856, when he is located at South Weymouth. Here he had a long and prosperous pastorate, covering the eventful and trying days of the war, during which one of his sons died in a Confederate prison. Near the close of this pastorate he served the town as its representative in the State legislature. In 1870 he settled at Dover, N. H., where he remained two years and then went to Woodstock, Vt., where he preached seven years, and then returned to So. Weymouth, where his services were in demand all through the "Old Colony" and where he patiently bore the ills of increasing years and gladly, when the Father called him, went forth to greet his loved ones in the immortal life. He was eminently a good man, a faithful preacher and pastor. He rests from his labors and his works do follow him.

PAUL RAYMOND KENDALL, born in Phillipston, Mass., Aug. 27, 1822, died in Canton, N. Y., April 4, 1897. In early life he became interested in Universalism and education, and through his own efforts, obtained the means with which he was educated. He graduated from Norwich University, Vt., in 1847, and immediately took charge of an academy in Sharpsburg, Ky. In 1849 he was called to the principalship of the Western Liberal Institute, established in Marietta, Ohio, by the Universalists of that state. While here, in 1851 he was ordained to the Universalist ministry. He never held a pastorate, but used his ministerial office principally when presenting the claims of the educational work of the denomination. This Institute led to the establishment of a similar one by the Universalists of Illinois at Galesburg, called the Illinois Liberal Institute to the charge of which Prof. Kendall was invited in 1852. He soon conceived the idea of making the Institute a college which he did by raising the funds therefor, erecting a suitable building, and securing a college charter under the name of Lombard University, in honor of its greatest donor and in 1856 became its first president. He was an earnest patriot and on the breaking out of the civil war, entered into volunteer recruiting service, and raised several regiments for the army. In 1863 he was commissioned 1st Lieutenant and Quarter-master of the 12th Missouri Cavalry. In 1864, he was detached and assigned to Gen. Hatch's staff as Quarter-master of his division of the Army of Tennessee. At the close of the war he was ordered to Fort Leavenworth and there appointed recorder of a military commission which closed in 1866. In 1868 he resumed his former work in becoming principal of Clinton Liberal Institute in Central New York. In 1870 he was called to the presidency of Smithson College, an institution just founded at Logansport by the Universalists of Indiana, where he served four years. Returning to Clinton, N. Y., he effected the removal of the Institute from Clinton to Fort Plain, by agitating the subject, securing the necessary funds and obtaining the charter, afterwards serving as professor of mathematics in the Institute a year. This work accomplished, he gave up public life. In 1894 he was stricken with paralysis and taken to the home of his eldest daughter in Canton, New York, where after a second attack, three years later, he died. His remains were taken to Galesburg, Ill., for interment. Prof. Kendall was a man of great mental and physical energy, and this energy he put into all his life work. His students never failed to catch his spirit and get inspiration from his love and interest in his work. S. J. W.

THOMAS BALLINGER born in Logan county, Ohio, Dec. 21,

1817, died in Oskaloosa, Iowa, June 14, 1879. Reared and trained as a farmer, he shared the advantages of the common schools, supplemented by some private instruction. In early manhood he experienced a religious awakening and united with the Methodists. Subsequently he united with the Disciples and was for ten years a preacher in their connection. His name first appears in the REGISTER in 1852, when he was located at Oskaloosa. Subsequently he was at Bentonsport. Until within the last ten or twelve years he answered calls for pulpit services wherever desired throughout Central and Southeastern Iowa. "He was a social, whole-souled, genial and upright man. It might also be said that no one knew him except as a friend and hundreds trusted him as a brother. While many differed with him on religious subjects, there were none but honored his worth and thought kindly of his earnestness."

FENDINAND TEMPLE LATHE, born in Medbury, Mass., Aug. 11, 1849, died in Cadiz, Ind., June 15, 1897. He graduated at the Canton Theological School, June 26, 1884, and was ordained the same year. His settlements were at Washington, Vt. Logansport, Ind. and Hopkinsville, Ky. and at the time of his death, he was under engagement to take charge of the church at Brookston, Ind. "He was a quiet man and only when aroused with the magnitude of his subject, was his power fully realized." His last sickness was of brief duration and he passed calmly into the life immortal.

ELIHU CANADY, died at Windsor, Mo., June 16, 1897, aged 69 years. Mr. Canady had been a preacher of Universalism in Missouri about twenty-six years, although not ordained until Oct. 13, 1895, at La Monte, Ind. He "was not in charge of a parish, but preached as opportunity offered. He was a useful and consecrated laborer in the Missouri Vineyard, where his loss will be keenly felt."

GEORGE TRUESDALE FLANDERS, D.D., born in Vershire, Vt., June 28, 1820, died at Tryon, N. C., June 30, 1897. His early education was such as could be furnished by the common schools of his native place and an attendance at Newberry Seminary. He studied for the ministry under the direction of Rev. John Gregory and began to preach at the age of eighteen years. His ordination took place at Zanesville, Ohio, in 1843. His pastorates, according to the REGISTER, have been in this order: at Zanesville and Marietta, Ohio; St. Louis, Mo.; Dayton, Ohio; Baltimore, Md.; Cincinnati, Ohio; New York City; Nashua, N. H.; Chicago, Ill.; Lowell, New Bedford, Rockport, Pigeon Cove, Mass.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER 1899.

Extraordinary efforts have been made to have this issue of the REGISTER accurately represent the condition of our parishes and their auxiliaries and the location of our preachers, but at the time of going to press,—three weeks later than the time specified in the Circulars sent out to preachers and to clerks of parishes,—Four Hundred and Seventy-four have not been returned. Of this number Three Hundred and Forty-six were sent to preachers. The non-reporting preachers and clerks are distributed in the following named States: Alabama 2, California 5, Ontario, Canada 5, Colorado 2, Connecticut 1, Florida 1, Georgia 8, Illinois 30, Indiana 19, Iowa 14, Kansas 9, Kentucky 10, Maine 51, Massachusetts 46, Michigan 11, Minnesota 8, Mississippi 4, Missouri 12, Nebraska 4, New Hampshire 15, New Jersey 4, New York 64, North Carolina 4, Ohio 38, Oregon 2, Pennsylvania 10, Texas 20, Vermont 27, Washington 2, Wisconsin 9. This has necessitated, to a great extent, the use of the representations made in the REGISTER for 1898, and as many of these are repetitions of several former years, a long time having elapsed since fresh returns were made by several, the presumption is that inaccuracies are not few. Aid has been freely given by Rev. Dr. Demarest, Secretary of the General Convention; by Rev. A. J. Cardall, Secretary of the National Y. P. C. U.; and by others; and, as to Massachusetts statistics, by the Report made to the recent session of that State Convention, by its Secretary, and thus an attempt has been made to minimize the errors due to the indifference of those who have made no response to the call for information. Our ideal is a perfect record and we are grateful to those who have tried to help us realize it, and sorry that so many have made its realization impossible at the present time.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1899.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organization of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1899—will be held in Columbus Avenue Church, Boston, Mass., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, A. J. Canfield, D.D. The convention is composed of the Presidents (or in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention as reported at the Convention Conferences, 1898, aggregate $291,855.27, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $130,294.53. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the payment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $57,183.45, and the income is appropriated to loans to students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884, on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $14,492.31.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $14,358.60.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purpose of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the Fund amounts to $9,260.

VI. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VII. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund. $14,000.

VIII. William H. Ryder Fund. $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

IX. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $11,000 to the Convention as the beginning of a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of the remainder to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder.

X. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

XI. Guaranty Fund. $573.05.

XII. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,429.85.

XIII. Foreign Missions Fund, the gift of Lucian Blackmer, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo. $2,000

XIV. The Clarissa L. Crane Fund, the gift of Clarissa L. Crane, late of Stamford, Conn., "to be used and applied by the Trustees of the Convention to the general uses and purposes of the corporation." $3,000.

XV. The W. J. Bartlett Fund, the gift of Mrs. Nancy Bartlett, late of Milford, Mass. $6,463.48.

The appropriations for the Convention year 1898–'99 are whatever income from any source may be deemed best by the Trustees.

The board of Trustees have been authorized and directed "to provide for two or more Universalist Church Conferences, to be held at central locations, in the years intervening between the regular sessions of the Convention, not for ecclesiastical, legislative or financial work, but for the purpose of considering important questions relating to religion, morals and education."

Such Conferences were held in October, 1898, in Roxbury, Mass.; New York, N. Y.; Akron, Ohio; and Chickamauga, Ga.

The officers of the Convention are:—

President—Charles L. Hutchinson, Chicago, Ill.

Vice-President—I. M. Atwood, D.D., Canton, N. Y.

THE UNIVERSALIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY. This Society was organized in 1834, for the collection of facts, books and papers pertaining to the history and condition of Universalism. The Society is incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts. It has a library of about four thousand volumes, besides important manuscripts and papers. This library has been of great help in tracing the history and fortunes of our distinguishing faith in other countries and times. Donations of books and money are earnestly solicited, that the library may be rendered as complete as possible, and its usefulness augmented. President—Richard Eddy, D.D., Chatham, Mass.; Vice-President—Hon. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. I.; Secretary and Librarian—T. J. Sawyer, D.D., Tufts College, Mass; Treasurer—G. L. Demarest, Manchester, N. H.; Trustee—Hon. Newton Talbot, Boston, Mass.

STATISTICS.

As in last years' REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place firs' all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes according to post office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicate that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicates the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, from clerks of parishes not regularly supplied with preaching, and from official reports of State Convention Secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources the figures of the last reported year are used.

Finances.—The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than $1,600,000.

Scholarships.—There are upwards of forty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. All the courses are four-year courses but provision is given to students to complete them in less with superior work. A part of the studies for the junior and senior class are elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston, on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges, $100. Board in club, at cost, about $3 per week.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the departments of Tufts College, the general advantages of which are enjoyed by all its members in common. The College Library, the Museum of Natural History, the Gymnasium, are open to all. Courses of study and lectures in the College of Letters are open to the Divinity students, subject, however, to the discretion of the Faculty. The graduates of the Divinity School in common with the graduates of the other departments are enrolled in the Quinquennial Catalogue of the college, and are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association of Tufts College.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., president in charge of Political Economy; Charles H. Leonard, D.D., Dean, Goddard professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; Thomas J. Sawyer, D.D., Packard Professor of Christian Theology, Emeritus; William G. Tousey, A.M., B.D., professor of Ethics and Philosophy of Theism; George T. Knight, D.D., secretary, professor of Church History, also in charge of Systematic Theology; George M. Harmon, A.M., B.D., professor of Biblical Theology; David L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of Oratory; Warren S. Woodbridge, A.M., B.D., Woodbridge professor of Applied Christianity. Non-resident lecturers, E. C. Bolles, D.D., H. W. Rugg, D.D., Rev. W. H. Dearborn, Rev. F. O. Hall.

Requirements for Admission.—Candidates unknown to the Faculty must bring satisfactory testimonials of good character. They must believe in the Christian religion, and have a sincere purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. It is expected that they will present themselves on the day preceding the first day of the academic year.

Bachelors of Arts are admitted to a three-years' course, without examination, to be candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Candidates for this degree who are not Bachelors of Arts are required to take a three-years' course, and to well sustain an examination on average passages from the Latin of Cæsar, Cicero, and Virgil; and on average passages from the Greek of Xenophon, Homer, and the Gospels. Ability to read simple prose in French or German, and to write in French or German a paragraph upon an assigned subject, is accepted as an alternative for the requirement in Latin. They are also required to pass a satisfactory examination in Greek, Roman, English, and American History; in Rhetoric; in English Literature and in English Grammar and Composition, in which the requirement is as follows:—

English Grammar and Composition.—Spelling, punctuation, structure of sentences, correct use of words, clearness of expression.

The examination will consist (1) in criticising specimens of incorrect English; (2) in writing a short composition on a subject assigned. Subjects for composition will be drawn from the following standard works in English literature. All the books named for the given year are to be read, and from two or three of them subjects will be assigned at the time of examination.

For 1899.—Dryden's Palamon and Arcite; Pope's Iliad, Books I., VI., XXII., and XXIV.; The Sir Roger de Coverly Papers in The Spectator; Goldsmith's The Vicar of Wakefield; Coleridge's The Ancient Mariner; De Quincey's The Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Cooper's The Last of the Mohicans; Lowell's The Vision of Sir Launfal; Hawthorne's The House of Seven Gables.

Those whose age or circumstances forbid so extensive preparation, are admitted to the privileges of the school, to take such studies in the regular classes as are suited to their attainments and needs. It is recognized that earnest and capable men aspire to the Christian Ministry, who are not able to make the formal preparation required of those who enter to be candidates for the degree.

Applicants from other theological institutions whose course of study is the equivalent of that pursued in this institution, will be received ad eundem.

EXPENSES AND PECUNIARY AID.

Beginning with the college year 1897–98, students in the Divinity School will be charged one hundred dollars annually for tuition. This charge will include the privilege of occupying a room in Paige Hall, and provision for heating and caring for it. A remission of one-half of this amount may be made by the Executive Committee of the Trustees to students who cannot be accommodated in Paige Hall or who live at home. The necessary expenses for board, washing, gas, gymnasium charges do not exceed two hundred dollars a year. The General Convention of Universalists aids students who are commended by the Faculty, by a gift of one hundred and twenty-five dollars a year; and the Faculty of the Divinity School is authorized to assign scholarships to those whose circumstances require it. Those students, also, who are in the regular course are permitted to preach, under the direction of the Faculty, during the year and a half preceding their graduation. In this way they may add to their pecuniary resources.

Admission.—Applicants must be of good moral character, and unless they have previously matriculated in some accredited medical college or are graduates of some reputable college, high, or normal school, or of an institution of a similar grade, must pass an examination upon the branches of an English education, including Mathematics, Composition, and Elementary Physics.

Graduation.—Candidates must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine four full years, attended four courses of medical lectures, the last at this college, dissected one full course and passed all the required examinations. Graduates of other medical colleges in good standing, can obtain the degree by attending one full course of lectures and passing the examinations of the senior year. It is understood that attendance upon a course of lectures requires actual presence at a majority of the exercises of each term.

For information inquire of Charles P. Thayer, M.D., 74 Boylston [illegible] Boston, Mass.

ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.

St. Lawrence University, founded in 1856, is located at Canton, St. Lawrence County, N. Y. It comprises two departments: The College of Letters and Science, and the Canton Theological School. These departments are independent in their faculties, funds and government. Men and women are admitted to both departments. The University confers no degrees on a course of study of less than four years. The courses are full, the instruction thorough, and the mental training practical and efficient.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—Hon. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—E. A. Merritt, R. E. Waterman, I. M. Atwood, L. P. Hale, G. S. Conkey, J. C. Lee.

HERRING LIBRARY.—Librarians, Henry Prentiss Forbes, D.D., Robert Dale Ford, M.S. The library, founded by the late Silas C. Herring, and embracing about ten thousand volumes, is contained in Herring Library Hall.

1. THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE.—Courses The College of Letters and Science offers five courses, leading to the degrees of B.A., B.S., and Ph.B. The last three years of each course are largely elective.

Faculty.—John Clarence Lee, Ph.D., S.T.D., president and professor of English; Absalom Graves Gaines, D.D., LL.D., Craig professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and of Political Economy; Henri Hermann Liotard, M.A., professor of French and German; Henry Priest, M.A., dean, and Hayward professor of Physics and Chemistry; George Robert Hardie, M.A., recorder, and professor of Latin; Robert Dale Ford, M.S., professor of Mathematics; Frederick C. Foster, M.A., professor of Greek and History; George L. Kimball, instructor in Physical Culture; ——— ——— Cummings professor of Natural Science; ——— ——— Chapin professor of Geology and Mineralogy.

Calendar.—The college year is divided into two terms. The second term will begin Feb. 18, 1899. Tree holiday, April 28. Commencement, June 28. The first term of the succeeding year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 19, 1899.

Expenses.—Tuition, fifty dollars a year. Board, from $3.00 to $4.00 per week. Eighteen free scholarships.

2. THE CANTON THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.—Courses of Study.—The regular course of instruction, for Diploma, covers three years. For the degree of B.D., four years. These courses include the departments of Ethics, History, Theology, Comparative Religion, Homiletics, Apologetics, Church Administration, Psychology, Sociology, and Interpretation and Criticism. Students so situated as to require it may enter for a shorter term than the regular course, and will be entitled to a certificate stating their attainments.

Conditions of Admission.—The students particularly desired are those who give promise of usefulness in the ministry of the Universalist Church. The best preliminary preparation is a classical course in college. Students whose opportunities have not admitted of such preparation are received if they possess a High School or equivalent education in English. Sound moral principle and approved Christian standing are indispensable.

Lectures.—Courses of lectures on preaching and pastoral work are given each year by eminent clergymen,—Universalist and other.

Faculty.—I. M. Atwood, D.D., president and professor of Theology and Ethics; J. S. Lee, D.D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology; H. P. Forbes, D.D., professor of Biblical Languages and Literature; Rev. Lewis Beals Fisher, Ryder professor of Preaching and Pastoral Theology; Rev. F. W. Betts, lecturer on the Church and the Ministry.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856. It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3.00 a week; in the village, $3.50. Students may obtain assistance from the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $125 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar.—First term closes Jan. 20, 1899. Second term opens Feb. 18. Commencement, June 27, 1899. Fall term begins Wednesday, Sept. 29, 1899.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY.

Lombard University is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-three classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 846. As organized at present, the University embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The University year begins the first Tuesday in September, and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Twenty-one credits are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitations or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 153 courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of forty full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the twenty-one credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Highest grade instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel painting and china painting.

Faculty of Lombard University.—Charles Ellwood Nash, A.M., D.D. (Lombard) (Tufts), president; Isaac A. Parker, Ph.D. (Buchtel), professor of Greek; N. White, Ph.D., D.D. (St. Lawrence) (Tufts), in charge of Ryder Divinity School; Frederick W. Rich, B.S. (Cornell), professor of Natural Sciences; Philip G. Wright, A.M. (Harvard), professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Jon. W. Grubb, M S. (Lombard), professor of Latin; Eben H. Chapin, A.M., B.D. (Lombard) (Tufts), professor of Applied Christianity and Pastoral Theology; Frank H. Fowler, A.M., Ph.D. (Lombard) (University of Chicago), professor of English; Frederick M. Lillebridge, professor of German, and director of School of Music; Joseph A. Provost, professor of French; Maude A. Miner, instructor in Elocution and Dramatic Art; Isabelle Blood, instructor in Fine Arts, Drawing and Painting; Helen Carleton Marsh, instructor in Voice Culture; Emily Augusta Hadley, principal in Charge of Ladies' Hall; non-resident lecturers, M. D. Shutter, D.D., Rodney F. Johonnot, D.D., Capt. T. L. McGin.

Board of Trustees.—Hon. Samuel Kerr, Chicago, President; Charles A. Webster, Galesburg, Treasurer; Lake W. Sanborn, C. E. Nash, D.D., J. D. Welsh, Albert Webster, W. W. Washburn, Robert Chappell, Hon. Howard Knowles, Mary Claycomb Grubb, J. N. Conger, George B. Stocking, D.D., Galesburg; Almon Kidder, Monmouth, Ill.; Lyman Mc. Carl, Quincy, Ill.; J. B. Harsh, Creston, Iowa; M. D. Shutter, D D., Minneapolis; A. J. Canfield, D.D., Chicago; A. B. Tompkins, Avon; James L. Lombard, Kansas City; Charles Styer, Indianapolis; Mrs. E. P. Townsend, Sycamore, Ill.; Amos Crum, D.D., Webster City, Iowa; George Tapper, Chicago; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis; Hon. Hamilton L. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove, Ill.

Gymnasium and Ladies' Hall.—The Gymnasium, completed in 1897, is one of the handsomest, completest, and best appointed buildings for the purpose in the West. Physical education is made a specialty. The new Ladies' Hall, completed in 1896, is also a thoroughly modern and well-equipped building, which offers the advantages of a refined home under maternal oversight.

Expenses.—Tuition fees are low, being $3.50 per term for each full course, proportionate for fractional courses and for studies in the Preparatory School. Board in Ladies' Hall, with heat (steam) and light (gas), $3.50 to $4.25 per week. In private families, from $3.50 a week upwards. Self-boarding at a minimum cost encouraged.

The Ryder Divinity School.—The Divinity School of Lombard University was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the University the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the University exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

Tuition in the Divinity School is free to those studying for the Christian ministry. Admission requirements will be explained on request.

Catalogues sent on application to C. Ellwood Nash, D.D., President, Galesburg, Ill.

BUCHTEL COLLEGE.

This institution is situated in the city of Akron, Summit County, Ohio. It was founded by the Universalist State Convention of Ohio, and was named in honor of John R. Buchtel, its most liberal benefactor. It was opened to students of both sexes Sept. 11, 1872.

Board of Trustees.—President, Hon. George W. Crouse, Akron; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles R. Olin, Akron; Judge Newell D. Tibballs, Akron; Rev. Andrew Willson, Ravenna; Rev. Henrietta G. Moore, Springfield; Arthur A. Stearns, Cleveland; George L. Case, Cleveland; Alexander W. Maynes, Akron; D. Irving Badger, Akron; William T. Sawyer, Akron; Ferdinand Schumacher, Chicago, Ill.; Hon. I. N. Hathaway, Chardon; Judge U. L. Marvin, Akron; Rev. C. F. Henry, Cleveland; Samuel L. Thompson, Brink Haven; Johnson A. Arbogast, Akron; Eberly D. Smith, Blanchester; Hon. A. B. Griffin, Norwalk.

There are three four-years' courses of study—the classical, the philosophical, and the scientific. There is also a preparatory course for each of these courses.

Faculty.—Ira Allen Priest, D.D., president; Charles M. Knight, A.M., Buchtel professor of Physics and Chemistry; Carl F. Kolbe, A.M., Hilton professor of Modern Languages; Charles C. Bates, A.M., professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature; S. P. Orth, B.S., professor in Natural Science; Hermas V. Egbert, A.M., Ainsworth professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Maria Parsons, A.M., Pierce professor of English Literature, and instructor in Logic and English History; L. Elmie Warner, Ph.B., instructor in Elocution and Reading; Oscar E. Olin, principal of Preparatory Department, and teacher of English and School Management; Arabella M. Armstrong, Ph.B., teacher of Latin; Charles R. Olin, B.S., teacher of Mathematics; Minnie C. Fuller, teacher of Painting and Drawing; Edith M. Mallison, B.S., assistant in Physical Science Department; Estelle Musson, teacher of Piano; Edward H. Douglass, teacher of Vocal Music.

Expenses.—The necessary yearly expenses of students range from $150 to $200. Board in clubs at cost. There are fifty perpetual scholarships, each of $1,000, yielding an annual income of $60. These are intended to aid worthy and deserving students. Number of students season of 1896-97, 178.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE AND MILITARY ACADEMY.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding students. The Institute spares its lady students the necessity of climbing stairs; a hydraulic elevator for their exclusive use was provided in 1888, at an expense of nearly $2,500.

Competent judges have pronounced the buildings the finest of their kind in the state. Recent improvements include the Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the new water works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured.

The Cadets' Gymnasium, erected ten years ago, is a two-story brick structure 70x450 feet, with four bowling alleys and the usual gymnasium apparatus.

The Girls' Gymnasium is a room 50 feet long, opening from the chapel. Here, under an efficient instructor, the girls are taught the most important parts of the Swedish system of gymnastics.

The Institute aims to furnish advantages of the very highest order at the least cost to students. All the departments of academic training are in charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the Department of Modern Languages, students may acquire a speaking mastery of German and French. Piano music is in charge of Prof. Westeine, a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music at Berlin. The second piano assistant is Miss Zada Lee, one of Prof. Bedell's graduates, and a teacher of experience. Miss Elizabeth Ballou is at the head of the Vocal School. She is a teacher of high standing. The course in elocution is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this branch.

The course in the Porter School of Business Training is one of the best of the kind offered anywhere. Common English receives particular attention, and is well articulated with the excellent course in the higher English branches. Students are prepared for any college. Excellent courses in Literature, Science and History.

Besides a preparatory year in common English, the school provides seven regular courses, viz: The College Preparatory, four years; the Scientific, four years; the English, four years; the Business, two years; the Literary and Musical, three years; Piano, three years; Vocal, three years; Elocution, two years. These will be found outlined in the school catalogue.

The Boys' Department is on a military basis. The commandant of cadets is an officer of the U. S. Army. Rifles, cannon, and ammunition are supplied by the War Department. The armory, with clear floor space 150x82 feet, is one of the largest school armories in the United States.

Expense for board, tuition, church sitting, furnished room and washing, from $276 to $300. Reduced rates to children of clergymen.

The school is situated in one of the most delightful and healthful portions of the Mohawk Valley, about midway between Albany and Utica, on the New York Central and West Shore Railroads. Twelve passenger trains from the East and twelve from the West stop at Fort Plain daily.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—William J. Tingue, Port Chester, President; Rev. Daniel Ballou, Utica, Secretary; Lester M. Weller, Esq., Fort Plain, Treasurer; Edwin W. Wood, Fort Plain; Asa Saxe, D.D., Albany; W. T. Pettingill, Holley; Alexander Martin, North Bloomfield; S. W. Thompson, Salisbury; Abram Devendorf, Fort Plain; Daniel I. Devoe, Fort Plain; Cortland Wilber, Esq., Binghamton.

Faculty.—William C. Joslin (Brown), principal, and Latin and Historical Studies; Elizabeth Flanders (Radcliffe), Rhetoric and English Literature; Edwin P. Grosvenor, A.B. (Amherst), Mathematics; Warren S. Parks, A.B. (Tufts), Science; Alpheus B. Reynolds, A.B. (Colgate), Latin and Greek; Charles M. Guldner (Rochester Business College), Commercial Department; Daisy McNaughten, French and German; Anna M. Whitwell, English and History; Rudolph Westeine (Berlin), Piano and Harmony; Elizabeth M. Ballou, Vocal Music; Zada Lee, Piano; Charlotte Barber, Elocution; Charles M. Guldner, Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Commercial Arithmetic, Penmanship; Minnie Dutcher, Phonography and Typewriting; Anna M. Whitwell, Civics and Economics; Col. Edward H. Baker, Military Science and Tactics; Nellie Latimer, Librarian; Ten Eyck C. Parshall, Engineer and Curator.

The value of the buildings and grounds is at least $125,000. The other property consists of the general endowment of $25,000, and the John Westover Scholarship Fund of $10,000. The income of the Scholarship Fund is used (1) for the benefit of students fitting for the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., and pursuing college preparatory studies; and (2) for the benefit of students of limited means who are not preparing for the ministry, but whose parents are Universalists.

Catalogues with full information can be had on application to the President, Fort Plain, N. Y.

DEAN ACADEMY.

This is a first-class Boarding and Day School for both sexes. It is situated in Franklin, Norfolk County, Mass., twenty-seven miles from Boston, on the line of the New York and New England Railroad, and directly in communication with all parts of the country.

The Academy, which was incorporated in 1865, and which derives its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, owns a magnificent school edifice. with various outbuildings, valued at $240,000. The building is lighted with gas and heated by steam. It has every modern improvement and convenience for the comfort of the pupils. It has also an endowment fund which lessens the cost of instruction. A large and commodious gymnasium provides ample facilities for physical culture.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—President, James M. Pullman, D.D., Lynn; Vice-President, Albert Dickerman, A.M., Boston; Treasurer, Charles J. McKenzie, Franklin; Secretary, H. I. Cushman, D.D., Providence, R. I.; Latimer W. Ballou, LL.D., Woonsocket, R. I.; Augustus Harrington, Peabody; A. J. Patterson, D D., Roxbury; Hon. Joseph G. Ray, Franklin; E. H. Capen, D.D., President Tufts College; Charles Whittier. Roxbury; David Cummings, Boston; Benjamin B. Whittemore, Boston; Almon Gunnison, D.D., Worcester; Chester B. Smith, Woonsocket, R. I.; Bernard Merriam, Framingham; Rev. W. F. Potter, New Bedford; E. I. Comins, Worcester; Hon. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. I.; S. F. Woodbridge, North Cambridge; George L. Perin, D.D., Boston; J. C. Gallison, M.D., Franklin; George W. Wiggin, Franklin.

Board of Instruction—Arthur W. Peirce, A.B., principal, Chase professor of Latin; Howard R. Burrington, A.M., associate principal, Goddard professor of Mathematics; Charles S. Flanders, A.M., professor of Science; Louis Arnold, A.B., Greek and French; Miss Sara A. Hamlin, preceptress, teacher of Literature and History; Cora F. Adams, teacher of German and English; Emily L. M. McIntosh, A.B., Elocution; Charles P. Scott, professor of Instrumental Music; Mrs. Minnie Little, teacher of Vocal Music; Adra R. Mason, teacher of Drawing and Painting; J. H. A. Smith, director of Gymnasium.

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years. A preparatory course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the regular courses. Special attention is given to fitting students for college.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of ornamental branches and washing per year, $225, divided as follows: First term, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Ornamental branches, Drawing, Painting and Music, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The Seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., six miles from Montpelier, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-three hundred volumes.

A new gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The new Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $45,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

Expenses.—Board, $3 50 per week, including room rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to about $175.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—W. R. Shipman, D.D., Tufts College, Mass.; Rev. S. A. Parker, Bethel; Charles Templeton, Barre; Hon. R. S. Taft, Burlington; Hon. A. T. Foster, Derby Line; Hon. WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in Deering, Me., two and one-half miles from Portland.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and a Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been expended and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The institution offers five courses of study. The English course, of three years, the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of these courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches and modern languages, for the full school year, vary from $155 to $170

NECROLOGY.

The deaths of the following named preachers, twenty-one in all, have occurred since November, 1897:

OLIVER GORDON WOODBURY, born in Salem, N. H., Nov. 1, 1820, died at the same place, Dec. 14, 1897. He fitted for the ministry under the direction of Rev. S. P. Skinner; began preaching in Boston and had his first pastorate in Barnstable, Mass. He was ordained at Hyannis, Mass., March 4, 1846. His subsequent pastorates were in Hartland, Vt., Westmoreland and Chesterfield, N. H. For the last fifteen years his health had not permitted him to preach. Greatly interested in education, he had been superintendent of schools in Hartland, Vt., and in Westmoreland, Chesterfield and Salem, N. H. He was also one year a Representative in the New Hampshire Legislature. Though called to suffer intense and protracted pain in his last sickness,—cancer in the throat,—"his faith was strong and by it he was triumphantly sustained. No word of complaint was heard, but he was patiently submissive to his Father's will and often said, 'It is all right.' He was ever mindful of others and most tenderly devoted to his family."

GILBERT W. BARNES, born in East Chester, N. Y., in 1819, died in Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1897. Limited in his educational advantages by being early deprived of his parents by death, he wisely employed the little leisure given him after the hours of business in reading and study, and thus laid a good foundation for a work long dear to his heart, but into which it was not possible for him to enter until he had passed his sixtieth year. Brought up in a Methodist home, his reading opened his mind to more liberal and larger views of theology and he became a Universalist in early manhood. Although business was distasteful to him from the first, he continued in it with financial success many years, but at last gave it up and was ordained to the work of the ministry, in Barre, Vt., Aug. 25, 1881. His first settlement was at White River Junction, in that State, and his subsequent pastorates were at Gaysville, Vt., Greenpoint, N. Y., Good Luck and Waretown, N. J., and Westfield, Pa. It was his request, which was sacredly heeded, that he be buried near the grave of Thomas Potter, the early friend of Rev. John Murray. "He was ready to go and longed to be at rest. Death had no terrors to him, but was a blessed portal to reunion with the dear ones gone before. He died in the faith which had been his joy all his life and our Church is the poorer by one devoted and faithful minister."

HENRY LAURENS HAYWARD, born at Rutland, Jefferson Co., N. Y., July 5, 1815, died at Longmont, Col., Dec. 26, 1897. He was educated in the District School, and becoming a teacher at the early age of sixteen years, continued in that vocation eight years, when he was ordained to the Universalist ministry, at the annual session of the Black River Association, at Henderson, Jefferson Co., N. Y., June 17, 1841. His first settlement was in Champion, N. Y., and subsequent pastorates were in Dexter, Homer, Auburn, Scipio, Fort Plain, Fairport, Genoa, N. Y.; Farmington, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Springfield, Ill.; Clarendon, N. Y.; Tecumseh, Mich.; Rochester, Minn.; Longmont, Col. Resigning the last named charge in 1882, he gave himself to newspaper work as editor of the Longmont Ledger, during the remainder of his stay on earth. He had been the victim of ill-health for many years and many of his removals from place to place were made in the hope of thus improving his physical condition. All who knew him during the early and most active period of his ministry, remember him as a useful minister, loving his work and an acceptable preacher wherever he went. Educated a Presbyterian and becoming a member of that church at a very early age, he accepted Universalism when it was brought to his notice and he had tested its proofs, as "glad tidings of great joy" to his anxious heart. "He was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit."

BENJAMIN VARNEY STEVENSON, born in Boston, Mass., in 1815, died at Ware, Mass., Jan. 11, 1898. He was educated in the public schools of Boston and was the recipient of the "Franklin Medal," bestowed for "general scholarship." A bookbinder by trade, he was persuaded in his early manhood to fit himself for the ministry and studied under the direction of Hosea Ballou, 2d, D.D. He was ordained at Boston, June 9, 1844, and had his first pastorate at Barre, Mass. Subsequent settlements were at Hingham, New Bedford, Chicopee, Shelburne Falls, Southbridge and Sturbridge, and at Ware and Hardwick, all in Massachusetts. He made a long and honorable record as "a good minister of the Lord Jesus Christ."

BEN WALLACE JONES, born at Dubuque, Iowa, June 11, 1867, died at Barre, Vt., Jan. 19, 1898. He was educated in the public schools of his native city and after clerking in a dry goods store several years, entered the Ryder Divinity School, Lombard University, in the fall of 1888, from which he graduated in 1892. During his last two years in the school he preached at Leroy, Ill., and Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. He was ordained at Dubuque, June 28, 1892, and had his first pastorate at Waterloo, Iowa. In March, 1894, he settled at Barre, Vt. Having a scholarly cast of mind he studied carefully every subject in which he became interested, and constantly grew in wisdom. His pastorates were eminently successful and his death is greatly deplored. But "he was confident that it was the Heavenly Father's will that he should leave this field for a higher service. Feeling thus, he made that Father's will his own, accepting it as a faithful soldier under orders, not grudgingly, but gratefully, rejoicing in 'the beautiful faith,' as he called it over and over again, and attesting to those about him the power of the faith that he preached to support the soul in the hour of dissolution."

ABNER VEDDER, born in Fowler, N. Y., July 30, 1826, died in the home of his daughter, at Bentonville, Ark., March 11, 1898. His early educational advantages were limited to what the District School could afford him in the winter months, farm work demanding all his time in the spring, summer and fall. He was fortunate, however, in having as his teacher in theology and in the work of the Christian minister, that able and devoted son of God, Rev. Nathaniel Stacy, "an Israelite indeed, in whom was no guile." As the publisher of Mr. Stacy's Autobiography, Mr. Vedder had many opportunities of both theory and practice, covering several years of close intimacy, with his teacher. He was ordained at McHenry, Ill., June 28, 1855, and was active in the ministry as long as his health would permit. After brief pastorates at McHenry and at Markesaw, Wis., he made his home for fourteen years near Berlin, Wis., and itinerated in the adjacent counties, viz.: Green Lake, Columbia, Waushara and Marquette. In 1869 he became Financial Agent for the Jefferson Liberal Institute, and in 1871, hoping to improve his health thereby, he went into mercantile business in St. Albans, Vt.; and two years later, with the same object in view, he engaged in farming in Alden, Minn., and while thus employed he preached as occasion offered at Albert Lea and other places. In 1877 he went to Iowa, to become Financial Agent for Mitchell Seminary, and three years later he became State Missionary for Iowa. In 1881 he was in the missionary field in Wisconsin and became pastor at Markesaw in that State, in 1881, and from there he went to Veroqua, thence to Waupacca and Portage Counties, and then, until 1893, he did missionary work in various parts of Wisconsin, when he gave up regular work. The cause of Temperance lay very near his heart and for it he performed a vast amount of labor. He suffered long from a complication of physical troubles from which death alone could give him release. He was a faithful minister and was warmly welcomed to many homes.

GEORGE HOMER EMERSON, D.D., born in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 3, 1822, died in Salem, Mass., March 24, 1898. His early educational advantages in the schools were limited, but he was a quick and accurate observer of human nature and marked out for himself a line of study of books that resulted in his becoming one of the best informed men of his time. The religious atmosphere of the home of his childhood was permeated with the most rigid Baptist ideas, but whatever impression these made on his mind was easily dissipated when, as a young clerk in a hardware store in Lowell, Mass., he began to attend on the preaching of Rev. Abel C. Thomas, then pastor of one of the Universalist churches in that new and stirring town. He was soon converted to Universalism and was persuaded by his pastor that he ought to prepare for the ministry. His special studies were under the direction of Mr. Thomas. He was ordained at Laporte, Ohio, in the summer of 1843. With his residence first in Cleveland and afterwards at Dayton, he preached in various parts of Ohio and Kentucky, until 1849, when he moved to Massachusetts. While in Ohio he edited, in 1845, the Ohio Universalist and Literary Companion, which was, in 1846, merged in the Western Evangelist, published in Buffalo, N. Y.

As the agent of the "Massachusetts Universalist Home Missionary Society," he preached in various parts of that State, organizing, and being for several years pastor of, the church in Somerville, where for nine years he was also Superintendent of the Public Schools. From 1858 to 1864 he edited the Universalist Quarterly. From November, 1862, to May, 1864, he was associated with Sylvanus Cobb, D.D., in editing The Trumpet and Christian Freeman. The name of the paper was changed to The Universalist, in 1864, and Dr. Emerson was sole editor until 1867, when he moved to New York, where he edited the Christian Leader until 1872. At the same time he was pastor at Huntington. Returning to Boston in April, 1872, he resumed his connection with The Universalist and was its editor, under its various names of The Universalist, The Christian Leader, and The Universalist Leader, until his death. He also wrote the following books: "Memoir of Ebenezer Fisher, D.D.," 1880; "The Doctrine of Probation Examined," 1883; "The Bible and Modern Thought," 1890; "Life of Alonzo Ames Miner, S.T.D., LL.D.," 1896. His contributions to the pages of the Quarterly were numerous during a period of thirty-five years. He was also in great request at Conventions and other church gatherings where his addresses were always instructive and entertaining. His acquaintance with Universalist preachers and laymen was doubtless larger than that of any other man among us and he enjoyed the friendship and esteem of many eminent men and women in other churches and in all walks of life. In recognition of his eminent abilities St. Lawrence University conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, in 1871. His reading was varied and what he read he mastered, being equally at home in history, philosophy, poetry, science, humanitarian and theological themes. And he had no superior in imparting a knowledge of these to others.

His last sickness was of nine weeks' duration, during which he was gentle, patient and hopeful. Happy in his home, strong in his friendships, devout in spirit, his life was rich in blessings to others.

JESSE CLIFFORD DICKERSON, born at Altamont, Mich., Nov. 11, 1867, died at the same place, April 1, 1898. A printer by trade, he followed the advice of his pastor, Rev. Lee S. McCollester, of Detroit, to prepare himself for the Christian ministry by a course of study and training at Tufts Divinity School, from which he graduated in the summer of 1896, and was ordained Oct. 7, of that year, at Amherst, Mass. During his student course he acceptably supplied at Hingham, Mass., and on his graduating he settled at Amherst, Mass., from whence he went to take charge at Fryeburg and Bar Mills, Me. A severe cold contracted in October, 1897, developed into a serious pulmonary difficulty and on the first of January he returned to his native place, where he received the loving care of his devoted mother. "Many will mourn the loss of this promising young life, but how much richer seems the world because he passed this way."

ROLLA GILMORE SPAFFORD, born in Braintree, Vt., May 2, 1849, died in Tempe, Arizona, April 11, 1898. After graduating from the Dixon, Ill., High School, he taught school two winters. He entered the Canton Theological School in 1873, finishing his course there in 1876, and was ordained Aug. 31, 1876, at Barre, Vt. His first settlement was at Williamstown, Vt., where and at Washington, a neighboring town, he preached three years. Subsequent pastorates were at Antrim, Owatona, Stillwater, Minn.; Fort Atkinson and Racine, Wis. Failing health forced him to give up his work at Racine and to seek relief in the milder climate of Arizona. He made this change in 1891, and for a while was benefitted by it, but not to the extent that was hoped. And so, after a lingering illness from pulmonary complaint, which he bore with great patience and cheerfulness, he died in the triumph of the gospel which he had so faithfully proclaimed and whose worth and comfort he so abundantly realized.

GEORGE WASHINGTON MONTGOMERY, D.D., born in Portland, Me., April 6, 1810, died in Rochester, N. Y., April 17, 1898. He began his ministry in Salem, Mass., in 1830, and s year later had moved to Western New York, where he was helped in fitting himself for his work by association with Rev. William L. Reese, who had entered the ministry some eight years before that time. Mr. Montgomery was ordained at the session of the Genesee Association at Penfield, N. Y., Oct. 13, 1831. Very soon after his ordination he went to Buffalo, N. Y., where an organization had been effected as early as 1823, but which, owing in part to its not having an altogether suitable place for worship, had not made much progress. Under Mr. Montgomery's ministry, a church was built in 1832. The next year the new parish at Auburn, in the same State, called him to minister there, and responding to their call he went to them and did there a similar work to that done at Buffalo. His next settlement was at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1843, from whence, after a brief pastorate of two years, he settled in Rochester, N. Y., where he found a greatly discouraged people whom he soon lifted into happy prosperity. During the tenth year of his successful labors in this growing city his throat failed him and he was obliged to relinquish his work. "But the affection of the people would not let go of him. He was made to feel that Rochester must be his home, and here through the long period of forty-four years he has lived in the unabated honor and love of all who knew him." As his health improved he ministered in many places within easy reach of his home and his ministry was greatly blessed. In 1871, St. Lawrence University, of which he was a trustee from its organization, greatly honored itself by conferring on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Wise in counsel, an able expounder of the Universalist faith, a Son of Consolation to all the sorrowing who could be reached by him, he was a "living epistle" of the truth and excellence of the Christian religion.

Not with his voice alone, but through the printed page, also, Dr. Montgomery served and enriched the Universalist Church and served his fellow-men. An associate several years with Dolphus Skinner, D.D., and Rev. A. B Grosh, in editing The Evangelical Magazine and Gospel Advocate; an always welcome and able contributor to The Universalist Quarterly; the author of several valuable Tracts and other pamphlets; the compiler, in 1838, of an Appendix to Universalist Hymn Books; the author, in 1839, of An Essay on the Law of Kindness, first published as a small pamphlet and afterwards enlarged and passing through many editions in book form; and the publisher, in 1850, of a volume of his own Sermons on Doctrinal and Moral Subjects,—he thus left lasting memorials of his religious zeal and unmistakable proof of his philanthropic spirit and efforts.

Rev. Dr. I. M. Atwood closed a published tribute to this good life and work, in these words: "I have always regarded

Dr. Montgomery as a typical fruit of the Universalist faith. If ever a man lived whose religion had mastered him, he was that man. Strong and persistent as were his inherited traits, the thing you felt when you came to know him intimately, was, that his religion saturated him and ruled his life. His little book, 'The Law of Kindness,' which had so unexpected a popularity and was translated into other tongues, was but one among many illustrations of the fact that his rel gion was to him a practical guide in conduct. He talked it as well as preached it, he practised it as well as prayed it, showing us again that

"'He prayeth best who loveth best
All things both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all.'

"In the symmetry of his character, in the beauty of his daily living, in the spirit of his aims and acts, and in the ideal measure in which he filled the office of the Christian preacher and pastor, Dr Montgomery stands out as a Doric pillar in the temple of organized Universalism. I was about to add that his faith exactly matched his life; but it is truer to say that his faith made his life. To him the blessed Gospel of his risen Lord was as real as to-morrow's sunrise; and he fell asleep as trustingly as a babe in a mother's arms."

CHEESMAN FILKINS DODGE, born in Clinton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., March 22, 1817, died in East Otto, N. Y., April 27, 1898. Born of Quaker parents, he was a believer in their tenets until in early manhood he went into business in the City of New York, where he attended the Bleecker St. Universalist Church, then under the pastoral care of Rev. W. S. Balch. Greatly charmed with his new faith, he left the business in which he was then engaged and entered Fairfield Academy, where he prepared himself for joining the Theological class conducted by Rev. Dr. Sawyer, at Clinton Liberal Institute. After preaching for a short time at So. Bainbridge and Morris, N. Y., he settled in Gibson, Pa., where he was ordained in December, 1849. It appears from the files of the REGISTER that his subsequent residences were in Gouverneur and Alexandria, N. Y.; Palmyra, Wis.; Franklin Grove and Payne's Point, Ill.; Palmyra, a second time; Midland and Big Rapids, Mich.; Trenton, Mo.; Urbana, Ill.; Branchport, Fly Creek, Whitesville and East Otto, N. Y. "In the days when the Universalist ministry was fraught with many hardships and trials, he proclaimed with no uncertain sound the glorious Gospel of the larger hope."

JOHN RICHARD WYTON LAVELLE, born May 22, 1818, died at Fulton, Ontario, Canada, May 18, 1898. In his last sickness he dictated a "Short Life History," on which we now draw for information concerning his career. He says of himself: "I was born at sea in coming from Europe to America. My parents died when I was very young; what little property was left by them was utilized in educating the family. I was placed under the strong religious influence of a Presbyterian family and was raised to the printing and stationery business. When I came to be about twenty years of age I began to act for myself. I saw an advertisement of Rev. Abel C. Thomas' preaching in a Universalist Church at Brooklyn, N. Y., and went to hear him and was very much pleased, being a Bible student from my youth up. I became acquainted with him and was an active member and then Superintendent of his Sunday School. I then prepared for the ministry of the Universalist Church and commenced my ministry as a Universalist Missionary in Ontario, in August, 1846, and was ordained shortly after. Ever since then I have had hard work, the believers being so widely scattered. We increased slowly but surely until I organized the Universalist Convention of Ontario. The opposition of other churches was very great and I was forced into eight oral discussions. I preached in different places in Ontario, so that I was widely known. A great deal of my missionary work was on horseback riding and for the most part all alone. My sickness is the result of hard horseback riding, for I kept busy in the ministry and have nothing financially to show for it, but have the satisfaction of knowing that I have done some good. I wish I could live and were as able as ever to preach the doctrine of Universalism, but I am now too weak and am passing away to the higher life, hopeful, peaceful and resigned, in the sure and stedfast hope of the ultimate elevation of all through the infinite love of Our Heavenly Father."

Only one daughter of his once large family survives him, and she, said the dying man, "has been my comfort in my declining years."

ALFRED FREDERICK BOOTH, born in Canton, N. Y., Sept. 5, 1872, died in Morrisville, Vt., May 31, 1898. Educated at Norwich University,—a military college,—he graduated as a civil engineer with the class of 1891, "winning the highest honors of his class, ranking as senior captain. He passed the four years without a single demerit." After spending a year at his profession of civil engineering, he entered the High School of Northfield, Vt., as a professor and subsequently as [illegible] During this year he was licensed to preach and was President of the Y. P. C. U. of the State of Vermont and Province of Quebec. Entering the St. Lawrence University Theological School in the fall of 1894, he graduated with the class of 1896 and removed to St. Albans, Vt., where he had been acting pastor since the first of January that year. Sept. 8, 1896, he was ordained and installed as pastor of that church.

His ministry was very brief. A throat difficulty compelled him to cease his labors and his last public service was on Easter Sunday, 1897. He sought to regain his health at the Adirondacks and afterwards at Colorado, but he grew rapidly worse and was brought to his father's home only a few days before his death. "Not only has the Universalist Church suffered by the loss of one of its ablest young men, but the world has lost a rich benefactor."

JOSEPH FREEMAN WITHERELL, born in Rochester, N. H., May 9, 1810, died in Dexter, Me., June 17, 1898. Early left an orphan, he developed such mental ability and character that at sixteen years of age he had become an overseer in a large cotton mill at Great Falls, in his native State, and a few years later he held a position of trust on the Boston & Lowell R. R. Becoming interested in the theological questions which were agitating New England through the zealous efforts of Universalists sixty years ago, he determined to devote himself to the preaching of the gospel and was ordained in 1837. His name first appears in the REGISTER in 1839, with his residence in Orleans, Mass. In 1845 he changed his residence to Contoocookville, N. H., where, in April, 1841, he began the publication of The Universalist Family Visitor, a 12mo monthly, edited by himself and the Rev. J. Sargent. In January, 1842, it was enlarged to an octavo and he became sole editor until the following July, when it was again enlarged to a quarto, published weekly, at Concord, N. H , and the name changed to The Balm of Gilead and Practical Universalist. In the conduct of this he had associated with him as editors, Rev. Messrs. L. C. Browne, G. W. Gage, M. Ballou and C. Woodhouse. This was continued until 1846, when it passed into other hands, was published in Lowell, Mass., and a year later was merged in the Christian Freeman.

Mr. Witherell's residence and, we also suppose, his pastorate in Concord began in 1842 and continued to 1848, when he moved to Fisherville, in the same State. Two years later he was obliged on account of a difficulty in his throat, to give up regular preaching, and in 1853 he became a resident of Dexter, Me., where he engaged in printing and published the first local paper. During his active ministry he was a controversial writer and many of his articles of this stamp, originally published in the Visitor, were put into pamphlet and tract form and scattered broadcast. He also prepared and put forth a small book entitled "The Layman's Manual; being a choice collection of sermons, prayers and hymns, designed for the use of families and societies, when destitute of a pastor." He also published a book of "Temperance Melodies." The cause of Temperance, as well as that of the abolition of slavery, found in him a strong and earnest advocate, and this in a day when such advocacy was unpopular and often made angry enemies. His family "have the precious memory of an honorable and honored husband and father, and will seek comfort in that faith which had comforted their loved one in the great sorrows of his life, and which so many times he had commended to others in trouble;" and the Universalist Church should not forget that it is to such as he was, that it owes in no small degree its growth and stability.

MYRA KINGSBURY, born in Sheshequin, Pa., Dec. 5, 1847, died at her native place, July 11, 1898. Educated in the schools at Sheshequin and also at the State Normal School in Mansfield, her attention was directed to the Christian ministry by her pastor, the late Rev. Dr. William Taylor, in whose church, at Towanda, she preached her first sermon. She was ordained at Susquehanna, Sept. 8, 1881. Her first pastorate was at Williston, Vt., which was followed by settlements in Morrisville, Fairfax and Fletcher in the same State; and in Belfast, Me. She relinquished her pastorate in the last-named place, her health having failed, about two years ago and returned to the home of her childhood, hoping for relief by rest. Having obtained temporary help, she took up work in the local church and also at Athens, in the near neighborhood. In May, 1897, she was obliged to relinquish all public labors and patiently submitted to the painful progress of her disease, hoping against hope and ever planning for the Church of her love. "Bright, beautiful, active soul and so spiritually inclined; thy work will still go on and we trust with increasing power."

QUINCY WHITNEY, born in Ashburnham, Mass., Oct 7, 1822, died at North Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 8, 1898 His general education was received in the schools at Westminster, Mass., and at Phillips Academy, Exeter, N. H., and his theological training was under the direction and in the home of the late Benjamin Whittemore, D D., at Lancaster, Mass. The date of his first sermon he has thus recorded: "Quincy Whitney began his labors as a preacher of God's infinite grace and salvation Oct. 5, 1845, in the 23d year of his age." His first settlement was at Sterling, Mass , where he was ordained June 1[illegible] His subsequent pastorates were at Westminster, [illegible]s and Wakefield, all in Massachusetts.

"Mr. Whitney was a man of sterling qualities of mind and heart. He was endowed with vigorous mental powers and became one of our most successful preachers and pastors. . . . He will be remembered with sincere and deep affection, not only by the parishes where he was pastor, but by the Universalist Church, to which he gave his life in faithful and devoted service; and by his brethren in the ministry, of whom he was never heard to speak an unkind word. The last eight years of his life were burdened with ill-health and only those who have been near him in his peculiar affliction can know with what patience and even cheerfulness he carried his burden; never, at least to the world outside, uttering a single complaint. And only those who have been near him and seen him in his home in his feebleness can know how faithfully his daughter, Mina, has cared for him by her ministry of love. He has left the record of a successful and faithful ministry and a good name."

ROYAL TYLER SAWYER, M.D., born at Mt. Holly, Vt., April 25, 1848, was killed by lightning, at Worcester, Vt., Aug. 21, 1898. After receiving a good Common School education at home, he took a course of instruction in the Black River Academy and at Chester, Vt. His Theological training was at Tufts College Divinity School, from which he graduated in 1870 and was ordained at Chester, Vt., April 25, 1871 For a few years thereafter he was at his home in Mt. Holly and preached as occasion offered. His first settlement was at Marlboro, N. H., and afterwards he was pastor at Gardner, Mass.; So. Newmarket, N. H.; Milford, Quincy, Provincetown, Brockton, Mass.; Dover, N. H., and Merrimac, Mass.; and last at Middleport, N. Y. In 1896, having qualified himself for the practice of medicine, he became a physician, but did not withdraw from the ministry.

ZENAS COOK, born in Massachusetts Jan. 22, 1815, died at Chicago Lawn, Ill., Sept. 18 1898. His name first appears in the REGISTER for 1837 as residing in Hudson, N. Y., where he was studying for the ministry with Rev. William Whitaker. He was ordained at Lansingburg, N. Y., Oct. 4, 1837. His pastorates were in the following places and in the order here given: Geneva, N. Y ; Danbury, Conn.; Hamilton, Columbus, So. Edmeston, Edmeston Centre, N. Y.; No. Adams, Marblehead, Marlboro, Mass.; Farmington, Grand Ledge, Centreville, Mich.; Sparta, Wis.; Northfield, Minn.; Fort Dodge, Iowa; Franklin Grove, Ill.; then for a brief time as State Missionary in Oregon. In 1877 he practically gave up active work and lived in retirement at Ingersoll, Mich.; then at Detroit, in the same State, until 1884, since which time he resided at Chicago Lawn, Ill., although he preached occasionally until 1890. For the last eight years he has been in declining health and strength, but patiently waiting for the end, which came while he was in peaceful sleep. The faith which he had loved and preached so long was firmly and rejoicingly held to the last.

LEWIS CREBASA BROWNE, D.D., born at Bennington, Vt., March 8, 1810, died at Honeoye Falls, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1898. While a student at Clinton Liberal Institute, Clinton, N. Y., he fitted for the ministry under the direction of Rev. Stephen R. Smith and was ordained in 1835. He is first mentioned in the REGISTER in 1836, as preaching at Bridgewater, N. Y. His subsequent pastorates were in Ft. Plain, Troy, N. Y.; Nashua, N. H.; Hudson, Mohawk, Cedarville, Newark, Canton, Bristol, North Bloomfield, N. Y. Since 1871 he has resided at Honeoye Falls, N. Y. At the annual Commencement of St. Lawrence University, in 1898, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was most worthily bestowed on him. His long career in the ministry was active and effective. He was a strong man intellectually and a faithful pastor. He was an author as well as preacher, having issued several pamphlets, besides being associated with Rev. J. F. Witherell, while a resident of Nashua, in editing The Balm of Gilead. In 1847 he wrote and published a "Review of the Life and Writings of M. Hale Smith; with a Vindication of the Moral Tendency of Universalism and the Moral Character of Universalists." The book passed through two large editions and was an overwhelming answer to some of the basest falsehoods ever uttered against our faith. Mr. Browne knew the man whose slanders he was rebuking and his readers soon knew him as well. It was a case demanding great plainness of speech, and the reviewer could not be misunderstood in the language which he employed.

Dr. Browne was strong and firm in his Christian faith, never removed in any way from the hope of the Gospel, but mighty in its defence. A man of unblemished life, an honor to the Church whose fellowship he enjoyed, he "rests from his labors and his works do follow him."

J. B. CONE of Gonzales, Texas, has died during the past year, about 70 years of age. He was a member of a large and influential family, originally from Georgia, all Universalists and zealous for the spread of the faith wherever they lived. As an Evangelist he was a gifted speaker and sowed the good seed broadcast, but he was no organizer. He served his district one year in the Texan legislature and was there, as wherever he was known, esteemed for his ability and honesty.

JAMES BILLINGS, born at Sharon, N. Y., Nov. 11, 1811, died at Hico, Texas, Nov. 2, 1898. His name first appears in the REGISTER for 1837 as a new preacher in the State of New York, "not located." He was probably in the home of Rev. Jacob Chase, of Geneva, with whom he studied for the ministry. In 1838 he took charge of the parish at Springfield, Penn., and was ordained at the first session of the Lake Erie Association, at Wellsburg, Penn., June 14, 1838. In 1840 he went to Albion, Mich.; to Schoolcraft the year following, then to Ann Arbor, both in the same State, in 1842. In 1843 he associated with Rev. Richard Thornton in editing and publishing The Primitive Expounder, a semi-monthly 8vo paper, which ten years later was merged in the Star in the West. From 1845 until 1852 he was at Jackson, Mich., two years of which time he was Chaplain of the State Penitentiary located there. In 1853 and 1854 his name is omitted from the REGISTER, but reappears in 1855 when he is located at Lafayette, Ind. After 1856, his residence is given in the following named places: Quincy, Warsaw, Centralia, Chicago, Elgin, Ill.; Vineland, N. J.; Palestine, Beaver Valley, Texas; Philadelphia, Penn.; San Marcos and Hico, Texas. While in Chicago he became joint owner of Manford's Magazine. He resided in Hico since 1885. His career in Texas has been characterized by wonderful industry and zeal. Up and down and across the length and breadth of that great State he has sought out the scattered believers and has been instrumental in oaganizing them in various localities. His voice and his pen have been untiringly used in the exposition and defence of our faith and he has engaged many times in debates with its opponents. Notwithstanding his advancing age and the infirmities incident thereto, he has been "instant in season and out of season" in doing his Master's work. A good man and "mighty in the Scriptures," he "made full proof of his ministry" and "finished his course with joy." "He was a man of the saintly order of life, gentle and patient in spirit, but brave in defence of his convictions and of untiring industry, devoting all the energies of his mind and heart to the faith and work of the Universalist Church. He has rounded out a noble career amid humble surroundings and passes away in a good old age leaving the Church the rich heritage of his example. It will honor the memory of this old apostle and pioneer of Universalism in Texas."

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of the General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the ervice of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1900.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organization of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1901—will be held in Buffalo, N. Y., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, J. Coleman Adams, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the State Conventions and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported at the Convention session in 1899, aggregate $314,572.79, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $147,058.03. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884, on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $14,637.21.

III. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York, bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $14 695.

IV. Adu Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the fund amounts to $9,260.

V. Waverly (Iowa) Fund $800.

VI. G. L Demarest Reserve Fund. $14,000.

VII. William H. Ryder Fund $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

VIII. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $11,000 to the Convention as the beginning of a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of the remainder to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder.

IX. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

X Guaranty Fund. $573.05.

XI. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,453.76.

XII. Foreign Missions' Fund, the gift of Lucian Blackmer, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo., with the addition of $100 by Mrs. Martin, of West Henrietta, N. Y. $3,100.

XIII. The Clarissa L. Crane Fund, the gift of Clarissa L. Crane, late of Stamford, Conn., "to be used and applied by the Trustees of the Convention to the general uses and purposes of the corporation." $3,000.

XIV. The W. J. Bartlett Fund, the gift of Mrs. Nancy Bartlett, late of Milford, Mass. $6,463.48.

XV. The Sarah P. Blake Fund, the income to be used "for the benefit and promotion of the Universalist denomination in this country." $1,694.81.

XVI. The "M" Fund, the income "to be devoted to the home and foreign missionary work of the Universalist General Convention, after the death of the donor." $1,000.

XVII. The H. L. & L. J. Canfield Fund, "the income to be applied to the general uses and purposes of the Convention, after the death of the donors." $800.

XVIII. The Twentieth Century Fund. $804.

The Society is incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts. It has a library of about four thousand volumes, besides important manuscripts and papers. This library has been of great help in tracing the history and fortunes of our distinguishing faith in other countries and times. Donations of books and money are earnestly solicited, that the library may be rendered as complete as possible, and its usefulness augmented. President—Richard Eddy, D D., Chatham, Mass.; Vice-President, Hon. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. I.; Secretary and Librarian—G. T. Knight, D D., Tufts College, Mass.; Treasurer—G. L Demarest, D.D., Manchester, N. H.

STATISTICS.

As in last year's REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicate that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received and that the statements given are taken from the REGISTER of last year. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, from clerks of parishes not regularly supplied with preaching, and from official reports of State Convention Secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources the figures of the last reported year are used.

sis; Virgil L. Leighton, A.M., Ph.D., instructor in Organic Chemistry; Charles H. Chase, S.B., instructor in Shop Work.

Finances.—The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than $1,700,000.

Scholarships.—There are upwards of fifty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. All the courses are four-year courses but provision is given to students to complete them in less with superior work. From the beginning of the sophomore year the studies are almost wholly elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston, on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges, $100. Board, from $3.50 to $4 a week.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the departments of Tufts College, the general advantages of which are enjoyed by all its members in common. The College Library, the Museum of Natural History, the Gymnasium, are open to all. Courses of study and lectures in the College of Letters are open to the Divinity students, subject, however, to the discretion of the Faculty. The graduates of the Divinity School in common with the graduates of the other departments are enrolled in the Quinquennial Catalogue of the college, and are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association of Tufts College.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., LL.D., president, in charge of Political Economy; Charles H. Leonard, D.D., Dean, Goddard professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; William G. Tousey, A.M., B.D., professor of Ethics and Philosophy of Theism; George T. Knight, D D., secretary, professor of Church History, also in charge of Systematic Theology; George M. Harmon, A.M., B.D., professor of Biblical Theology; David L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of Oratory; Warren S. Woodbridge, A.M., B.D., Woodbridge professor of Applied Christianity. Non-resident lecturers: Edwin C. Bolles, D.D., lecturer on the Worth of Avocation to the Minister; Henry W. Rugg, D.D., lecturer on Christian Missions; William H. Dearborn, B.D., lecturer on the Preacher's Intellectual Resources; Frank O. Hall, B.D., lecturer on the Work of the Ministry; Richard Eddy, D.D., lecturer on the History of Universalist Doctrines; Hon. Henry B. Metcalf, lecturer on the Ministry from a Layman's Point of View.

Requirements for Admission.—Candidates unknown to the Faculty must bring satisfactory testimonials of good character. It is expected that they will present themselves on the day preceding the first day of the academic year.

Bachelors of Arts are admitted to a three-years' course, without examination, to be candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Candidates for this degree who are not Bachelors of Arts are required to take a four-years' course, and to well sustain an examination on average passages from the Latin of Cæsar, Cicero, and Virgil; and on average passages from the Greek of Xenophon, Homer, and the Gospels. Ability to read simple prose in French or German, and to write in French or German a paragraph upon an assigned subject, is accepted as an alternative for the requirement in Latin. They are also required to pass a satisfactory examination in Greek, Roman, English, and American History; in Rhetoric; in English Literature and in English Grammar and Composition, in which the requirement is as follows:—

English Grammar and Composition.—Spelling, punctuation, structure of sentences, correct use of words, clearness of expression.

The examination will consist (1) in criticising specimens of incorrect English; (2) in writing a short composition on a subject assigned. Subjects for composition will be drawn from the following standard works in English literature. All the books named for the given year are to be read, and from two or three of them subjects will be assigned at the time of examination.

For 1900.—Dryden's Palamon and Arcite; Pope's Iliad, Books I., VI., XXII., and XXIV.; The Sir Roger de Coverly Papers in The Spectator; Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield; Scott's Ivanhoe; De Quincey's Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Cooper's Last of the Mohicans; Tennyson's Princess; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's Paradise Lost, Books I. and II.; Burke's Speech of Conciliation with America; Macaulay's Essays on Addison and Milton.

Applicants from other theological institutions whose course of study is the equivalent of that pursued in this institution, will be received ad eundem.

EXPENSES AND PECUNIARY AID.

Beginning with the college year 1897-98, students in the Divinity School will be charged one hundred dollars annually for tuition. This charge will include the privilege of occupying a room in Paige Hall, and provision for heating and caring for it. A remission of one-half of this amount may be made by the Executive Committee of the Trustees to students who cannot be accommodated in Paige Hall or who live at home. The necessary expenses for board, washing, gas, gymnasium charges do not exceed two hundred dollars a year. The General Convention of Universalists aids students who are commended by the Faculty, by a gift of one hundred and twenty-five dollars a year; and the Faculty of the Divinity School is authorized to assign scholarships to those whose circumstances require it. Those students, also, who are in the regular course are permitted to preach, under the direction of the Faculty, during the year and a half preceding their graduation. In this way they may add to their pecuniary resources.

TUFTS MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., LL.D., president; Harold Williams, A.B., M.D., dean, and professor of the Diseases of Children; Charles P. Thayer, M.D., secretary, and professor of General, Descriptive and Applied Anatomy; Henry W. Dudley, M.D., professor of Pathology; ——— ———, professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine; Frank G. Wheatley, A.M., M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Samuel G. Webber, A.B., M.D., professor of Neurology; Ernest W. Cushing, A.B., M.D., professor of Abdominal Surgery and Gynæcology; Arthur E. Austin, A B., M.D., professor of Medical Chemistry and Toxicology; Charles A. Pitkin, A.M., Ph.D., professor of General Chemistry; John L. Hildreth, A.B., M.D., professor of Clinical Medicine; Henry B. Chandler, M.D , professor of Ophthalmology; Walter Channing, M.D., professor of Mental Diseases; Frederick L. Jack, M.D., professor of Otology; George H. Washburn, A.B., M.D., professor of Obstetrics; Frederic M. Briggs, A B., M.D., assistant professor of Clinical Surgery; Charles G. Cumston, B.M.S., M.D., assistant professor of Surgical Pathology; Timothy Leary, M.D., assistant professor of Pathology and instructor in Bacteriology; Albert P. Mathews, Ph.D., assistant professor of Physiology; Horace D. Arnold, M.D., assistant professor of Clinical Medicine.

Admission.—Applicants must be of good moral character, and unless they have previously matriculated in some accredited medical college or are graduates of some reputable college, high, or normal school, or of an institution of a similar grade, must pass an examination upon the branches of an English education, including Mathematics, Composition, and Elementary Physics.

Graduation.—Candidates must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine four full years, attended four courses of medical lectures, the last at this college, dissected one full course and passed all the required examinations. Graduates of other medical colleges in good standing, can obtain the degree by attending one full course of lectures and passing the examinations of the senior year. It is understood that attendance upon a course of lectures requires actual presence at a majority of the exercises of each term.

For information inquire of Charles P. Thayer, M.D., 74 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

THE DENTAL SCHOOL.

The Boston Dental College has been absorbed by Tufts College, and will be known hereafter as the Tufts College Dental School. The course of study covers three years and leads to the degree of D.M.D.

Bates, D.D.S., professor of Dental Histology and Microscopy; Frank G. Wheatley, A.M., M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Albert Prescott Mathews, S.B., Ph.D., professor of Physiology; John C. Munro, A B., M.D., professor of Principles and Practice of Surgery; Timothy Leary, M.D., professor of Pathology and Bacteriology.

ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.

St. Lawrence University, founded in 1856, is located at Canton, St. Lawrence County, N. Y. It comprises two departments: The College of Letters and Science, and the Canton Theological School. These departments are independent in their faculties, funds and government. Men and women are admitted to both departments. The University confers no degrees on a course of study of less than four years. The courses are full, the instruction thorough, and the mental training practical and efficient.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—Hon. Edwin Atkins Merritt, LL.D., Potsdam, President; Frank Nash Cleveland, M.A., Canton, Secretary; Geo. S. Conkey, Esq., Canton, Treasurer. Trustees, John Stebbins Lee, D.D., Canton; Hon. Edwin Atkins Merritt, LL.D., Potsdam; Hon. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—E. A. Merritt, R. E. Waterman, I. M. Atwood, L. P. Hale, G. S. Conkey, J. C. Lee, V. P. Abbott.

HERRING LIBRARY.—Librarians, Henry Prentiss Forbes, D.D., Robert Dale Ford, M.S. The library, founded by the late Silas C. Herring, and embracing about ten thousand volumes, is contained in Herring Library Hall.

1. THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE.—Courses. The College of Letters and Science offers five courses, leading to the degrees of B.A., B.S., and Ph.B. The last three years of each course are largely elective.

Faculty.—Almon Gunnison, D.D., president; Absalom Graves Gaines, D D., LL D., Craig professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and of Political Economy; Henri Hermann Liotard, M.A., professor of French and German; Henry Priest, M.A., dean, and Hayward professor of Physics and Chemistry; George Robert Hardie, M.A., recorder, and professor of Latin; Robert Dale Ford, M.S., professor of Mathematics; Frederick C. Foster, M.A., professor of History; C. K. Gaines, Ph.D., professor of Greek and English; George L. Kimball, instructor in Physical Culture; ——— ——— Cummings professor of Natural Science; ——— ——— Chapin professor of Geology and Mineralogy.

Calendar.—The college year is divided into two terms. The second term will begin Feb. 12, 1900. Tree holiday, April 27. Commencement, June 27. The first term of the succeeding year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1900.

Expenses.—Tuition, fifty dollars a year. Board, from $3.00 to $4.00 per week. Twenty-two free scholarships.

2. THE CANTON THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.—Courses of Study.—The regular course of instruction, for Diploma, covers three years.

the degree of B.D., four years. These courses include the departments of Ethics, History, Theology, Comparative Religion, Homiletics, Apologetics, Church Administration, Psychology, Sociology, and Interpretation and Criticism. Students so situated as to require it may enter for a shorter term than the regular course, and will be entitled to a certificate stating their attainments.

Conditions of Admission.—The students particularly desired are those who give promise of usefulness in the ministry of the Universalist Church. The best preliminary preparation is a classical course in college. Students whose opportunities have not admitted of such preparation are received if they possess a High School or equivalent education in English. Sound moral principle and approved Christian standing are indispensable.

Lectures.—Courses of lectures on preaching and pastoral work are given each year by eminent clergymen,—Universalist and other.

Faculty.—Almon Gunnison, D.D., president; J. S. Lee, D.D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology; H. P. Forbes, D.D., professor of Biblical Languages and Literature; Rev. Lewis Beals Fisher, Ryder professor of Preaching and Pastoral Theology; O. Cone, D.D., professor of Theology and Ethics; ——— lecturer on the Church and the Ministry.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856. It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3.00 a week; in the village, $3.50. Students may obtain assistance from the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $125 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar.—First term closes Jan. 19, 1900. Second term opens Feb. 17. Commencement, June 26, 1900. Fall term begins Wednesday, Sept. 28, 1900.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY.

Lombard University is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-four classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 860. As organized at present, the University embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The University year begins the first Tuesday in September, and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Twenty-one credits are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitations or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 153 courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of forty full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the twenty-one credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Highest grade instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel painting and china painting.

Faculty of Lombard University.—Charles Ellwood Nash, A.M., D.D. (Lombard) (Tufts), president; Isaac A. Parker, Ph.D. (Bucktel), professor of Greek; N. White, Ph.D., D.D. (St. Lawrence) (Tufts), in charge of Ryder Divinity School; Frederick W. Rich, B.S. (Cornell), professor of Natural Sciences; Philip G. Wright, A.M. (Harvard), professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Jon. W. Grubb, M S. (Lombard), professor of Latin; Ralph G. Kimble, A.B., B.D. (Lombard), professor of Applied Christianity and Pastoral Theology; Frank H. Fowler, A.M., Ph.D. (Lombard) (University of Chicago), professor of English; Emma B. Wait, professor of German and French; Rudolph Lundberg, director of School of Music, instructor in Piano, Harmony and Voice Culture; Wm. H. Cheesman, instructor in Violin, Mandolin and Guitar; Maude A. Miner, instructor in Elocution and Dramatic Art; Isabelle Blood, instructor in Fine Arts, Drawing and Painting; Emily Augusta Hadley, principal in Charge of Ladies' Hall; non-resident lecturers, M. D. Shutter, D.D., Rodney F. Johonnot, D.D., Q. H. Shinn, D.D.

Board of Trustees.—Hon. Samuel Kerr, Chicago, President; Charles A. Webster, Galesburg, Treasurer; Lake W. Sanborn, C. E. Nash, D.D., J. D. Welsh, Albert Webster, W. W. Washburn, Robert Chappell, Hon. Howard Knowles, Mary Claycomb Grubb, J. N. Conger, George B. Stocking, D.D., Galesburg; Almon Kidder, Monmouth, Ill.; Lyman Mc. Carl, Quincy, Ill.; J. B. Harsh, Creston, Iowa; M. D. Shutter, D D., Minneapolis; A. J. Canfield, D.D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. B. Tompkins, Avon; J. L. Lombard, Kansas City; Charles Styer, Indianapolis; Mrs. E P. Townsend, Sycamore, Ill.; Amos Crum, D. D., Boone, Iowa; George Tapper, Chicago; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis; Hon. Hamilton L. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove, Ill.

Gymnasium and Ladies' Hall.—The Gymnasium, completed in 1897,

is one of the handsomest, completest, and best appointed buildings for the purpose in the West. Physical education is made a specialty. The new Ladies' Hall, completed in 1896, is also a thoroughly modern and well-equipped building, which offers the advantages of a refined home under maternal oversight.

Expenses.—Tuition fees are low, being $8.50 per term for each full course, proportionate for fractional courses. Board in Ladies' Hall, with heat (steam) and light (gas), $3.50 to $4.25 per week. In private families, from $3.50 a week upwards. Self-boarding at a minimum cost encouraged.

The Ryder Divinity School.—The Divinity School of Lombard University was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the University the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the University exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

Tuition in the Divinity School is free to those studying for the Christian ministry. Admission requirements will be explained on request.

Catalogues sent on application to C. Ellwood Nash, D.D., President, Galesburg, Ill.

BUCHTEL COLLEGE.

This institution is situated in the city of Akron, Summit County, Ohio. It was founded by the Universalist State Convention of Ohio, and was named in honor of John R. Buchtel, its most liberal benefactor. It was opened to students of both sexes Sept. 11, 1872.

Board of Trustees.—President, Hon. George W. Crouse, Akron; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles R. Olin, Akron; Judge Newell D. Tibbalis, Akron; Rev. Andrew Willson, Ravenna; Rev. Henrietta G. Moore, Springfield; Arthur A. Stearns, Cleveland; George L. Case, Cleveland; Alexander W. Maynes, Akron; D. Irving Badger, Akron; William T. Sawyer, Akron; Ferdinand Schumacher, Chicago, Ill.; Hon. I. N. Hathaway, Chardon; Judge U. L. Marvin, Akron; Rev. C. F. Henry, Cleveland; Samuel L. Thompson, Brink Haven; Johnson A. Arbogast, Akron; Eberly D. Smith, Blanchester; Wallace L. Carlton, Akron; Rev. A. B. Church, Akron.

There are three four-years' courses of study—the classical, the philosophical, and the scientific. There is also a preparatory course for each of these courses, which includes a normal course. The college also offers ample facilities for the study of music and art.

Faculty.—Ira Allen Priest, D.D., president; Charles M. Knight, A.M., Sc.D., Buchtel professor of Physics and Chemistry; Carl F. Kolbe, A.M., Ph.D., Hilton professor of Modern Languages; Charles C. Bates, A.M., professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature; S. P. Orth, B.S., professor in Natural Science; Hermas V. Egbert, A.M., Ainsworth professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Maria Parsons, A.M., Pierce professor of English Literature, and instructor in Logic and English History; L. Elmie Warner, Ph.B., instructor in Elocution and Reading; Joseph H. James, Ph.D., associate in Chemistry and Physics; Oscar E. Olin, A.M., principal of Preparatory Department, and teacher of English and School Management; Arabella M. Armstrong, Ph.B., teacher of Latin; Charles R. Olin, B.S., teacher of Mathematics; Minnie C. Fuller, teacher of Painting and Drawing; Edith E. Mallison, B.S., assistant in Physical Science Department; Estelle Musson, teacher of Piano; Edward H. Douglass, teacher of Vocal Music.

Expenses.—The necessary yearly expenses of students range from $150 to $200. Board in clubs at cost. There are fifty perpetual scholarships, each of $1,000, yielding an annual income of $60. These are intended to aid worthy and deserving students. Number of students season of 1896-97, 178.

THE SOUTHERN INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE.

The Southern Industrial College was established at Camp Hill, Ala., March 29, 1899, for the purposes named in the following: Realizing the need of an Industrial School in the South, it is our desire that said school shall be established at once to fit young men and women for the work of life, whether in manual training or in literature and art. We desire, further, that a Theological department shall always be maintained for the training of young men for the work of the Universalist ministry. It is our purpose to give to the children of this generation, and all succeeding generations, the privilege of the best culture and the broadest religion known to men. Believing in the goodness of God, and that His requirements are to do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with Him, we shall maintain such school for ourselves and our posterity. The institution is established on the following condition: The religious and political liberties of the students are not to be infringed upon.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—President, Quillen Hamilton Shinn, D.D., Boston, Mass.; Secretary, Rev. Lyman Ward, Camp Hill, Ala.; Treasurer, L. Andrews Trimble, Presley, Ala.; Mrs. Athalia Johnson Irwin, Columbia, S. C.; Martin M. Teague, Mountville, S. C.; Robert A. Credille, Pensacola, Fla.; A. J. Owens, Canon, Ga.; Rev. Thomas Chapman, Winder, Ga.; Daniel B. Clayton, D.D., Columbia, S. C.; H. E. Newbury, Magnolia, N. C.; George M. Slaughter, Camp Hill, Ala.

Faculty.—Rev. Lyman Ward, B.S., president, and professor of Philosophy and Ethics; Rev. Richard M. Smith, M.A., Ph.D., secretary, and professor of Latin and Greek and instructor in French and German; L. Andrews Trimble, professor of Mathematics; Miss Kate Terry, M.A., professor of English; Orlando Velpeau Langley, M.D., instructor in Physiology; Mary L. Smith Ward, librarian.

Calendar.—The college year embraces two terms of eighteen weeks each. College closes the last Thursday in May, and opens the second Wednesday in September.

Candidates for admission to the college must present suitable recommendations as to character and fitness for college work. As the college embraces a fitting school, no entrance examinations, as such, are required previous to matriculation. Examinations are held at the beginning and close of each term, and special examinations are given as occasion demands. The candidate, therefore, may elect one of two methods of procedure. He may, if his previous training will warrant, come before the faculty and be examined, and be assigned to such classes as are best adapted to his needs; or he may, if his training has been scant or neglected, come before the faculty and be assigned classes without examination. All examinations are written. It is the desire of the faculty that all candidates for the college course shall be well trained in the rudimentary subjects, and hence it lays special stress on the work of the fitting school. No course has been laid down as yet in any department of the college. The work of classification for the past year has been difficult. The lack of high schools in our vicinity, and the many private and public schools with no system of grading, has made our work doubly hard. Still, progress has been made, and by another year we shall be able to report a course of study for the various departments. Our work is thorough, and the aim is to give a good high school and college training to all our students. In a general way it may be said that the course in the fitting school will be about the same as that laid down by any first-class high school or preparatory school. In mathematics, the student will complete the study of arithmetic, finish algebra through to quadratics and plane geometry; in English, complete English grammar and Hill's Foundations of Rhetoric; in history, complete United States history, general history and English history; in science, physiology, hygiene, chemistry and physics, all in short courses, and physical and descriptive geography complete; in civics, the laws of Alabama and the United States constitution; in Latin, three years' study is required; in Greek, French or German, a two years' course is required. Throughout the whole tuition exercises are constantly given in reading, spelling and composition work. A short course of study is given in English and American literature. The work of the college will be to complete, somewhat, the work of the fitting school. Higher algebra, solid geometry, plane and spherical trigonometry, analytic geometry, calculus and astromony will very nearly cover the college course in mathematics. The sciences, languages, histories, civics and literature will be taught in higher form and more completely in college. To those who complete the college course, the Bachelor's degree is given. To those taking a special course, certificates will be given. For further particulars, address the President.

The college possesses a library of 800 volumes, that may be loaned to students and residents of Camp Hill. The library is open throughout the college year on the afternoons of Monday, Wednesday and Friday. A reading-room, in charge of the librarian, is open at all times during the college year. Some of the leading magazines and newspapers are kept constantly on file. Donations of books and magazines are gladly received. The library needs, particularly, an encyclopedia.

Expenses.—The tuition fee has been fixed at $20 a year. No student will be graduated or honorably discharged who is in arrears for college bills. Board may be obtained at prices ranging from $5.00 to $8.00 per month. Text books may be secured at reduced rates at the college for cash. Expenses should in no wise prove a barrier to any person who desires the privilege of a college training. This college is founded especially for needy boys and girls, and the President, therefore, invites correspondence on this subject.

Industrial.—In the founding of this school it has been our purpose to do two things: First, to provide a thorough course of study; and second, to provide the means for pursuing such course of study. The first would be to give to every boy and girl a thorough training in the sciences and in literature and art. The second would open the way to him, no matter how poor, of getting an education.

Our schools and colleges are in the best sense of the word philanthropic institutions. The same broad principles of rational charity that we find operated so practically in our modern charitable organizations, why should they not be put to the test in our school and college work? When all the fellowships and scholarships of our educational institutions are taken, we have still a very large class of boys and girls who want the training of the schools. So, what are we to do? There is only one solution, and that is along the lines of rational charity. Industrial training will do just this. It makes the student self-supporting while in school, and it makes him self-supporting when he gets out into the world. The student who is winning his way through school by the wealth of his own industry is at once elevated to the position of a creator of wealth. He is self-reliant, he is eager to learn, he is happy. Some say, "What industries would you have?" The answer is simple: Any and all that the student demands. Begin with the simpler ones, such as blacksmithing and carpentry, and work into those that are more complex and varied. We would give instruction to any student, at any age, and would provide the way for him to gain such instruction. Two industries are now established—that of Carpentry and that of Printing.

The school will receive on an equal footing both boys and girls. It will grant the same privileges to each, and the political and religious liberties of the pupils are never to be infringed upon.

The college now owns a plantation of 521 acres of land. Much of it is tillable and can be used for farming purposes. This land will be divided up into small farms, and parents so desiring may rent land, move to Camp Hill and board their own children while they are attending school.

Theological Department.—This department is to be maintained for the fitting of young men and women for the work of the Universalist ministry. The fields are many and inviting in the South, and the call for well-equipped Universalist ministers is urgent and imperative. No profession to-day is more full of promise than that of the liberal Christian minister.

Admission.—Any person of good character and assenting to the Winchester Profession of Faith and the Chicago Declaration may become enrolled as a student of this department.

Courses of Study —The course of study will be about the same as that in the other Universalist theological schools. The same system of examinations and markings will be adhered to as in the other departments.

Expenses.—No charge is made for tuition, and the other items of expense may be found under the heading of "expense" in the general catalogue.

For information, always address the President, Rev. Lyman Ward, Camp Hill, Ala.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE AND MILITARY ACADEMY.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas and electricity, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding students. The Institute spares its lady students the necessity of climbing stairs; a hydraulic elevator for their exclusive use was provided in 1888, at an expense of nearly $2,500.

Competent judges have pronounced the buildings the finest of their kind in the state. Recent improvements include the Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the new water works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured.

The Cadets' Gymnasium, erected ten years ago, is a two-story brick structure 70x450 feet, with four bowling alleys and the usual gymnasium apparatus.

The Girls' Gymnasium is a room 50 feet long, opening from the chapel. Here, under an efficient instructor, the girls are taught the most important parts of the Swedish system of gymnastics.

The Institute aims to furnish advantages of the very highest order at the least cost to students. All the departments of academic training are in charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the Department of Modern Languages, students may acquire a speaking mastery of German and French. Piano music is in charge of Prof. Weitime, a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music at Berlin. The second piano assistant is Miss Zada Lee, one of Prof. Badell's graduates, and a teacher of experience. Miss Elizabeth Ballou is at the head of the Vocal School. She is a teacher of high standing. The course in elocution is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this branch.

The course in the Porter School of Business Training is one of the best of the kind offered anywhere. Common English receives particular attention, and is well articulated with the excellent course in the higher English branches. Students are prepared for any college. Excellent courses in Literature, Science and History.

Besides a preparatory year in common English, the school provides seven regular courses, viz: The College Preparatory, four years; the Scientific, four years; the English, four years; the Business, two years; the Literary and Musical, three years; Piano, three years; Vocal, three years; Elocution, two years. These will be found outlined in the school catalogue.

The Boys' Department is on a military basis. The commandant of cadets is an officer of the U. S. Army. Rifles, cannon, and ammunition are supplied by the War Department. The armory, with clear floor space 150x82 feet, is one of the largest school armories in the United States.

Expense for board, tuition, light, heat, etc., furnished room and washing, from $350 to $400. Reduced rates to children of clergymen.

The school is situated in one of the most delightful and healthful portions of the Mohawk Valley, about midway between Albany and Utica, on the New York Central and West Shore Railroads. Twelve passenger trains from the East and twelve from the West stop at Fort Plain daily.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—Edmund Millen, Middletown, President; Rev. Daniel Ballou, Utica, Secretary; Daniel I. Devoe, Fort Plain, Treasurer; Edwin W. Wood, Fort Plain; Rev. Asa Saxe, D.D.,

Rochester; W. T. Pettingill, Holley; Alexander Martin, North Bloomfield; S. W. Thompson, Salisbury; Abram Devendorf, Fort Plain; Charles Bell, Esq., Herkimer; Henry Lyman, M.D., Sherburne.

Faculty.—William Cary Joslin, L.H.D. (Brown), principal, and Latin and Historical Studies; Elizabeth B. Flanders (Radcliffe), lady principal, and Rhetoric and English Literature; Warren S. Parks, A.B. (Tufts), Science; Walter C. Lee, A.B. (Yale), Latin, Greek, Spanish; Charles B Green, A.B. (Tufts), Mathematics; Margaret McNaughten, M.S. (Shepardson College, and Denison University), French, German, Italian; Anna M. Whitwell, English and History; Charles M. Guldner (Geneseo Normal School, and Rochester Business Institute), English and Commercial Department, Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Commercial Arithmetic, Penmanship; Minnie Dutcher, Phonography and Typewriting; Anna M. Whitwell, Civics and Economics; Rudolph Wertime (Königliche Hochschule für Musik, Berlin), Piano and Harmony; Elizabeth M. Ballou, Vocal Music; Zada B. Lee, Piano; Charlotte B. Barber, Elocution, Physical Culture and Gymnastics; Capt. John L. Barbour, 7th Infantry, U. S. A., Military Science and Tactics; May Dickerman, Librarian; Ten Eyck C. Parshall, Engineer and Curator.

The value of the buildings and grounds is at least $125,000. The other property consists of the general endowment of $25,000, and the John Westover Scholarship Fund of $10,000. The income of the Scholarship Fund is used (1) for the benefit of students fitting for the Theological School at Canton, N. Y., and pursuing college preparatory studies; and (2) for the benefit of students of limited means who are not preparing for the ministry, but whose parents are Universalists.

Catalogues with full information can be had on application to the President, Fort Plain, N. Y.

DEAN ACADEMY.

This is a first-class Boarding and Day School for both sexes. It is situated in Franklin, Norfolk County, Mass., twenty-seven miles from Boston, on the line of the New York and New England Railroad, and directly in communication with all parts of the country.

The Academy, which was incorporated in 1865, and which derives its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, owns a magnificent school edifice, with various outbuildings, valued at $240,000. The building is lighted with gas and heated by steam. It has every modern improvement and convenience for the comfort of the pupils. It has also an endowment fund which lessens the cost of instruction. A large and commodious gymnasium provides ample facilities for physical culture.

Board of Trustees.—President, James M. Pullman, D.D., Lynn; Vice-President, Albert Dickerman, A.M., Boston; Treasurer, Charles J. McKenzie, Franklin; Secretary, H. I. Cushman, D.D., Providence, R. I.; Latimer W. Ballou, LL.D., Woonsocket, R. I.; Augustus Harrington, Peabody; A. J. Patterson, D D., Roxbury; Hon. Joseph G. Ray, Franklin; E. H. Capen, D.D., President Tufts College; Gen. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. I.; David Cummings, Boston; Benjamin B. Whittemore, Boston; Almon Gunnison, D.D., Canton, N. Y.; Chester B. Smith, Woonsocket, R. I.; Charles J.

White, D.D., Woonsocket, R. I.; Bernard Merriam, Framingham; Rev. W. F. Potter, Winthrop; E. I. Comins, Worcester; S. F. Woodbridge, North Cambridge; George L. Perin, D.D., Boston; E. F. Endicott, Boston; J. C. Gallison, M.D., Franklin; George W. Wiggin, Franklin; Arthur H. Metcalf, Pawtucket, R. I.; Henry F. Harris, Worcester.

Board of Instruction—Arthur W. Peirce, A.B., principal, Chase professor of Latin; Howard R. Burrington, A.M., associate principal, Goddard professor of Mathematics; Charles S. Flanders, A.M., professor of Science; Louis Arnold, A.B., Greek and French; Miss Sara A. Hamlin, preceptress, teacher of Literature and History; Cora F. Adams, teacher of German and English; Marion Sherman, Elocution; Charles P. Scott, professor of Instrumental Music; Mrs. Minnie Little, teacher of Vocal Music; Adra R. Mason, teacher of Drawing and Painting; J. H. A. Smith, director of Gymnasium.

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years. A preparatory course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the regular courses. Special attention is given to fitting students for college.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of ornamental branches and washing per year, $225, divided as follows: First term, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Ornamental branches, Drawing, Painting and Music, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The Seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., six miles from Montpelier, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-six hundred volumes.

A new gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The new Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $50,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

Expenses.—Board, $3.50 per week, including room rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to about $175.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—W. R. Shipman, D.D., Tufts College, Mass.; Rev. S. A. Parker, Bethel; Charles Templeton, Barre; Hon. R. S. Taft, Burlington; Hon. A. T. Foster, Derby Line; Hon. Catalogues and other information may be had by addressing the principal at Barre.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in Portland, Me.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and a Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been expended and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The institution offers five courses of study. The English course, of three years, the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of these courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for any college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches, for the full school year, vary from $150 to $170.

OFFICERS OF THE CORPORATION.—Alfred Woodman, President; M. B. Coolidge, A.M., Vice-President; Charles S. Fobes, A.M., Treasurer; Hon. Augustus F. Moulton, A.M., Secretary.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT.

As this REGISTER is the last to be issued during the present Century, it may be profitable, as it certainly is interesting, to note the changes wrought in a hundred years. We entered the Nineteenth Century with two Conventions. The first organized as a General Convention, at Philadelphia, in 1790, ceased to exist with its session for 1809. The second, created in 1793, under the sanction of the Philadelphia Convention, was styled, according to its "Circular Letter," the "General Convention of the Universal Churches and Societies in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and New York." It has continued under slightly different names and is now "The Universalist General Convention."

In the following table we give all that we positively know concerning our strength in the year 1801, although a few churches as well as societies were then in existence. In New England and New York the society, or as we now call it, the parish, was from the first an organization distinct from the church. Farther South and West the church was the only organization, but in how many instances it was more than a business organization, like the society or parish, it would now be impossible to say.

The collection of statistics annually was not attempted until 1836, when the REGISTER was first published. For several years thereafter, as the following tables will show, the range of information was very limited. Although churches, as bodies of communicants, were organized by us as early as 1791, the first statistics with reference to them were given in the REGISTER for 1872, when 482 were reported, with a membership of 24,531. Distinctively Universalist Sunday schools began in 1816, but no statistics concerning them were placed in the REGISTER until 1872, when 439, with 43,286 members, were reported. The value of parish property first appeared in the REGISTER for 1871, when it was given as $5,550,940. The young people's religious organizations are first reported in 1888,—organizations 38, members not reported.

We had no academies—except one, located in Dudley, Mass., opened in 1819 and suffered to pass beyond our control in 1823—until 1831. Since then, eighteen have been started under Universalist auspices and fifteen as private enterprises conducted by Universalist managers and teachers. Many in each class were poorly equipped, without endowments and short-lived. Our first college was opened for students in 1853, our last in 1899. One became inextricably involved in debt in erecting its building, and ceased to exist when its edifice was sold. The first and only partial statistics of schools and colleges appeared in the REGISTER for 1871.

During the second settlement of Rev. Stephen R. Smith in Clinton, N. Y., 1828—1837, and also while Rev. Timothy Clowes, LL.D., was principal of the Clinton Liberal Institute, located in that village, thirty-seven young men, nearly all of them probably students in the Academical department of the Institute, fitted for the Universalist ministry under the direction of one or the other of these eminent men. While the late Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer was principal of the same Institute, 1845—1853, the same number of young men prepared for the ministry under his instruction. In 1856–57, Rev. Dr. J. S. Lee, while principal of the Green Mountain Liberal Institute, at South Woodstock, Vt., also had a theological class in which nine young men were prepared to preach. But no regularly equipped and endowed theological school was opened by us until 1858, with two teachers and four students. Partial statistics of Universalist theological schools were first given in 1867, when there was one school, having two professors and twenty-six students.

"The Free Universal Magazine," published quarterly in 1793–94, edited by Rev. Abel Sarjent, was our first periodical. "The Universalist Magazine," our first weekly paper, now "The Universalist Leader," issued its first number, edited by Rev. Hosea Ballou, July 3, 1819.

"The Universalist Publishing House" organized as "The New England Universalist Publishing House" April 21, 1862. Present name taken in 1867.

a. The Eastern Association, in the then District of Maine, organized in 1799. It became the Maine State Convention in 1823. Originally the Associations had all the powers of the General Convention, and also after the latter were formed, of the State Conventions. This continued until 1870, when Associations were shorn of all Ecclesiastical Authority.
b. Located in Gloucester, Boston, Oxford, Mass.; Portsmouth, N. H.; New York, N. Y.; New Hanover, N. J.; Philadelphia, New Britain, Penn.
c. New York organized the first State Convention, in 1826.
d. These figures are misleading, as many merely occasional preaching-places were frequently reported as Societies.
e. In these figures are included a large number of Union Meeting Houses in which our pecuniary interest was very small.
f. Many are included in these figures who were neither ordained nor fellowshipped, who were wholly engaged in secular business and only preached occasionally.
g. Reports this year were so imperfect that these figures are confessedly only estimates. Particularly with reference to Sunday school members, they must have been very wide of the truth.
h. No report was made for 1870. These are the figures for 1871.
i. Members, 15,219.

NECROLOGY.

The deaths of the following named preachers and former preachers, nineteen in all, have occurred since Nov. 2, 1898:

FREDRICK MASON HOUGHTON, born at Bethel, Me., October 20, 1855, died at Deering, Me., December 30, 1898. He received his education at the High School of Ashland, Mass., the Norway Liberal Institute, Norway, Me., and was graduated from Tufts Divinity School in 1880. He was ordained at Middletown, Conn., October 6, 1880. His pastoral settlements were in the following order: Lynn 2d, Mass.; Middletown, Conn.; Deering, Me.; Putnam, Conn. He also supplied the pulpits at Gardiner, Hallowell and Skowhegan, Me. Tumor of the brain, caused by overwork, laid him by for several years and finally resulted in his death. He was well equipped for his work and was successful in it, leaving behind him a record of great usefulness.

JOHN CALHOUN KOSSUTH STRAIN, born in McSemores, Ga., October 3, 1850, died at Bowie, Tex., January 10, 1899. He was the son of Rev. B. F. Strain, who died twenty-two years ago, having been a Universalist preacher in Georgia for twenty years. The son's early educational advantages were limited, as his father was in the Confederate army during his school-days, but he so well improved the opportunities in his home as to fit himself for a school teacher, which vocation occupied his time for several years. He fitted for the ministry under the guidance of his father, and was ordained at Mossy Grove Church, Ozark, Ala., October 10, 1880 His preaching places were, in their order of time, Garland, Brewton, Ala.; Greenwood, Fla.; Turin, Ga.; and many other localities in those States and in Texas; in the latter State he was for a time Secretary of the State Convention. He continued active as a preacher until about two years ago, when paralysis of the vocal cords compelled his retirement from service, but not from interest in and devotion to the Church of his love. His death, caused by neuralgia of the heart, occurred at the residence of his brother, the Rev. A. G. Strain, whom he was visiting in the hope of obtaining relief from his physical infirmities. "His life was a continual example of the excellence of the faith which he loved and defended and which sustained him in his long and distressing sickness and in the hour of passing out of his worn and wasted frame."

EDWARD FOSTER TEMPLE, born in Charlestown, Mass., January 16, 1854, died at Marion, Mass., January 30, 1899. Educated in the public schools of Charlestown and Somerville and at an academy in Windsor, Conn., he took an early interest in literature; he also developed a poetical talent and contributed many articles and poems to numerous religious and secular journals. Graduating from Tufts Divinity School in the class of 1881, his first preaching was done at Newburyport, Mass, where he was ordained September 6, that year. His first regular pastorate was at Mattapoisett, Mass.; subsequent settlements at Oneonta, N. Y., and over a Unitarian parish in Trenton, N. Y. In each of these three places he had a second settlement, having but recently re-engaged at Mattapoisett and Marion, when he was stricken with a sudden and brief sickness. "His work with the young people was quite exceptional. His boys' clubs have been among the most successful ever organized; he made them educational in the best way, and when he found talent was willing to give liberally to its development, and many young people can turn to him with gratitude for their start into a larger life. A brave, true man, a wise and helpful minister, for which our Church and the world can well be grateful."

VEAR PORTER WILSON, born in Westmoreland Co., Penn., April 1, 1828, died at Colorado City, Col., February 14, 1899. While quite a child his parents moved to Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, and he grew to manhood on their farm. He became a printer, and in 1858 started a paper at Dover, Ohio. During most of the time since then he has been engaged in publishing and editing newspapers. He became a Universalist and a preacher in early life, but was not ordained until 1861. His early labors in the ministry were chiefly in New Philadelphia, Ohio, and its vicinity and his work was in large measure that of a pioneer. "In 1870, recognizing the glorious opportunities of the prairie west, he organized what was ever afterwards known as the Buckeye Colony and went with it to Dickinson Co., Kan. He settled with his family in Abilene, the county seat, and started the Abilene Chronicle. It was here he gave largely of his means in the erection of a church building and organized a church and Sunday school. He served faithfully as pastor for many years. Many honors came to him from his fellow-citizens of Dickinson Co. and Kansas. He was probate judge, postmaster of Abilene, State Senator and for many years Regent of the State University. He took a keen interest in public affairs and his efforts for Kansas were as staunch and earnest as were those for his family. Through all these years of prosperity and honors that came to him and his devoted family in their beautiful home in Abilene, Kan., he never for a moment forgot his obligations as a minister, and was ever ready to preach the Gospel." He labored also in Topeka and Enterprise, Kan.; in Atwood and Denver, Col. "The immediate cause of his death was apoplexy.

When the summons came, it found the aged veteran ready, and surrounded by his children who could be present at his bedside, he closed his eyes to earth and his spirit returned to God who gave it."

ELISHA DICK, born in Frederick Co., Va., January 30, 1820, died in Adams township, Ohio, February 15, 1899. He was ordained October 19, 1856. Living on a farm, he never had a pastoral settlement, but "gave a great deal of effort and time without compensation to preaching the Gospel. Since 1876 he has been afflicted from the effects of a sunstroke, and has preached but little in that time. He and his loved companion have lived with their children for many years, in the possession of every earthly blessing and cheered and rejoicing always in the hope of the world's salvation. He died peacefully after a life well spent."

GEORGE SEVERANCE, born in Lempster, N. H. February 12, 1820, died at Northfield Farms, Mass., March 3, 1899. The theological atmosphere of his early home was oppressively Orthodox, his father being a deacon of a Congregational church, thoroughly imbued with the gloomy and revolting dogmas of Jonathan Edwards. The father honestly believed in a literal hell of fire and brimstone. Whatever mention his son heard of Universalism was in terms of condemnation and ridicule. When an opportunity offered for him to hear a Universalist sermon, he embraced it, and his soul was filled with gladness. The preacher was the late Rev. Dr. W. S. Balch, then pastor at Claremont, N. H. In spite of the protests of his father, young Severance continued to attend that church and was soon in the way of preparation to become a messenger of the glad tidings. "He felt like one coming from darkness into light," and he was eager to carry the message to others. He studied for the ministry with Rev. Samuel C. Loveland, and was ordained at the annual session of the Sullivan Co. Universalist Association at Washington, N. H., October 1, 1848. His first settlement was in Duxbury, Mass. The REGISTER next places him at East Bridgewater, Mass.; and then, in order of time, at Cabot, Glover, Essex, Tunbridge, South Royalton, Barnard, Rovalton, al in Vermont. "He took an interest in public affairs, in education, temperance and good government. He represented the town of Glover in the State Legislature two terms." His pastorate at Glover was in the most prosperous days of the "Orleans Liberal Institute," located there; and "his strong, clear, doctrinal preaching had no little influence on the students and the young people in that vicinity." A good man and well fitted for his work, he rendered in the days of his activity good service to the Church of his love.

SAMUEL ASHTON, born in Philadelphia, Penn., August 8, 1812, died in that city March 6, 1899. Brought up to attend the Episcopal Church, he became in early manhood a Universalist and an attendant on the preaching of the late Rev. Abel C. Thomas, under whose direction, doubtless, he was fitted to enter the ministry, and was ordained in Philadelphia November 19, 1834. Shortly after his ordination he went to Northern Pennsylvania. From 1837—when he is first mentioned on its pages—to 1841, the REGISTER locates him at Halifax, Penn.; 1842 to 1845, at Reading, Penn.; 1846, at Kensington, a part of Philadelphia; 1847 to 1854, at Philadelphia, but not as pastor in either of the two last named localities. His name then disappears until 1870, when he is located at Chicago, Ill., and preaching at Wheaton, in that State. The next two years he was without a charge; in 1873 he supplies a portion of the time at Des Moines, Ill.; and in 1874 he has settled at Lincoln, Ill.; 1875 at Farmington, Mich.; then at Peru, Ohio; Webster, N. Y.; 1882 to 1891, he is at Binghamton, N. Y., engaged in secular business and preaching occasionally. In 1891 he returned to Philadelphia and lived in retirement the remainder of his days. He was a preacher of the controversial age, always ready for debate, and doubtless rendering good service in his early ministry.

STEPHEN CRANE, D.D., born in Varick, Seneca Co., N. Y., March 21, 1835, died at Sycamore, Ill., March 17, 1899. The district school and a few private institutions of learning whose advantages he enjoyed several summers, while he was engaged in teaching winters, furnished him the rudiments of his education. At the age of twenty-three he began to prepare for the Universalist ministry, and on October 16, 1858, preached his first sermon in Scipio, N. Y., and was ordained in 1863. His pastorates were at Canandaigua, Cortland, McLean and Perry, N. Y.; Hillsdale and Bay City, Mich.; Norwalk and Attica, Ohio; Galesburg, Earlville and Belvidere, and Sycamore, Ill. "In all these parishes Dr. Crane made an enviable record and every interest of the Church was served under his ministry. He was a faithful pastor, conserving every interest of the Church and the denomination,—a wise parish builder who knew the foundations of church prosperity and builded faithfully and well,—always as in the sight of Him from whom he had, as we may believe, his original commission as a minister of the Gospel." As a preacher Dr. Crane was instructive and interesting, conscientious in his preparation for his work and diligent in his effort to understand and interpret the Holy Scriptures which he firmly believed "contain a revelation from God" and are authentic, genuine and authoritative. He was a frequent contributor to the Universalist papers; and since 1870, until its suspension in 1891, one of the most acceptable, instructive and critical writers for the Universalist Quarterly. His intellectual gifts were many. He thoroughly understood whatever he used his pen to bring before the attention of others and his style of composition was clear and attractive. In 1896, St. Lawrence University honored itself by recognizing his scholarship and general abilities and conferring on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. A good man and a strong man has left the Universalist Church weaker by his removal, though it will ever be gratefully remembered that his zeal, devotion and labors enriched its life.

EDWIN JOHN CHAFFEE, born in Rochester, Vt., March 19, 1850, died at Potsdam, N. Y., April 9, 1899. He graduated from the Canton Theological School in June, 1872, and was ordained July 18, 1872, at Barre, Vt., where he had his first settlement as pastor. He also had pastorates at Chester, Vt; North Adams, Mass.; Potsdam, N. Y.; Galesburg, Ill.; Middletown, Conn.; and again at Potsdam, N. Y. His final sickness was of more than a year's duration. "In this last year, his trust and patience became his coronal. Through all the piteous struggle of the weary months, emaciated, marble-featured, pain-tossed, death-smitten, no word of impatience or complaint passed his lips; he died as grandly and quietly as he had lived." "To know him," says his "school-fellow and classmate," "was to know at least one good man, tender, true and manly, in all the things that make men worthy of their Maker. His mind was finely intellectual and finely poetic. All things beautiful were a joy to him. His sermons were poems, in which duty, truth, love and God were painted with a master hand. In his breast was no guile. Bitterness, malice, never for a moment found lodgment there. He loved life He lived life so worthily he made it worth living. . . . Only with those who knew him and had learned to appreciate him did he pass for anything like his true value. To all such his strong, honest, manly face, his deeply expressive blue eye, revealed the noble, manly man, the strong and sweet Christian man. His pastorates were successful. They could not be otherwise. He was a reserved man, a model of sincerest modesty, sensitive to a degree, in regard to all things that concerned him personally. He was a fine scholar, a lover of books and the author of many a gem in verse. In the old days in Canton, more than twenty-five years ago, he was considered by the venerable Dr. Fisher the finest mind in his class. Dr. Fisher seldom failed in his judgments of men. Fortunate is the Church that has in its ministry men like Edwin John Chaffee. He has devoted his life, of a little less than fifty years, to the Universalist Church. He leaves it richer for his devoted ministry."

HENRY GROVES, born November 4, 1826, died at Rome, Ind., May 14, 1899. Although subject in childhood to the limitations and hardships of pioneer life, he obtained a good common school education and spent several years in teaching. He was ordained in 1855, having begun to preach in 1847. Although living on and cultivating his farm, and so without pastoral charge, he is said to have "preached almost every Sunday for more than forty years." "From boyhood to the end of life he was a close and industrious student of the Holy Scriptures; and he always kept fully abreast of the times in the investigation of all problems connected with religion and those things which affected the good of society. In a broad and practical sense he was a good scholar and a profound thinker. Endowed with a strong and winning voice and imposing personal figure and possessing the fixed habit of being acquainted and in sympathy with his subject, he was far above the average of pulpit orators." In the Indiana Convention, of which he was an honored member, his advice was often sought and always welcomed. At the last session of that body a fitting Memorial Service was held, and the Convention put the following resolution on its records: "That in the death of Rev. Henry Groves our Church has lost a most worthy and exemplary man, a consistent and loyal Christian minister—sterling, strong and devoted, whose place it will be difficult to fill."

WILLIAM NEALY MOTES, Sr., born in South Carolina, May 29, 1827, died at Emory, Tex., May 19, 1899. His early educational advantages were meagre. He was ordained a missionary in the Baptist church, at Smyrna, Rains Co., Tex., April 5, 1885. Having become a Universalist, he was licensed by the General Convention, April 2, 1890. We do not learn that he had any special pastorate. His work was of the missionary character and was all performed in the county where he was ordained. His death was sudden and unexpected, having taken place when he was in bed and alone, in the night—and caused, it is supposed, by heart failure. The Emory local paper paid a tribute to his memory, alluding to him as "a quiet, unobtrusive old gen leman, of unique and peculiar views of his own."

LORENZA HAYNES, born in Waltham, Mass., April 15, 1820, died in Waltham, Mass., June 6, 1899. Much of her early life was devoted to school teaching, in which labor she achieved success. In 1872, having determined to enter the ministry, she became a student at the Canton Theological School, which she left in the summer of 1874 to take charge of the Universalist church at Hallowell, Me., where she was ordained February 10, 1875. While in this pastorate she officiated as Chaplain in the State Senate and House of Representatives and was also Chaplain of the Soldiers' Home in Togus. She was subsequently pastor of churches in Fairfield and Skowhegan, Me.; Rockport and Pigeon Cove, Mass.; and again in Skowhegan, Me. The effects of overwork compelled her to resign this last charge, and since 1890 she had resided in Waltham, gradually failing in health. She was an acceptable preacher and did good work wherever her lot was cast.

WILLIAM NEWELL BARBER, born in Charlemont, Mass., March 2, 1818, died at Granby Centre, N. Y., July 1, 1899. Acquainted from boyhood with the writings of Winchester, Dr. Smith and Hosea Ballou, he fitted for the ministry under the instruction of his brother Joseph, a minister in the Universalist Church and also a physician. He was ordained in 1840, and had pastorates at Guilford, Dummerston, Cavendish, Vt.; Richmond, Va.; Ithaca, N. Y.; Reading, Penn.; Oswego, N. Y.; Wilmington and Williamsville, Vt. He also gave "seven busy years" to missionary work in Oswego Co., N. Y. "He was a dignified but genial man, a friend in whom anyone could place entire confidence, and in his pulpit ministrations an instructor, not an orator, he gave expression to his best thinking and left a lasting impression. . . . In the beautiful hamlet of Granby Centre he had long years ago purchased a home. At the age of seventy-one, a veteran indeed, with a glorious record of fifty years of energetic work as a preacher, he retired to this chosen spot. Here for ten years he lived, winning the reverent affection of all who knew him, and tenderly cared for by his daughter and her husband and daughter, his life's evening was made restful and happy."

DANIEL PARKER LIVERMORE, born in Leicester, Mass., June 17, 1818, died in Melrose, Mass., July 5, 1899. He was educated in the public schools of Leicester and at Leicester Academy. Through the influence of his mother, in whose society he greatly delighted, he declined the overtures of his brothers, who were manufacturers and decided to enter the Universalist ministry, in preparation for which he put himself under the tuition of the late Rev. Dr. W. S. Balch, while the latter was a resident of Providence, R. I. He was ordained at Georgetown, Mass., 1841, and had his first settlement in that town. He afterwards had pastorates in Duxbury, Fall River, Mass.; Stafford, Conn.; Weymouth, Malden, Mass.; and Auburn, N. Y. From the last named place he went in 1857 to Chicago, Ill., to take charge of the New Covenant, of which he became proprietor and editor, his accomplished wife becoming assistant editor. For a year he preached to the Second Universalist Church of Chicago, then just organized. Soon after this, continuing for thirteen years he served the Universalist Church as a self-constituted missionary, continuing in this broad field and at the same time devoting his untiring energies to the improvement of his paper. Before leaving New England he had associated with the late Rev. Russell Tomlinson in compiling an able controversial work entitled: Orthodoxy as it is; and while residing in Chicago he wrote and published the following named books: The Bible Doctrine of Hell; Guide to Universalist Theology; Comfort in Sorrow, besides many pamphlets, large and small. In later years he wrote and published several books on the Progress of the effort for Woman Suffrage, a reform in which he was early enlisted by the teachings and attitude of his mother, and in the progress of which he greatly aided his wife's eloquent platform efforts and her labors as Editor of the Woman's Journal. In 1870 Mr. Livermore and his family returned to Massachusetts and have since then made their home in Melrose. For ten years after his return he regularly supplied the pulpit of the Universalist church in Hingham. Blessed through his long life with perfect health he had passed his eightieth birthday before he required the services of a physician. Mrs. Livermore thus writes with reference to his last days: "There was first an inability to assimilate food, then a breakdown of the digestive apparatus,—excessive weakness and great emaciation,—enlargement of the liver, and then 'he fell asleep.' Throughout the whole illness he had not a moment of pain, nausea, fever or insomnia,—only weariness. His mind was unclouded to the very last and his cheeriness and hopefulness were conspicuous to the end. He kept his room only two weeks and passed away like a child going to sleep"

REUBEN MEDLEY, born in Nelson Co., Ky., October 26, 1818, died in Sacramento, Ky., July 5, 1899. A notice of his death in The Universalist Leader conveys the following information: "The cause of his death was general debility. His early educational advantages were limited, such as were only found in select schools in that day in Kentucky. But having a desire for knowledge, he found time for study and by persistence attained for himself a practical education. In early manhood he took to the study of medicine. At the age of 36 he joined the Universalist church at Breman, Ky. It was probably under the ministry of Rev. Joab Clark, one of the pioneer preachers of Universalism in Western Kentucky, that he received his first acquaintance of the faith and was induced to enter the ministry. He was ordained in 1856. His service for the Church was itinerant. For forty years he upheld the banner of Universalism. He was several times engaged in debate with orthodox ministers of more than local talent and prominence, and in every instance grandly acquitted himself. His character is commendable. It stands behind everything he did. Many who could not accept his interpretation of Christianity looked upon him as a model Christian. He truly practiced what he believed and preached. He treated life as a great blessing"

BERNARD PETERS, born at Durkheim, in the Rhine Palatinate, Germany, October, 1827, died at Marbledale, Conn., July 13, 1899. In his early childhood his father emigrated to the United States and settled in Marietta, then a pioneer town in Ohio. Educated in the schools of the town he early turned his attention to the study of the law, but on the coming of the late Rev. Dr. Flanders to Marietta to establish a Universalist church, he abandoned his law studies and in the summer of 1848 went to Clinton, N. Y., to fit himself for the ministry, under the instruction of the late Rev. Dr. Sawyer. The writer, who was his classmate, well remembers his fresh and boyish appearance at that time and his enthusiasm and zeal in the cause which was then dominant in his soul. He was a diligent student, quick to learn and ardent in his pursuit of knowledge. After a year in the school at Clinton he spent a winter in what is now West Virginia, teaching school, then pursued his studies at home two years and finally returned to Clinton for a short time. He was ordained in 1852. His first pastorate was in Cincinnati, Ohio; after that at Williamsburgh, (Brooklyn, E. D.) N. Y., and then at Hartford, Conn He then left the ministry to enter on Journalism, at first in connection with "The Post," and afterwards with The Williamsburgh Times," becoming in a few years the owner of the latter. He continued its successful publication until 1895, when he relinquished his care of it, the paralysis which ended his life, having then seized him. He was a man of great energy and industry, a clear thinker, and a man of unblemished life.

THOMAS JEFFERSON SAWYER, S.T.D., LL.D., born in Reading, Vt., January 9, 1804, died at Tufts College, Mass., July 24, 1899. The old-fashioned District School, attended winters in the sparsely settled town of his birth, supplemented by aid from Rev. Samuel C. Loveland, who was living in a neighboring town and was for many years the best scholar in the Universalist ministry, laid the foundation of his education. At the age of eighteen he became a teacher, and until he entered the ministry he was alternately a student and a district school teacher. He fitted for college at Chester Academy, and entered Middlebury College in 1825 Graduating therefrom in August, 1829, he at once began to prepare for the ministry under the direction of the late Rev. Dr. W. S. Balch, then residing at Winchester, N. H. At the session of the Franklin Association,

September 9, 1829, he was fellowshipped as a Universalist preacher, and was ordained at the session of the General Convention, at Winchester, N. H., September 17, only a week later. He has said that the haste in this case was not due to himself, but to Mr. Balch, who "represented me to the brethren in a light so favorable that they kindly voted to confer ordination."

In the spring of 1830 he went to New York and took charge of a small congregation then worshiping in a chapel on Grand Street. Universalism was at that time in a feeble condition in New York. Rev. Abner Kneeland, who had gathered quite a congregation in the Prince Street Church, had about this time disintegrated and scattered it by his avowal of atheistic convictions, and the outlook was gloomy. Mr. Sawyer threw himself boldly into the breach and by able and persistent labors turned the tide. It was slow work, requiring ability, tact and patience. These, combined with learning, fidelity, industry, courtesy in speech and dignity in manner, were eminently conspicuous in the young pastor. A fifteen years' pastorate succeeded. In 1832, Mr. Sawyer obtained a lease for two years of a church in Orchard Street, erected a few years before for the use of a Society of the Dutch Reformed Church, but which on account of failure in receipt of the contract-price, had fallen into the hands of its builders. This same year the cholera was a fearful epidemic in the city. In consequence many of the neighboring churches were closed, business was suspended and large numbers of ministers and people took refuge in the country. The Orchard Street Church was kept open every day, and the pastor's services, constantly in demand, bore rich fruits of comfort and hope. Two years later the Universalist Society bought the Orchard Street property at a chancery sale. In 1833, two zealous members of the society, in anticipation of future growth, purchased a church property situated in Sixth Avenue, which had recently been vacated by the Presbyterians. This reversal of the uses of such property greatly aroused Dutch Reformed and Presbyterian wrath, and intense activity was manifest in its expression. Paul "fought with beasts at Ephesus," and Mr. Sawyer was hardly less fortunate in New York. The Christian Intelligencer, the organ of the Dutch Reformed, and subsequently the New York Evangelist, the mouthpiece of the Presbyterians, made a bitter war on Universalism, denouncing it as "An expression of that supreme selfishness which for its own gratification would destroy the universe and dethrone the Almighty." Rev. Dr. Brownlee, a prominent Dutch Reformed minister, came out with a course of lectures against Universalism, which he was courteously invited to repeat in the Orchard Street Church, but declined. The lectures were promptly replied to by Mr. Sawyer in his own pulpit and subsequently published in the Christian Messenger, the Universalist organ, edited by him. Later, the Rev. E. F. Hatfield published a violent and acrimonious book, entitled, "Universalism as It Is," which brought from the Orchard Street pastor a prompt and crushing review, also in book form. Rev. S. H. Remington, a Methodist preacher, also entered the list of disputants, giving several lectures in opposition to a sermon published by Mr. Sawyer, which the latter promptly answered. And so for several years the work of attack and of defence went on and the Universalist pastor was kept constantly employed in his duties as preacher, pastor and editor. No wonder that those who sat under his preaching became well grounded in the faith.

In the summer of 1845, Mr. Sawyer left New York City to take charge of the Clinton Liberal Institute, our oldest academy, located at Clinton, Oneida Co., and opened for pupils in 1831. He also undertook, in addition to his duties as Principal of the Institute, to devote two hours each school day to the instruction of such students in theology as should attend. The theological classes were continued until 1853, thirty-seven young men availing themselves of the advantages they offered. Having resigned as Principal of the Institute at the time of giving up his theological classes, he returned to New York and again became pastor of the Orchard Street Church, where he remained until the breaking out of the war in 1861, when he retired to his farm in Clinton, being busy with his pen and preaching as opportunity offered until January, 1863, when he again returned to New York and took editorial charge of the Christian Ambassador for three years; then, after a few years' retirement on a farm in New Jersey, he moved to Tufts College, where in the fall of 1869 he was inaugurated as Professor of Systematic Theology. In 1890, owing to impaired eyesight, his active work ceased and he became Professor, Emeritus, a position which he held to the day of his death.

In the above very brief hint at his work as preacher and teacher, no mention has been made of his labors in other directions for the Church of his love; nor can the more prominent of them be more than named in our remaining space. At the session of the General Convention held in Albany, N. Y., in 1834, the Univeralist Historical Society was organized at his instance, and he was elected Secretary and Librarian, which offices he continued to hold sixty-five years, or until his last day on earth. In 1844, as a committee appointed by the General Convention, he drafted a Plan defining the powers and jurisdiction of the General and State Conventions, substantially on the ground of the present government of the Church. In 1847, he issued a call for a meeting in New York in the interests of Education, which resulted in the establishment of Tufts College, of which he was one of the original Board of Trustees, and the first President of the Board. Lombard University and the Canton Theological School each solicited him to take its presidential chair, which he declined. Probably his last work in sermon writing was the preparation of the Occasional Sermon for the session of the General Convention at Washington, in October, 1893, although until within a year of his decease he continued to be a valuable contributor to the denominational papers.

Any notice of Dr. Sawyer's life would be incomplete which did not refer to the loveliness of his home life and to his talented and most excellent helpmeet, to whom he was married in 1831. Mrs. Sawyer was in most hearty sympathy with all her husband's labors, and bravely shared all his privations and trials. They reared a large family, but amid all domestic occupations and cares she found time to wield her pen in producing work of high literary excellence, giving her best thought to the advance and enrichment of her beloved Church. Their home was a constant delight and satisfaction to them and to their children and is a precious memory to hosts of friends who tarried with or visited them.

In recognition of his scholarship and literary work, Harvard College conferred on Mr. Sawyer the degree of S.T.D. in 1850. In 1895, Tufts gave him the degree of LL.D. His last days were free from pain or distress, and he passed from us simply from physical exhaustion:

> The wheels of weary life at last stood still."

All honor to his memory!

HARRY LAWRENCE VEAZEY was born in Haverhill, Mass., July 25, 1870 and died by drowning in Caspian Lake, Greensboro, Vt., August 16, 1899. The public schools of Brentwood, N. H., and the Academy at Kingston, N. H., were attended by him, his precocious mind retaining and comprehending at once all that these could teach him. He was associated for several years with his father, a builder and contractor, and in this capacity they went to and assisted in building up the town of Harriman, Tenn. Joining the Universalist church in that place soon after it was organized, he was induced by his pastor, Rev. Dr. McGlauflin, to prepare for the ministry and for this purpose became a student at the Canton Theological School. He had his first settlement at Harriman, where he was ordained July 25, 1897. Subsequently he supplied the pulpit at Woodsville, N. H., during the temporary absence of the pastor in the army. In December last, he became pastor at St. Johnsbury, The local paper in a notice of his death says: "Though Veazey has been here less than a year he has endeared self to all his parishioners and was active in all lines of church work. He had begun to get well acquainted outside his parish and there are many who will long remember this scholarly preacher, and his death at a time when he was doing such excellent work in this community, is one of those events which no mortal can explain. He had already secured a reputation outside the borders of the parish by his public addresses." Mr. Veazey was spending his vacation with his mother and sister, in a cottage at Caspian Lake having as their guest, Miss Ellen Frances Calhoun, of Chicago to whom he was engaged in marriage. In company with her he left the cottage on the evening of August 16th for a moonlight row upon the lake. In some unexplained manner they fell from the boat and were drowned. It was a sad ending so far as earth is concerned, of two estimable and talented lives.

JEREMY HOADLY FARNSWORTH, born in West Hartford, Conn., October 2, 1822, died at Natick, Mass., October 27, 1899. A fair common school education laid the foundation for his literary and professional abilities, and labor on the farm and in cotton factories gave him a lasting interest in the laboring classes. Becoming at seventeen years of age a Public School Teacher, he soon "heard the call of God to give himself to the Christian Ministry," and in the study and under the direction of Rev. A. A. Folsom he prepared himself for the studies and duties of a preacher. He was ordained at Hingham, Mass., Aug. 18, 1844, where he had his first settlement. He was afterwards at Quincy, Mass.; Somers, Poquonock, Williamantic, Conn.; Newark, N. J.; Belfast, Me.; Rockport, Mass.; Pawtucket, R. I.; Meriden, Conn.; Springfield, Vt.; Des Moines, Iowa; Medford, New Bedford, Mass.; Lockport, N. Y.; Hallowell, South Berwick, Me.; Westfield, Charlton, Natick, Mass "The churches which he planted were planted on the Rock. The parishes which he led were strengthened in all the graces of real godliness. He was on the right side of all moral reform movements and spoke his earnest word on behalf of Temperance and Freedom and the Rights of Woman and Peace. But he spoke so wisely and so lovingly as to waken little antagonism, and to carry his points without friction or discord. . . . His home was happy. His churches peaceful and prosperous. God was to him the enduring reality. The burden of his worship was praise. God preserved to him the elasticity of youth and strengthened him for the work of his love and choice, down almost to the closing scene. And then when his hand faltered and his step grew feeble, so that he deemed it wise to surrender his pastoral charge, the message of translation quickly came and 'he was not,' for God took him. Having walked with God in loving fellowship on earth, he lives with Him forevermore."

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of he General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK, and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1901.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organization of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1901—is to be held in Buffalo, N. Y., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, J. Coleman Adams, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies" In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported in 1900, aggregate $308,752.63, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $147,058.03. The income of this fund

is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause"

II. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884, on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $14,783 58.

III. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York, bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $18 012.81.

IV. Adu Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the fund amounts to $9,260.

STATISTICS.

As in last year's REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicate that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received and that the statements given are taken from the REGISTER of last year. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship: the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, from clerks of parishes not regularly supplied with preaching, and from official reports of State Convention Secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources the figures of the last reported year are used.

titative Analysis; Virgil L. Leighton, A.M., Ph.D., instructor in Organic Chemistry; Charles H. Chase, S.B., instructor in Shop Work; F. Ess, Ph.D. instructor in Modern Language.

Finances.—The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than $1,700,000.

Scholarships.—There are upwards of fifty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. All the courses are four-year courses but provision is given to students to complete them in less with superior work. From the beginning of the sophomore year the studies are almost wholly elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston, on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges, $100. Board, from $3.50 to $4 a week.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the departments of Tufts College, the general advantages of which are enjoyed by all its members in common. The College Library, the Museum of Natural History, the Gymnasium, are open to all. Courses of study and lectures in the College of Letters are open to the Divinity students, subject, however, to the discretion of the Faculty. The graduates of the Divinity School in common with the graduates of the other departments are enrolled in the Quinquennial Catalogue of the college, and are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association of Tufts College.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., LL.D., president, in charge of Political Economy; Charles H. Leonard, D.D., Dean, Goddard professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; William G. Tousey, A.M., D.D., professor of Ethics and Philosophy of Theism; George T. Knight, D.D., secretary, professor of Church History, also in charge of Systematic Theology; George M. Harmon, A.M., D.D., professor of Biblical Theology; David L. Maulsby, A.M., professor of Oratory; Warren S. Woodbridge, A.M., B.D., Woodbridge professor of Applied Christianity. Non-resident lecturers: Edwin C. Bolles D.D., lecturer on the Worth of Avocation to the Minister; Henry W. Rugg, D.D., lecturer on Christian Missions; William H. Dearborn, B.D., lecturer on the Preacher's Intellectual Resources; Frank O. Hall, B.D., lecturer on the Work of the Ministry; Richard Eddy, D.D., lecturer on the History of Universalist Doctrines; Hon. Henry B. Metcalf, lecturer on the Ministry from a Layman's Point of View.

Requirements for Admission.—Candidates unknown to the Faculty must bring satisfactory testimonials of good character. It is expected that they will present themselves on the day preceding the first day of the academic year.

Bachelors of Arts are admitted to a three-years' course, without examination, to be candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Candidates for this degree who are not Bachelors of Arts are required to take a four-years' course, and to well sustain an examination on average passages from the Latin of Cæsar, Cicero, and Virgil; and on average passages from the Greek of Xenophon, Homer, and the Gospels. Ability to read simple prose in French or German, and to write in French or German a paragraph upon an assigned subject, is accepted as an alternative for the requirement in Latin. They are also required to pass a satisfactory examination in Greek, Roman, English, and American History; in Rhetoric; in English Literature and in English Grammar and Composition, in which the requirement is as follows:—

English Grammar and Composition.—Spelling, punctuation, structure of sentences, correct use of words, clearness of expression.

The examination will consist (1) in criticising specimens of incorrect English; (2) in writing a short composition on a subject assigned. Subjects for composition will be drawn from the following standard works in English literature. All the books named for the given year are to be read, and from two or three of them subjects will be assigned at the time of examination.

For 1900.—Dryden's Palamon and Arcite; Pope's Iliad, Books I., VI., XXII., and XXIV.; The Sir Roger de Coverly Papers in The Spectator; Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield; Scott's Ivanhoe; De Quincey's Flight of a Tartar Tribe; Cooper's Last of the Mohicans; Tennyson's Princess; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's Paradise Lost, Books I. and II.; Burke's Speech of Conciliation with America; Macaulay's Essays on Addison and Milton.

Applicants from other theological institutions whose course of study is the equivalent of that pursued in this institution, will be received ad eundem.

EXPENSES AND PECUNIARY AID.

Beginning with the college year 1897-98, students in the Divinity School will be charged one hundred dollars annually for tuition. This charge will include the privilege of occupying a room in Paige Hall, and provision for heating and caring for it. A remission of one-half of this amount may be made by the Executive Committee of the Trustees to students who cannot be accommodated in Paige Hall or who live at home. The necessary expenses for board, washing, gas, gymnasium charges do not exceed two hundred dollars a year. The General Convention of Universalists aids students who are commended by the Faculty, by a gift of one hundred and twenty-five dollars a year; and the Faculty of the Divinity School is authorized to assign scholarships to those whose circumstances require it. Those students, also, who are in the regular course are permitted to preach, under the direction of the Faculty, during the year and a half preceding their graduation. In this way they may add to their pecuniary resources.

TUFTS MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., LL.D., president; Harold Williams, A.B., M.D., dean, and professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine; Charles P. Thayer, A.M., M.D., secretary, and professor of General, Descriptive and Applied Anatomy; Henry W. Dudley, M.D., professor of Pathology; Frank G. Wheatley,

A.M., M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Samuel G. Webber, A.B., M.D., professor of Neurology; Ernest W. Cushing, A.B., M.D., professor of Abdominal Surgery and Gynæcology; Arthur E. Austin, A.B., M.D.; professor of Medical Chemistry and Toxicology; Charles A. Pitkin, A.M., Ph.D., professor of General Chemistry; John L. Hildreth, A.B., M.D., Emeritus professor of Clinical Medicine; Henry B. Chandler, M.D., professor of Ophthalmology; Walter Channing, M.D., professor of Mental Diseases; Frederick L. Jack, M.D., professor of Otology; George H. Washburn, A.B., M.D., professor of Obstetrics; Frederic M. Briggs, A.B., M.D., professor of Clinical Surgery; Timothy Leary, M.D., professor of Pathology and instructor in Bacteriology; Albert P. Mathews, Ph.D., assistant professor of Physiology; Horace D. Arnold, M.D., professor of Clinical Medicine. Herbert Warren White, M.D. assistant professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine; E. Manning Stowell, A.B., M.D., assistant professor of Children's Disease; George W. Kaan, M.D., assistant professor of Gynæcology.

Admission.—Applicants must be of good moral character, and unless they have previously matriculated in some accredited medical college or are graduates of some reputable college, high, or normal school, or of an institution of a similar grade, must pass an examination upon the branches of an English education, including Mathematics, Composition, and Elementary Physics.

Graduation.—Candidates must be twenty-one years of age, must have studied medicine four full years, attended four courses of medical lectures, the last at this college, dissected one full course and passed all the required examinations. Graduates of other medical colleges in good standing, can obtain the degree by attending one full course of lectures and passing the examinations of the senior year. It is understood that attendance upon a course of lectures requires actual presence at a majority of the exercises of each term.

THE DENTAL SCHOOL.

The Boston Dental College has been absorbed by Tufts College, and will be known hereafter as the Tufts College Dental School. The course of study covers three years and leads to the degree of D.M.D.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., LL.D., president; Harold Williams, A.B., M.D., dean, and professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine; Charles P. Thayer, M.D., secretary, and professor of Anatomy; Edward W. Branigan, D.D.S., professor of Clinical Dentistry; Frederick M. Hemenway, D.D.S., professor of Mechanical Dentistry; George A. Bates, D.D.S., professor of Dental Histology and Microscopy; Frank G. Wheatley, A.M., M.D., professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Albert Prescott Mathews, S.B., Ph.D., professor of Physiology; John C. Munro, A.B., M.D., professor of Principles and Practice of Surgery; Timothy Leary, M.D., professor of Pathology and Bacteriology; Joseph King Knight, D.D.S., professor of Prosthodontia.

ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.

St. Lawrence University, founded in 1856, is located at Canton, St. Lawrence County, N. Y. It comprises two departments: The College of Letters and Science, and the Canton Theological School. These departments are independent in their faculties, funds and government. Men and women are admitted to both departments. The University confers no degrees on a course of study of less than four years. The courses are full, the instruction thorough, and the mental training practical and efficient.

HERRING LIBRARY.—Librarians, Henry Prentiss Forbes, D.D., Robert Dale Ford, M S. The library, founded by the late Silas C. Herring, and embracing about ten thousand volumes, is contained in Herring Library Hall.

1. THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE.—Courses The College of Letters and Science offers courses leading to the degrees of B.A. and B.S. The last three years of each course are largely elective.

Faculty.—Almon Gunnison, D.D., president; Absalom Graves Gaines, D.D., LL D, Craig professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and of Political Economy; Henri Hermann Liotard, M.A., professor of French and German; Henry Priest, M.A., dean, and Hayward professor of Physics and Chemistry; George Robert Hardie, M.A., recorder, and professor of Latin; Robert Dale Ford, M.S., professor of Mathematics; Frederick C. Foster, M A., professor of History; C. K. Gaines, Ph.D., professor of Greek and English; George L. Kimball, instructor in Physical Culture; William Newton Logan, Ph.D., instructor in Geology and Mineralogy, on the Chapin foundation.

Calendar —The college year is divided into two terms. The second term will begin Feb. 11, 1901. Tree holiday, April 26. Commencement, June 26. The first term of the succeeding year will begin Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1901.

Expenses.—Tuition, fifty dollars a year. Board, from $3.00 to $4.00 per week. Twenty-two free scholarships.

2. THE CANTON THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.—Courses of Study.—The regular course of instruction, for Diploma, covers three years For the degree of B.D., four years. These courses include the departments of Ethics, History, Theology, Comparative Religion, Homiletics, Apologetics, Church Administration, Psychology, Sociology, and Interpretation and Criticism. Students so situated as to require it may enter for a shorter term than the regular course, and will be entitled to a certificate stating their attainments.

Conditions of Admission.—The students particularly desired are those who give promise of usefulness in the ministry of the Universalist Church. The best preliminary preparation is a classical course in college. Students whose opportunities have not admitted of such preparation are received if they possess a High School or equivalent education in English. Sound moral principle and approved Christian standing are indispensable.

Lectures.—Courses of lectures on preaching and pastoral work are given each year by eminent clergymen,—Universalist and other.

Faculty.—Almon Gunnison, D D , president; J. S. Lee, D.D., professor of Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Archæology; H. P. Forbes, D.D., professor of Biblical Languages and Literature; Rev. Lewis Beals Fisher, Ryder professor of Preaching and Pastoral Theology; O. Cone, D.D., professor of Theology and Ethics; A. B. Hervey, Ph.D., lecturer on the Church and the Ministry.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856. It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3.00 a week; in the village. $3.50. Students may obtain assistance from the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $125 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar.—First term closes Jan. 19, 1901. Second term opens Feb. 17. Commencement, June, 26, 1901. Fall term begins Wednesday, Sept. 28, 1901.

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-five classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 875. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Twenty-one credits are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitation or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 153 courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of forty full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the twenty-one credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Highest grade instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel painting and china painting.

Faculty of Lombard College.—Charles Ellwood Nash, A.M., D.D. (Lombard) (Tufts), president; Isaac A. Parker, Ph.D. (Buchtel), professor of Greek; N. White, Ph.D., (St. Lawrence) (Tufts), in charge of Ryder Divinity School; Frederick W. Rich, D.S. (Cornell), professor of Natural Sciences; Philip G. Wright, A.M. (Harvard), professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Jon. W. Grubb, M.S. (Lombard), professor of Latin; Ralph G. Kimble, A.B., B D. (Lombard), professor of Applied Christianity and Pastoral Theology; Frank H. Fowler, AM., Ph.D. (Lombard), (University of Chicago), professor of English; M. Agnes Hathaway, Dean of Women, and instructor in Mathematics and History; Emma B. Wait, professor of German and French; Theo. C. Kimble, instructor in Biology; Chas. E. Varney, instructor in Biblical Geography and Archæology; Rudolph Lundberg, director of School of Music, instructor in Piano, Harmony and Voice Culture; Wm. H. Cheesman, instrtctor in Violin, Mandolin and Guitar; Maude A. Miner, instructor in Elocution and Dramatic Art; Isabelle Blood, instructor in Fine Arts, Drawing and Painting; Mary C. Bartlett, matron of Ladies' Hall; non-resident lecturers, M. D. Shutter, D.D., Geo. L. Perin, D.D.

Board of Trustees.—Hon. Samuel Kerr, Chicago, President; Charles H. Webster, Galesburg, Treasurer; Lake W. Sanborn, C. E. Nash, D D., J. D. Welsh, Albert Webster, W. W. Washburn, Robert Chappell Hon. Howard Knowles, Mary Claycomb Grubb, J. N. Conger, George B. Stocking, D.D., Galesburg; Almon Kidder, Monmouth, Ill.; Lyman McCarl, Quincy, Ill.; J. B. Harsh, Creston, Iowa; M. D. Shutter, D.D., Minneapolis; A. J. Canfield, D.D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. B. Tompkins, Avon; J. L. Lombard, Kansas City; Charles Styer, Indianapolis; Mrs. E. P. Townsend, Sycamore, Ill.; Rev. R. F. Johonnot, D.D., Oak Park; George Tapper, Chicago; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis; Hon. Hamilton L. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove, Ill.

Gymnasium and Ladies' Hall.—The Gymnasium, completed in 1897, is one of the handsomest, completest, and best appointed buildings for the purpose in the West. Physical education is made a specialty. The new Ladies' Hall, completed in 1896, is also a thoroughly modern and well-equipped building, which offers the advantages of a refined home under maternal oversight.

Expenses.—Tuition fees are low, being $8.50 per term for each full course, proportionate for fractional courses. Board in Ladies' Hall, with heat (steam) and light (gas), $3.50 to $4.25 per week. In private families, from $3.50 a week upwards. Self-boarding at a minimum cost encouraged. A College Commons has been opened where board is furnished at cost, the rates being $1.75 per week, or somewhat less if paid by the term in the year in advance.

The Ryder Divinity School.—The Divinity School of Lombard College was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the College the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the College exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

Tuition in the Divinity School is free to those studying for the Christian ministry. Admission requirements will be explained on request.

Catalogues sent on application to C. Ellwood Nash, D.D., President, Galesburg, Ill.

BUCHTEL COLLEGE.

This institution is situated in the city of Akron, Summit County, Ohio. It was founded by the Universalist State Convention of Ohio, and was named in honor of John R. Buchtel, its most liberal benefactor. It was opened to students of both sexes Sept. 11, 1872.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—President, Hon. George W. Crouse, Akron; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles R Olin, Akron; Judge Newell D. Tibbalis, Akron; Rev. Andrew Willson, Ravenna; Arthur A. Stearns, Cleveland; George L. Case, Cleveland; Alexander W. Maynes, Akron; D. Irving Badger, Akron; William T. Sawyer, Akron; Hon. I. N. Hathaway, Chardon; Judge U. L. Marvin, Akron; Rev. C. F. Henry, Cleveland; Johnson A. Arbogast, Akron; Wallace L. Carlton, Akron; Rev. A. B. Church, Akron; Rev. H. L. Canfield, D.D., Bellville; Frank H. Mason, Akron.

There are three four-years' courses of study—the classical, the philosophical, and the scientific. There is also a preparatory course for each of these courses, which includes a normal course. The college also offers ample facilities for the study of music and art.

Faculty.—Ira Allen Priest, A.M., D.D., president; Charles M. Knight, A.M., Sc.D., Buchtel professor of Physics and Chemistry; Carl F. Kolbe, A.M., Ph.D., Hilton professor of Modern Languages; Charles C. Bates, A.M., professor of the Latin and Greek Languages and Literature; S. P. Orth, B.S., professor in Natural Science; Hermas V. Egbert, A.M., Ainsworth professor of Mathematics and Astronomy; Maria Parsons, A.M., Pierce professor of English Literature, and instructor in Logic and English History; L. Elmie Warner, Ph.B., instructor in Oratory on a year's leave of absence; Casita McEbright, A.B., instructor in Oratory; Augustus B. Church, A.M., instructor in Mental and Moral Philosophy; Ralph E. Myres, assistant in Chemistry and Physics; Oscar E. Olin, A.M., principal of Preparatory Department, and teacher of English and School Management; Arabella M Armstrong, A.B., teacher of Latin; Albert I. Spanton, Ph.B., teacher of Mathematics; Park R. Kolbe, assistant in Latin; D. B. Hassinger, teacher of Painting and Drawing; Ralph E. Myres, assistant in Physical Science Department; Estelle Musson, teacher of Piano; Katharine S. Parsons, teacher of Vocal Music; Mabel C. Goodwin, teacher of Violin; Mrs. L. A. Kroehl, preceptress of the young women.

Expenses.—The necessary yearly expenses of students range from $150 to $200. Board in clubs at cost. There are fifty perpetual scholarships, each of $1,000, yielding an annual income of $60. These are intended to aid worthy and deserving students. Number of students season of 1899-00, 272.

THE SOUTHERN INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE.

The Southern Industrial College was established at Camp Hill, Ala., March 29, 1899, for the purposes named in the following: Realizing the need of an Industrial School in the South, it is our desire that said school shall be established at once to fit young men and women for the work of life, whether in manual training or in literature and art. We desire, further, that a Theological department shall always be maintained for the training of young men for the work of the Universalist ministry. It is our purpose to give to the children of this generation, and all succeeding generations, the privilege of the best culture and the broadest religion known to men. Believing in the goodness of God, and that His requirements are to do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with Him, we shall maintain such schools for ourselves and our posterity The institution is established on the following condition: The religious and political liberties of the students are not to be infringed upon.

Board of Trustees.—President, Quillen Hamilton Shinn, D.D., Boston, Mass.; Secretary, Rev. Lyman Ward, Camp Hill, Ala.: Treasurer, L. Andrews Trimble, Presley, Ala.; Mrs. Athalia Johnson Irwin, Columbia, S. C.; Martin M. Teague, Mountville, S.C.; Robert A. Credille, Pensacola, Fla.; A. J. Owens, Canon, Ga., Rev. Thomas Chapman, Winder, Ga.; Daniel B. Clayton, D.D., Columbia, S. C.; H. E. Newbury, Magnolia, N. C.; George M. Slaughter, Camp Hill, Ala.

Faculty.—Rev. Lyman Ward, B.S., president; Mr. L. Andrews Trimble, professor of Mathematics; Miss Kate Terry, M.A., professor of English; Rev. Frank Oliver Hellier, B.D., Ph.D., professor of the Greek Language and Literature; Jane Connell, B.A., Ped. D., professor of the Latin Language and Literature; William Theodore Langley, M.D., instructor in Physiology; Miss Mary Bedford, instructor in Physical Culture and Music; Mary L. Smith Ward, Librarian; William T. Langley, superintendent of the College Farm; Cornelius A. Whittelsey, superintendent of Carpentry; O. C. Ferrell, superintendent of Printery.

Calendar.—The college year embraces two terms of eighteen weeks each. College closes the last Thursday in May, and opens the second Wednesday in September.

Candidates for admission to the college must present suitable recommendations as to character and fitness for college work. As the college embraces a fitting school, no entrance examinations, as such, are required previous to matriculation. Examinations are held at the beginning and close of each term, and special examinations are given as occasion demands. The candidate, therefore, may elect one of two methods of procedure. He may, if his previous training will warrant, come before the faculty and be examined, and be assigned to such classes as are best adapted to his needs; or he may, if his training has been scant or neglected, come before the faculty and be assigned classes without examination. All examinations are written. It is the desire of the faculty that all candidates for the college course shall be well trained in the rudimentary subjects, and hence it lays special stress on the work of the fitting school. No course has been laid down as yet in any department of the college. The work of classification for the past year has been difficult. The lack of high schools in our vicinity, and the many private and public schools with no system of grading, has made our work doubly hard. Still, progress has been made, and by another year we shall be able to report a course of study for the various departments. Our work is thorough, and the aim is to give a good high school and college training to all our students. In a general way it may be said that the course in the fitting school will be about the same as that laid down by any first-class high school or preparatory school. In mathematics, the student will complete the study of arithmetic, finish algebra through to quadratics and plane geometry; in English, complete English grammar and Hill's Foundations of Rhetoric; in history, complete United States history, general history and English history; in science, physiology, hygiene, chemistry and physics, all in short courses, and physical and descriptive geography complete; in civics, the laws of Alabama and the United States constitution; in Latin, three years' study is required; in Greek, French or German, a two years' course is required. Throughout the whole tuition exercises are constantly given in reading, spelling and composition work. A short course of study is given in English and American literature. The work of the college will be to complete, somewhat, the work of the fitting school. Higher algebra, solid geometry, plane and spherical trigonometry, analytic geometry, calculus and astronomy will very nearly cover the college course in mathematics. The sciences, languages, histories, civics and literature will be taught in higher form and more completely in college. To those who complete the college course, the Bachelor's degree is given. To those taking a special course, certificates will be given. For further particulars, address the President.

The college possesses a library of 500 volumes, that may be loaned to students and residents of Camp Hill. The library is open throughout the college year on the afternoons of Monday, Wednesday and Friday. A reading-room, in charge of the librarian, is open at all times during the college year. Some of the leading magazines and newspapers are kept constantly on file. Donations of books and magazines are gladly received. The library needs, particularly, an encyclopedia.

Expenses.—The tuition fee has been fixed at $20 a year. No student will be graduated or honorably discharged who is in arrears for college bills. Board may be obtained at prices ranging from $5.00 to $8.00 per month. Text books may be secured at reduced rates at the college for cash. Expenses should in no wise prove a barrier to any person who desires the privilege of a college training. This college is founded especially for needy boys and girls, and the President, therefore, invites correspondence on this subject.

Industrial.—In the founding of this school it has been our purpose to do just two things: First, to provide a thorough course of study. and, second, to provide the means for pursuing such course of study; The first would be to give to every boy and girl a thorough training in the sciences and in literature and art. The second would open the way to him, no matter how poor, of getting an education. It will be plain, then, that this college is founded for poor boys and girls especially. At present we have three industries—farming, carpentry and printing.

Farming.—The college farm is under the superintendency of a practical farmer. The farm is operated largely at present for practical results, but the theoretical and experimental is not lost sight of. It is of greatest need that our young men, many of them, at least, shall become thrifty and practical farmers. We are to raise all our food. Our gospel is to raise our food and own our land. By the actual work on our farm we not only give wise instruction in farming, but helpful habits of industry and sobriety are also taught. Students taking the course in farming are required to work five hours on each school day and ten hours on Saturday. This pays in full for board and tuition. Room, lights and fuel are included in the account for board. Text-books and washing are not included.

Carpentry.—Young men in this department are given regular instruction under a competent teacher. The work of each student is carefully examined, and criticisms and helpful suggestions are at all times made. Beginning with the coarser kind, the student learns all the various grades in the trade, and is graduated a finished carpenter. Learners in this department are required to work the same number of hours as those who labor on the farm.

Printery.—We have a small printing plant, and can give instruction to a few young men in the art of printing. For terms, etc., for this department, correspondence must be had with the president.

Study.—Each industrial student spends four hours in school each day. College opens at 8 a.m. each day, and closes at 5 p.m. The students are divided into two sections, one working in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The morning division spends four hours in the school in the afternoon, and the division laboring in the afternoon attends school in the morning.

Theological Department—This department is to be maintained for the fitting of young men and women for the work of the Universalist ministry. The fields are many and inviting in the South, and the call for well-equipped Universalist ministers is urgent and imperative. No profession to-day is more full of promise than that of the liberal Christian minister.

Admission—Any person of good character and assenting to the Winchester Profession of Faith and the Chicago Declaration may become enrolled as a student of this department.

Courses of Study. The course of study will be about the same as that in the other Universalist theological schools. The same system of examinations and markings will be adhered to as in the other departments.

Expenses.—No charge is made for tuition, and the other items of expense may be found under the heading of "expense" in the general catalogue.

For information, always address the President, Rev. Lyman Ward, Camp Hill, Ala.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE.

The main building of the Institute was destroyed by fire a few months ago. There will be no school until it is rebuilt.

DEAN ACADEMY.

This is a first class Boarding and Day School for both sexes. It is situated in Franklin, Norfolk County, Mass., twenty-seven miles from Boston, on the line of the New York and New England Railroad, and directly in communication with all parts of the country.

The Academy, which was incorporated in 1865, and which derives its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, owns a magnificent school edifice, with various outbuildings, valued at $240,000. The building is lighted with gas and heated by steam. It has every modern improvement and convenience for the comfort of the pupils. It has also an endowment fund which lessens the cost of instruction. A large and commodious gymnasium provides ample facilities for physical culture.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—President, James M. Pullman, D.D., Lynn; Vice President, Albert Dickerman, A.M., Boston; Treasurer, Bernard F. Merriam, South Framingham; Secretary, H. I. Cushman, D.D., Providence, R. I.; Augustus Harrington, Peabody; A. J. Patterson, D.D., Roxbury; E. H. Capen, D.D., President Tufts College; David Cummings, Boston; Benjamin B. Whittemore, Boston; Chas. J. White, D.D., Woonsocket, R. I.; Rev. W. F. Potter, Winthrop; E. I. Comins, Worcester; S. F. Woodbridge, North Cambridge; George L. Perin, D.D., Boston; E. F. Endicott, Boston; J. C. Gallison, M.D., Franklin; George W. Wiggin, Franklin; Henry F. Harris, Worcester; William H. Sweatt, Franklin; Stanley J. Smith, Woonsocket, R. I., Edward H. Rathburn, Franklin; Adelbert D. Thayer, Franklin.

Board of Instruction—Arthur W. Peirce, Litt. D., principal, Chase professor of Latin; Howard R. Burrington, A.M., associate principal, Goddard professor of Mathematics; Charles S. Flanders, A.M., professor of Science; Harry W. Forbes, A.B., Greek and French; Miss Sara A. Hamlin, preceptress, teacher of Literature and History; Cora F. Adams, teacher of German and English; Marion Sherman, Elocution; Charles P. Scott, professor of Instrumental Music; Pauline Woltmann, teacher of Vocal Music; Adra R. Mason, teacher of Drawing and Painting; Nathan Pulsifer, A.B., director of Gymnasium.

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years. A preparatory course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the regular courses. Special attention is given to fitting students for college.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of ornamental branches and washing per year, $225, divided as follows: First term, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Ornamental branches, Drawing, Painting and Music, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The Seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., the Granite City, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-six hundred volumes.

A new gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The new Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $57,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

Expenses.—Board, $3.50 per week, including room rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to about $175.

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in the Deering suburb of Portland, Me.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and the McArthur Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been recently expended and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The institution offers five courses of study. The English course, the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years, and the oratory course of three years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of these courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for any college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches, for the full school year, vary from $150 to $170.

Officers of the Corporation.—Alfred Woodman, President; M. B. Coolidge, A.M., Vice-President; Charles S. Fobes, A.M., Treasurer; Hon. Augustus F. Moulton, A.M., Secretary.

NECROLOGY.

The deaths of the following named preachers and former preachers, sixteen in all, have occurred since October 27, 1899:

LEWI MACOMBER HAWES, born in Jefferson County, N. Y., died in Omeha, Neb. December 4, 1898. He was a school teacher in his earlier years, and was ordained to the Christian ministry, in 1856, and for twenty-five years thereafter, he was both teacher and preacher. He was Chaplain of the 37th Wisconsin Infantry during the last year of the rebellion. In 1877 he became a resident of Adair, Ia., where he lived twenty years; was for five years the city's honored mayor, and postmaster during President Harrison's administration. He was esteemed as "a consistent, intelligent Christian gentleman."

SIMON PETER CARLTON, born in Mahoning County, Ohio, March 23, 1816, died at Columbus, Ohio, December 18, 1899. "From his early days he bore the conviction that he must be a minister, and feeling the need of a more thorough education he entered the West Farmington College and completed his classical course in that institution on the Western Reserve." He was ordained in 1845, and for fifty years was constantly employed, much of the time itinerating in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia. He had a "record of forty-seven public discussions, generally held from four to six days with so-called Orthodox ministers. His discussions generally involved the question of human destiny, though one of his latest debates was a six days' siege with one of the foremost materialists and skeptics of the country." For this service he was selected by the Methodists, and was entertained by them during its progress. The last five years of his life were passed in physical weakness, but his life was a constant sermon, and even in his delirium he was pursuing his dearly loved profession. A good man and true, his labors were not in vain, but hundreds were brought by them into the light and joy of the Christian faith as he interpreted and exemplified it.

GEORGE FRANKLIN JENKS, born March 4, 1827, died at Salem, Mass., January 30, 1900. In early life he studied medicine, graduating from Harvard Medical School. He practiced in Wareham and Bridgewater, but the night work was injurious to his health and he abandoned that profession for the ministry, to which he was ordained in 1857. His settlements were in Shirley, Mass.; twice in Orleans, Mass.; New Salem, Mass.; Thompsonville, Conn., and Alstead, N. H. "His last work for our Church was in the office of THE UNIVERSALIST LEADER, where for many years he was assistant to his brother-in-law, Rev. Dr. Emerson, and after Dr. Emerson's death, he had charge of the paper until the new editor was elected. In all these positions he proved himself a man of superior ability and displayed a spirit of Christian courtesy that won and held the respect of all who knew him."

AMOS CRUM, D.D., born October 4, 1846, died at Boone, Ia., January 31, 1800. Of his early life we have no information, but if memory is not at fault, he was a student in theology with the late Rev. Dr. W. S Balch, and was ordained at Hinsdale, Ill., January 8, 1873. His pastorate were at Corunna, Mich.; Bay City, Mich.; twice at Dubuque, Ia.; twice at Webster City, Ia.; Boone, Ia. In 1897 he was appointed State Missionary of Iowa, an office in which he was eminently efficient, and which he held at the time of his death. Rev. Dr. J. S. Cantwell, announcing his death in THE UNIVERSALIST LEADER, said of Dr. Crum,—the Doctorate was confessed by Lombard University in 1893,—that "he had many of the gifts of a successful preacher and pastor. He was a man of well furnished mind, and of clear and incisive speech, with the temperament of the natural orator. While well fitted for a high position in the pastorate, he seemed, at least in recent years, to be more at home in convention work, and in administering the details of the State organization. . . . During the last few years he has filled the position of Superintendent, and traveled extensively in that capacity, administering the concerns of the convention and churches with care, devotion and ability. He undoubtedly wore himself out in these exhausting labors. Preaching several times a week, and going from point to point at the call of the churches, his vitality became exhausted, and when disease came upon him he had not the power to rally. He died a martyr to his strenuous labors in this capacity, and goes down to his grave amid the sorrows of his brethren."

ROBERT BERMIE WETMORE, born in Fredonia, N. Y., in 1867, died in Newport, N. Y., February 13, 1900. Graduating from the State Normal School in his native village, he was several years engaged in school teaching. Becoming interested in the varieties of religion brought to his notice, his mind found satisfaction and rest in Universalism, and he entered the Canton Theological School, from which he graduated with the class of 1898, and entered on his work as a Christian minister, in charge of the Newport and Middleville, N.Y., churches, receiving ordination in the latter, September 21, 1898. He threw himself into his work with great energy,—"even with reckless disregard of his own limitations of health and strength. He literally undertook everything. Besides his large responsibilities in his own churches, he gave himself freely to the calls from without. The result was inevitable." His pastorates were eminently successful.

HENRY BENJAMIN HOWELL, born in Olcott, N Y., in 1841, died in Medina, N. Y., February 19, 1900. Leaving his student life at Clinton Liberal Institute, in 1862, he entered the Union army, a private in the 151st N. Y. Volunteers, and was promoted to a captaincy a year later, and served through the war. Soon after being mustered out he entered the Canton Theological School, and after two years study settled in Branchport, N. Y., where he was ordained in 1868. His subsequent pastorates were in Ridgeway, N. Y., Shelburne Falls, Mass., Le Roy and Clifton Springs, N. Y. For several of his later years he resided on his farm at Medina N. Y., and as occasion offered, supplied neighboring pulpits. He "was a man greatly esteemed and loved for sterling qualities of character. He was conscientious, earnest and faithful, and his sympathetic nature drew men strongly to him, so that in affliction many sought his ministry of consolation."

THOMAS HARTLEY JOHNSON was born in Salem, Mass., in 1809, and died in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 12, 1900. At twenty years of age he emigrated to Ohio, "walking across the Alleghanies with a company of fellow emigrants, and going down the river from Pittsburg in a flatboat." A shoemaker by trade, he in early life accumulated quite a fortune. He was fellowshipped as a lay preacher in 1842, and although never having a pastorate, was until near the close of his life, very much engaged in the duties of his profession, being in great demand, far and near, especially for funeral services, being eminently "a son of consolation." Few preachers among us were more widely known in the West, and his life was an honor to the Christian cause.

THOMAS SPENCER LATHROP, born in Bridgewater, Mass., November 4, 1822, died at North Salem, N. Y., March 20, 1900. He was educated at the Normal School at Bridgewater, Mass., and at the Meadville Theological School. He was ordained in 1848, and had settlements at Calais, Me., Somerville, Mass., Bridgeport, Conn., and North Salem, N. Y.; in the last parish he served thirty-three years." Here he studied and wrote, thought and planned for the education, refinement, spiritual uplifting and daily prosperity and happiness of his devoted flock. He gathered a fine library, which he freely loaned to anyone who would read and care for the books. He was a man of refined character, who ministered for a generation in one church, without the faintest breath of suspicion that he was not genuine and true in every fibre of his being. His parish extended over a wide territory. He was called to attend funerals for nearly twenty miles in all directions, and his services grew in demand as he became better known." His wife, for forty years, formerly Mrs. Eliza Ann Bacon, whose first husband was the Rev. Henry Bacon, was a gifted and lovely woman, whose literary labors and graciousness of spirit, made her eminent in intellectual and social circles.

OMER GENERE PETRIE, born in Eldorado, Ohio, January 26, 1870, died in Palmer, Mass., April 28, 1900. Becoming a member of the Universalist Church in his native town at the age of sixteen, he received his special training for the ministry at Tufts College Divinity School, from which he graduated in 1894 with the highest honors. His first pastorate was at Canton, Mass., where he was ordained June 18, 1894. After a successful pastorate at Canton, he was called to Palmer, Mass., in 1896. He was greatly interested in the "Young People's Christian Union," in which he from time to time, held offices of responsibility and trust. "As man and minister it can be said in all moderation, he was without reproach. Large-minded, pure-hearted, gentle of disposition, yet a tower of strength for every right cause, his ministry has been that of a true disciple of the Master. His instincts were scholarly, his preaching exceptionally able, his personal influence always uplifting, his interest in public affairs unfailing, and he was not far removed from the ideal pastor."

MASSENA GOODRICH, born in Portsmouth, N. H., September 15, 1819, died at his home in Central Falls, R. I., May 2, 1900. Educated in the public schools of his native place, and a student in theology under the direction of Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou, 2d, he was ordained to the Christian ministry at Haverhill, Mass., January 1, 1845. As a Greek and Hebrew scholar, he had no superior, perhaps no equal among us, and until a few days before his death, it was his custom, for more than fifty-years to read a portion of the Old and New Testaments in their original tongues, each day. "When this custom ceased," said his devoted wife, "I knew that the end could not be far away." His pastorates were at Haverhill, Mass.; East Cambridge, Mass.; Lewiston Falls, Me.; Waltham, Mass.; and twice at Pawtucket, R. I. In 1860, he took the chair of Biblical languages and literature in the Canton Theological School, from which on account of the derangement of the affairs of the School by the Civil War, he retired in 1862. The writer, pastor at Canton, N. Y., during most of the time of Mr. Goodrich's connection with the school, has grateful recollections of his generous consideration and helpfulness as a parishioner, and of an affectionate friendship then begun and continued with undiminished fervor during the remainder of his life. On leaving Canton Mr. Goodrich entered on his second pastorate at Pawtucket, which continued until 1873. From thence, until within a short time before his decease, he supplied pulpits in Valley Falls, Cumberland, Georgiaville, Harrisville, R. I., in the latter place for fourteen years. From April 1876 to April 1900, he was associate editor of the "Pawtucket Gazette and Chronicle," doing highly acceptable work on a great variety of topics. He was also selected by the town officials of Pawtucket to write the history of that town He had read extensively, and his memory was wonderfully retentive. He was a devout, upright, pure-hearted, clear minded man, ever walking closely with God. The holy scriptures were to him the records of eternal truth, and no man among us understood them better or expounded them more clearly and effectively than did Massena Goodrich. "Like the prophet Samuel," said Rev. Mr. Wooley, of the Congregational church in Pawtucket, at the funeral of Mr. Goodrich, "he was a man of prayer, a devout man, and one came very near to the throne of heavenly grace who followed him in this helpful service. His public addresses were delightful. His language was choice, simple, elegant and plain. He was a man of broad charity and boundless sympathy. His aims and purposes of life were high, and to be useful was his most earnest desire. A man of faith and religious belief, he was an intelligent observer of men and things, and sought to adapt himself to their conditions and needs. . . . In his life and conduct he was circumspect, without ostentation, humble, gentle, courteous and kind, a refined Christian gentleman. . . . It is with feelings of affection and honor that I pay this tribute to his memory."

HENRY NEWTON BROWN, born in Liberty, Union County, Ind., May 21, 1834, died in Dublin, Ind, June 21, 1900. In his early manhood he was a tanner by trade, and later was engaged in the drug business. Brought up in a very hotbed of Methodism, his young mind was tortured with fear, and he often "wished that God were dead." At the age of seventeen he fell in with the late Rev. Dr. G. T. Flander's review of "Hall's Universalism Against Itself." This, he said, "was a god-send to me. I read by day and meditated by night, and as the tormenting fear went out of my life, God and his love came in. I felt as one born into a new life." He was licensed to preach at Dublin, Ind., in 1885; but before this he had preached at a few funerals. His ordination took place at Pleasant Grove, Ind., February 12, 1888, where he had his first pastorate. Subsequently he served, by monthly appointments, at Ireland, Saluda, Devon and Boston, Ind., and in New Madison, Ohio, closing his labors at Pleasant Hill, Ind. Ill health compelled the relinquishing of his work. Near the close of life he said: "My ministerial career has been very pleasant. Never have I heard an unpleasant word. My love and thanks go out to all my people for their great kindness to me." His praise is spoken wherever he labored.

CHARLES WESLEY BIDDLE, D.D., born in Chesapeake City, Md., December 3 1832, died in Brookline, Mass., August 4, 1900. Educated in the schools of his native town and at the Academy at Wilmington, Del., his special fitting for the ministry was at Easton, Penn., under the ditection of his brother-in-law, the late Rev. James Gallagher. He was ordained at Southold, N. Y., where he had his first settlement, in 1855. His other settlements were at Stafford, Conn.; Newark, N. J.; Lynn, Mass., where he remained seventeen years; North Cambridge, Mass., for fifteen years; a few months at Spencer Mass.; and since 1896, at Brookline, Mass. He was endowed with a quick-witted, versatile mind, and was eminently an "all around man." Genial and humorous, but never sacrificing sacred things, nor compromising his profession by trifling, he instructed while he cheered and made his wit the servant of nobler ends. He was a constructive worker, and his personal hold on his people was always strong and helpful. "For a number of years he was the president of the Massachusetts Universalist Convention, a trustee of the Bethany Home, in Boston, a trustee of the Universalist Publishing House, a lecturer at Tufts College and a prominent contributor to THE UNIVERSALIST LEADER. Few men will be longer missed and mourned by his ministering brethren, and few remembered more gratefully and tenderly by the churches to which he ministered, than will Dr. Biddle.

HENRY BERNARD SMITH, born in Marietta, Ohio, February 16, 1848, died in Lockport, N. Y , August 20, 1900. Graduating from Marietta College in 1870, he was ordained the same year, and supplied at various places for a few months, taking his first pastorate at Lockport, N. Y., in 1873. From Lockport he went to Stoughton, Mass., thence to Nashua, N. H., where he remained thirteen years, when protracted illness compelled his giving up his charge. On recovering he took charge of the church at Troy, N. Y., which he served four years. Soon after leaving Troy he was prostrated by his old nervous troubles and returned to Lockport to die among his early friends. "He possessed a rare and generous personality. It expressed itself in all he said and did. . . . Though he did very much for Universalism in the pulpit by his earnest and thoughtful sermons, he did even greater things for his faith by his ministry among men in social and fraternal relations. This is especially true of his residence in Troy, where he will long be most affectionately remembered. The great laws of conduct which he urged on Sunday, he demonstrated in his life every day in the week. The faith in the eternal verities which he presented to the hopeless and despondent had been learned in the school of experience, and it took strong hold of people and comforted them, because he made it a reality."

ROYAL HENRY PULLMAN, D.D., born in Auburn, N. Y., June 30, 1826, died at Camp Royal Island, St. Lawrence River, N. Y., August 26, 1900 He was fitted for college at Portland Academy, Chatauque County, N. Y., and graduated at Lombard University. from which institution he received his degrees of A.M. and D.D., and studied theology with the late Rev. Dr. George W. Montgomery, receiving ordination in 1855. His first settlement was at Olcott, N. Y., then at Fulton, N. Y., Peoria, Ill., and then for five years he was secretary of the General Convention, which position he resigned in 1877, and became pastor at Baltimore, Md., serving there until 1897. "During the forty years of his ministry Dr. Pullman served only four charges, and at each he erected a new church and left an increased congregation." Rev. Dr. Eaton said at the funeral services in Baltimore, "It is possible that we should not rank Dr. Pullman among the men of intellectual genius, but as a genius of sentiment he will long remain a more than pleasant memory to the thousands who were given the privilege of knowing him. He was a great preacher, an earnest Christian, a devoted husband, a kind father and a faithful friend, but first of all he was a pure and a good man." His love of Universalism was an all-absorbing passion, and the evidence of it, so manifest in his ministry will long remain in the uses of the gifts which he made available by his death,—his bequests to the General Convention, Lombard College and the church in Baltimore.

CHARLES SUMNER NICKERSON, born in Chatham, Mass., November 28, 1861, died in Gardiner, Me., September 13, 1900. Passing through all the schools in his native place, he engaged several years in secular business with his father; but a longing to be instrumental in spreading a knowledge of the faith which "from a child" he had been taught by doctrine and example in his home, led him, to the great joy of his father, to enter Tufts College Divinity School to fit himself for the Universalist ministry. He graduated, with honors, in 1886, and on the 20th of July of that year, was ordained in Beverly, Mass., where he had his first pastorate. From there he went to Chicago, Ill., then to Norwood, Mass., and after serving the General Convention several months as financial agent and a brief work in Abington, he took up the pastoral charge at Newtonville, which failing health compelled him to relinquish, and he sought rest and recuperation among old friends at Norwood, Mass. A year thus spent so far conduced to his recovery that he accepted a call to Gardiner, Me., where his success was phenomenal. He infused new life and zeal into the parish, raised a sum necessary for extensive repairs and adorning of the church edifice, and just as these were nearing completion he became a victim of pneumonia and closed his earthly career His Christian spirit and bearing won the hearts not only of his own people, but also of the ministers and people of all the churches in the city. The Protestant clergy were all in attendance at his funeral in the freshly beautified church, and the Roman Catholic priest paid a high tribute to his worth and his Christian work, the Sunday after his burial at Chatham. He was in the front rank of the young preachers in our Church, and left his mark on our periodical literature and on the churches to which he ministered. A good man and true, his works follow him.

JOSEPH SELMAN DENNIS. born in Marblehead, Mass., September 23. 1829, died in Chicago, Ill., November 12, 1900. Although it is thirty-seven years, since, on account of the growing infirmity of deafness, Mr. Dennis retired from the ministry, his name most worthily has place here. Forced at an early age, on account of poverty in his home, to seek employment in a woolen factory. his interest in religion was early awakened by that eminently saintly man, the late Rev. John Boyden, and under his direction he took up a course of study, and prepared for the Christian ministry, to the work of which he was ordained sometime in 1843 His pastorates were in Attleboro, Melrose, Boston and Lowell, Mass., and Dubuque, Ia. His deep, rich, flexible voice. instantly arrested attention in every assembly wherever he lifted it up, and his thoughts well repaid the interest thus excited. Entering secular business in 1863, and soon becoming interested in the manufacture of the now world-known tubular lantern, he was forced in order to defend the claims of his patents, to familiarize himself with the laws relating to patents, and attained high rank in the courts and among business men. Never abating his interest in Universalism, he was liberal in its support, and almost his last work was by his own purse and solicitations from others, extinguishing a debt on the Riverside Church, Cal., which if it had not been undertaken and so unselfishly carried to completion, would ere this have wrested that property from our possession He died at a good old age, a faithful Christian to the last.

UNIVERSALIST PROFESSION OF BELIEF AND CONDITIONS OF FELLOWSHIP.

Adopted as an amendment to Article III. of the Constitution of the General Convention, at its session in Boston, October 23, 1899.

I. The Profession of Belief adopted at the session at Winchester, N. H., A.D. 1803, is as follows:

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ARTICLE II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is Love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ARTICLE III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

II. The conditions of fellowship shall be as follows:

1. The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist Faith, to wit: 1. The Universal Fatherhood of God; 2. The Spiritual authority and leadership of His Son, Jesus Christ; 3. The trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God; 4. The certainty of just retribution for sin; 5. The final harmony of all souls with God.

The Winchester Profession is commended as containing these principles, but neither this nor any other precise form of words is required as a condition of fellowship, provided always that the principles above stated be professed.

2. The acknowledgment of the authority of he General Convention and assent to its laws.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that CHRISTMAS SUNDAY, i. e. the Sunday nearest Christmas, be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on EASTER SUNDAY A SERVICE OF RECOGNITION be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated CHILDREN'S SUNDAY,—in all cases, where practicable, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, or as near thereto as possible; that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF OCTOBER, in each year, be set apart as MEMORIAL SUNDAY, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the FIRST SUNDAY OF NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as ALL-SOULS SUNDAY, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are GOD'S children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the THIRD SUNDAY OF MAY, in each year, be set apart as EDUCATIONAL SUNDAY, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church. And that on the same day an appeal be made to our SUNDAY SCHOOLS for aid in the HOME MISSIONARY WORK of our Church.

7. It is recommended that the FOURTH SUNDAY IN NOVEMBER, in each year, be set apart as JAPAN SUNDAY, for the presentation of the claims of our FOREIGN WORK, and for soliciting pecuniary aid therefor.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER,

FOR 1902.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian provinces, meets biennially. The next session—1903—is to be held in Washington, D. C., on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, W. S. Crowe, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents, the Vice-Presidents and the Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to two clerical and four lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed, but a less number of parishes may unite to choose two delegates, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention; and if there be one parish so situated, it is entitled to two delegates. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported in 1901, aggregate $316,127.20 and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $143,058.03. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. Church Extension Fund. This fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $14,927.73.

III. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn, of New York, bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $18,128.01.

IV. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1896 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., on condition that he was to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income should be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He afterward conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill. The property has been sold, and the fund amounts to $9,260.

V. Waverly (Iowa) Fund $800.

VI. G L Demarest Reserve Fund $14,000.

VII. William H Ryder Fund $25,000. The income only to be used "at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, for the education of young persons for the ministry of the Universalist Church." But the Board may, in a certain contingency, apply a portion of such income "to the credit of any Missionary or Church Extension Fund" under their control and direction.

VIII. The "T" Fund. A lady of New York, who desires that her name shall not at present be published, has paid $12,000 to the Convention as a fund, the income of $7,000 after the decease of the donor, to be added to the Theological Scholarship Fund, and that of $4,000 to be applied to the aid of the home church of the founder, and that of the remainder to be equally divided between home and foreign missions-

IX. Henry P. Porter Fund. $1,000.

X. The Jennie L. Sinclair Fund. $4.487.48.

XI. Mrs. Nancy Bliss Fund. $2,511.01.

XII. Foreign Missions Fund, the gift of Lucian Blackmer, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo., with the addition of $100 by Mrs. Martin, of West Henrietta, N. Y. $7,100.

XIII. The Clarissa L. Crane Fund, the gift of Clarissa L. Crane, late of Stamford, Conn., "to be used and applied by the Trustees of the Convention to the general uses and purposes of the corporation." $3,000.

XIV. The Mrs. W. J. Bartlett Fund, the gift of Mrs. Nancy Bartlett, late of Milford. Mass. $6,463.48.

XV. The Sarah P Blake Fund, the income to be used "for the benefit and promotion of the Universalist denomination in this country." $1,694.81.

STATISTICS.

As in last year's REGISTER, so now, it has been deemed advisable to place first all needed statements in regard to State organizations, arranged as heretofore, alphabetically. The same order of arrangement is also made of the Parish statistics, which immediately follow.

The location of parishes and other preaching places, according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive; (‖) that the parish is not in formal fellowship. Where the name of a parish is preceded by a dagger (†) it indicates that no recent information has been received. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations b. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure. In the column designated "Preachers," the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (‖) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship. An asterisk (*) prefixed to the name of a Parish Clerk, Superintendent of Sunday School or Secretary of a Young Peoples Organization, denotes that the officer is a woman and should be addressed as Miss; two asterisks () that she should be addressed as Mrs.

The statistics except those relating to the Young Peoples Religious Organizations are from official reports of State Convention Secretary to the Secretaries of the General Convention. In the absence of information of recent date from this source the figures of the last reported year are used.

Information of new parishes or preaching places received since receipt of the General Secretary's tabular statements, follow the respective tables. A few parishes should be dropped, but it could not conveniently be done at this time. Gains in new parishes, members and etc., will about offset any known losses.

Finances.—The aggregate assets of the college at the present time, including the buildings and one hundred and twenty acres of land, are not less than $1,900,000.

Scholarships.—There are upwards of fifty scholarships of $100 each in the gift of the college. Additional assistance, in the form of gratuities, is rendered from time to time, as circumstances may require.

In the collegiate department the course of instruction is similar to that of other first-class colleges. All the courses are four-year courses but provision is given to students to complete them in less with superior work. From the beginning of the sophomore year the studies are almost wholly elective. The location is elevated and healthy, retired and free from distraction, yet easily accessible, being four miles from Boston, on the Boston and Lowell Railroad.

Men and women are admitted to the college courses on the same terms.

Expenses, from $250 to $300 per year. College charges, $100. Board, from $3.50 to $4 a week.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

The Divinity School is one of the departments of Tufts College, the general advantages of which are enjoyed by all its members in common. The College Library, the Museum of Natural History, the Gymnasium, are open to all. Courses of study and lectures in the College of Letters are open to the Divinity students, subject, however, to the discretion of the Faculty. The graduates of the Divinity School in common with the graduates of the other departments are eligible to membership in the Alumni Association of Tufts College.

Faculty.—Elmer H. Capen, D.D., LL.D., president; Charles H. Leonard, D.D., Dean, and Goddard professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; William G. Hervey, Ph.D., lecturer on the Church and the Ministry.

This is our oldest theological school, having been founded in 1856 It is now well endowed; has an elegant and substantial building for its exclusive use, and one of the best theological libraries in the country. German and French may be studied at Canton under the most favorable conditions. Students in the theological school are permitted to pursue any study in the college without charge. No charge is made for tuition or for the use of the library. Board in the club, $3.00 a week; in the village, $3.50. Students may obtain assistance from the General Convention, when needed, to the extent of $125 a year. Gifts to needy and deserving students, in limited amounts, are made from the "Gage Fund" and the "Lester Taylor Fund."

Calendar.—The same as the College Department.

LOMBARD COLLEGE.

Lombard College is located in Galesburg, Illinois. It received its charter Feb. 15, 1851, and the institution was opened for the reception of students in the autumn of 1852. From the first, women were admitted to all departments of the University on the same conditions that were appointed for young men, this being the second college in the United States to adopt the principle of co-education. The first class, consisting of two women and four men, was graduated in 1856. Forty-six classes have been graduated, with a total membership of 392. As organized at present, the College embraces four departments of instruction: The College of Liberal Arts, the Preparatory School, the Ryder Divinity School, and the School of Music and Art. The College year begins the first Tuesday in September and closes on Commencement Day, the first Thursday in June. There are three terms each year.

The College of Liberal Arts has adopted the Elective System of study. Candidates for admission to College may elect from a list of twenty-four subjects, in English, Mathematics, the Languages, the Sciences, and History, those studies in which they shall be examined. Twenty-one credits are required for admission to full standing. Students admitted to full standing will be ranked as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. After admission, students in the College of Liberal Arts may with advice from the faculty, elect any study which they are qualified to pursue. Advanced courses in any subject may not be elected until the necessary preliminary courses have been taken.

Elective studies are classed as courses or half courses, according to the estimated amount of work in each and its value in fulfilling the requirements for graduation. In general, a course, in any study, consists of five hours of recitation or lectures, or ten hours of laboratory work per week for one term. The College offers instruction, at present, in 164 courses and twelve half courses. The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon any student who has satisfactorily completed the aggregate amount of forty-two full courses, elected from the studies offered in the College of Liberal Arts, beyond the twenty-one credits required for admission.

The Preparatory School furnishes suitable instruction and thorough training to students who wish to prepare themselves for college or for business.

The School of Music and Art is under the direction of thoroughly competent teachers. Highest grade instruction is given in Harmony, Theory, Composition, History of Music, etc., piano, organ, violin, mandolin, guitar, voice culture, sight and chorus singing, drawing, crayon, pastel painting and china painting.

Charles A. Webster, Galesburg, Treasurer; Lake W. Sanborn, C. E. Nash, D D., J. D. Welsh, W. G. Waterman, Dundee, Ill., Hon. Edwin H. Conger, Pekin, China; Robert Chappell Hon. Howard Knowles, Mary Claycomb Grubb, J. N. Conger, George B. Stocking, D.D., Galesburg; Almon Kidder, Monmouth, Ill.; Lyman McCarl, Quincy, Ill.; J. B. Harsh, Creston, Iowa; M. D. Shutter, D.D., Minneapolis; A. J. Canfield, D.D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. B. Tompkins, Avon; J. L. Lombard, Kansas City; Charles Styer, Indianapolis; Mrs. E. P. Townsend, Sycamore, Ill.; Rev. R. F. Johonnot, D.D., Oak Park; George Tapper, Chicago; Thomas Lowry, Minneapolis; Hon. Hamilton L. Karr, Osceola, Iowa; Rev. John Hughes, Table Grove, Ill.

Gymnasium and Ladies' Hall.—The Gymnasium, completed in 1897, is one of the handsomest, completest, and best appointed buildings for the purpose in the West. Physical education is made a specialty. The new Ladies' Hall, completed in 1896, is also a thoroughly modern and well-equipped building, which offers the advantages of a refined home under maternal oversight.

Expenses.—Tuition fees are low, being $3.50 per term for each full course, proportionate for fractional courses. Board in Ladies' Hall, with heat (steam) and light (gas), $4.00 to $5.00 per week. In private families, from $3.50 a week upwards. Self-boarding at a minimum cost encouraged. A College Commons has been opened where board is furnished at cost, the rates being $2.00 per week, or somewhat less if paid by the term in the year in advance.

The Ryder Divinity School.—The Divinity School of Lombard College was opened for the admission of students on the 5th of September, 1881. The first class was graduated in 1885.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1890, it was voted to name the theological department of the College the Ryder Divinity School in honor of the late William Henry Ryder, D.D., whose munificent bequests to the College exceed fifty thousand dollars. The largest benefaction to the Divinity School from any other source was received from the late Hon. A. G. Throop. In 1890, Mr. Throop gave twenty thousand dollars toward the endowment.

Tuition in the Divinity School is free to those studying for the Christian ministry. Admission requirements will be explained on request.

Catalogues sent on application to C. Ellwood Nash, D.D., President, Galesburg, Ill.

BUCHTEL COLLEGE.

This institution is situated in the city of Akron, Summit County, Ohio. It was founded by the Universalist State Convention of Ohio, and was named in honor of John R. Buchtel, its most liberal benefactor. It was opened to students of both sexes Sept. 11, 1872.

DEAN ACADEMY.

Dean Academy is a boarding and day school for young women and young men of the highest grade. It is situated in Franklin, Mass., about half way between Boston and Providence, on the N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad, and is easily accessible from New England, New York and the West.

The Academy was incorporated in 1865 and takes its name from the late Dr. Oliver Dean of Franklin, who provided for its foundation with generous munificence. The school building is a fine structure with every convenience and comfort for the maintenance of the school. It is lighted with gas and heated by steam. A substantial and commodious gymnasium and the Ray Science Building for laboratory purposes comprise the equipment in buildings. The large endowment enables the school to provide liberally the best instruction and a most comfortable home.

Board of Trustees.—President, James M. Pullman, D.D., Lynn; Vice-President, Albert Dickerman, A.M., Boston; Treasurer, Bernard F. Merriam, South Framingham; Secretary, D. M. Hodge, D.D., Franklin, H. I. Cushman, D.D., Providence, R. I.; Augustus Harrington,

The courses of study are: English, of three years; academic of four years; college preparatory, of four years; technical preparatory of three years. A preparatory course of one year is arranged for those not fitted to enter one of the iregular courses. Specal attention is given to fitting students for college. Provision is also made for advanced courses for students who are graduates of High Schools or Academies.

Terms, including all expenses of board, lights, heat, instruction, etc., but exclusive of special branches and washing per year, $225, divided as follows: First term, $85; second term, $75; third term, $65. Drawing, Painting Music and Elocution, extra, but reasonable.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The Seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., the Granite City, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered. The academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the Sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The college preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The academic course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the ancient and modern languages, mathematics, science, English literature, rhetoric and history.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of instrumental music is well conducted. The reputation of this department is very high. Diplomas will be given to students satisfactorily completing the course in Music.

Vocal music is also taught by a teacher of reputation and experience. His work gives general satisfaction.

The school is supplied with anatomical models, charts, globes, microscope, a cabinet of minerals, apparatus for chemistry and natural philosophy, and a library of twenty-eighthundred volumes.

A gymnasium, erected and equipped by the alumni and friends, gives ample opportunity for physical development. Care will be taken to have proper physical examination, and exercise will be in charge of competent instructors.

A commercial department, recently established, gives instruction in all branches taught in the best business colleges.

The Thompson Memorial Building furnishes every facility to twenty-eight students to board themselves.

Fund.—The permanent fund amounts to about $65,000 and will be materially increased by bequests subject to life interest.

Expenses.—Board, $3.50 per week, including room rent, steam heat, light and washing. The charge for tuition averages about $10 per term. Twelve free scholarships pay the tuition of those pupils meeting the requirements. School charges for the year amount to $175.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—W. R. Shipman, D.D., Tufts College, Mass.; Hon. R. S. Taft, Burlington; Hon. Clark King, Montpelier; Ira C. Calef, Washington; Hon. S. F. Frary, Strafford; Rev. J. E. WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Sem nary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in the Deering suburb of Portland, Me.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and the McArthur Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been recently expended and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall. The McArthur Gymnasium, erected in 1900, is a brick building and is first-class in all respects; it is lighted with electricity.

The institution offers five courses of study. The English course, the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years, and the oratory course of three years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of these courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for any college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches, for the full school year, vary from $170 to $185.

NECROLOGY.

The following named preachers and former preachers, fifteen in all, have died since September, 1900.

ISRAEL COLE SMITH, born in Salisbury, Herkimer Co., N.Y., July 12, 1816, died at Veray, Ind., December 15, 1900. He became a Universalist under the preaching of the late Rev. Dr. Dolphus Skinner, before reaching his majority; and at the age of 21 moved to Indiana. In 1857 he began to preach and was licensed and fellowshipped by the Rogers Association, of Southern Indiana, August 27, 1859. He was never ordained. "He was a pioneer of our faith in a large territory surrounding his home, and was never moved by the insults and opposition he encountered for many years from the bigoted, except to rejoice that he was counted worthy to suffer persecution and reproach. . . . . He was a man without pretensions and disguises, quick and generous in praise, warm and affectionate in spirit, but devout and reverent to the core. In all the relations of life he was helpful and hopeful."

SYLVESTER AMES PARKER was born in Lempster, N. H., June 10, 1834, and died in Springfield, Vt., January 5, 1901. His mother was a sister of the late Rev. Dr. A. A. Miner, and so he was born into and reared in the Universalist faith. From the public school training he went to several academies, and for a little while to Tufts College. For a few years a teacher in Georgia and North Carolina, he at last made choice of the Christian ministry for his life-work and was ordained in the Universalist Church at Stowe, Vt., August 25, 1859. After three years service at Stowe, he went to Bethel in the Spring of 1862, and was pastor there until May 1888. But Bethel continued to be his home during the remainder of his mortal life. "For a long period he was the business-like, tireless Secretary of the Universalist Convention of Vermont and Province of Quebec. . . . . Probably no minister in Vermont has spoken words of Christian comfort to more people in their hours of sorrow. It seems divinely fitting that he himself should be called 'to explore death's mystery' when performing this sacred office in the home of a life-long friend. He fell unconscious while speaking at the funeral of the wife of the venerable Rev. G. W. Bailey of Springfield, Vt., January 3, 1801," passing away from earth two days later. "It will be a long time before the people of Vermont have a better example of Christian manhood and citizenship set before them than the example set by Sylvester Ames Parker of Bethel

SARAH MERRILL BARNES, born in South Andover Parish, Mass., June 20, 1834, died at Lansing, Kan., January 6, 1901. Born of Universalist parents, Isaiah and Mary T. Merrill, and becoming in early womanhood the wife of Rev. Alfred Barnes, her whole life has been consecrated to the Universalist Church. In 1875 she was licensed by the Kansas Convention to preach and was a great helper to her husband's work in the ministry until 1892, when he passed from earth. In 1894 she received ordination and was active in an itinerant ministry until near the time of her decease. "She was thoughtful, earnest, full of goodness and faith."

JOHN HARVEY MOORE, born in Strafford, Vt., November 29, 1818, died in Webster, Mass., March 1, 1901. Educated at the public schools at Norwich University, he fitted for the ministry under the guidance of his father, the late Rev. John Moore, and Dr. Hosea Ballou, 2d, giving his first sermon in his father's pulpit in Hartford, Conn., in June 1841. His first settlement was at Warren, Mass., where he was ordained May 23, 1844. During a portion of his settlement at Warren, he was also pastor at Hardwick; and he had subsequent pastorates at Webster and Wakefield, Mass., Stamford, Conn., Concord, N. H., and Newark, N. Y. His pastorates were all successful and his labors were greatly blessed. "A dutiful son, a devoted husband and a faithful pastor, sum up the earthly achievements of the Rev. John Harvey Moore. The memorial of the righteous is in the lives they have influenced for good."

GIDEON SELDEN GOWDY was born in Rome, N. Y., May 19, 1810, and died at Albert Lea, Minn., March 30, 1901. His name, as a new preacher, first appears in the REGISTER for 1842, and he was probably ordained that year, while residing in Yorkshire, in the bounds of the Allegany Association. He resided in that region until 1868, preaching on a large circuit, often "without money and without price." In the last named year he went to Eldora, Iowa, where he preached two years and then moved to Fairbault, Minn., preaching there and at Medford. After several years service in these places he made his home for a long time at Albert Lea, as pastor to the Society in that place. Subsequently he went to his first western home in Eldora. He had but recently returned to Albert Lea, when he was stricken with sickness and the infirmities incident to his advanced years. A resident of that town says of Mr. Gowdy: "His has been a grand and noble life, an exhibition of the true Christian spirit."

LIZZIE NASH SHAW was born in Ohio, in 1854, and died in Oakland, Cal., March 31, 1901. She was born in the Universalist faith, and served all its interests with true devotion. Going to California she became greatly interested in the parish at Oakland, cast in her lot with the Sunday school, of which she became superintendent, united with the church, and then, her heart turning towards the ministry, she pursued a systematic course of study and was duly licensed in 1894; "but the precarious condition of her health finally prevented her from taking on herself the ordination vows." For about two years she was acting pastor of the Oakland church, and therein "fully demonstrated her eminent fitness for the work of the ministry had her strength been equal to her love and loyalty. . . . Her church held the place nearest her heart, a warm, generous, consecrated heart. In social and home life, she was always the faithful Christian, self-sacrificing, caring for others in the midst of personal suffering, happy in conferring happiness. 'She hath done what she could.'"

JOSEPH JORDAN was born in West Norfolk, Va., in 1842, and died at Huntersville, Norfolk Co., Va., June 3, 1901. He was educated a Baptist, and was several years a preacher in that denomination. While on a visit to Philadelphia, he heard and became interested in the preaching of Universalism by Rev. Dr. Sweetser and joined the Universalist Church. He was ordained a preacher with us in 1888, and began a mission work among the colored people of Norfolk, himself being the first colored man to be ordained to the Universalist ministry. He was a man of good mind, and wrought a good work among us. Chiefly by his presentation of the condition of affairs at Norfolk and the possibility of good work there, the people in attendance on the General Convention, held in Washington, D.C., a few years ago, pledged a sum sufficient for the erection of a chapel and schoolroom for his work. He was a man of clean, pure life, and his ministry and teachings were greatly blessed to those whom he was able to reach.

ORLANDO G. HEMPSTEAD was born in Connecticut, in 1822, and died in Philadelphia, Penn., in June, 1901. He entered the Universalist ministry in 1844, and remained in it not exceeding two years, during which period he was preaching in Dimock, Susquehanna Co., Penn. He then took up newspaper work and during the war moved to Philadelphia, where for several years he was employed in the Custom House as Deputy Collector. Not long after the close of the War he embarked in a business in which he had great success. Afflicted with blindness during the last ten years of his life, he was happy and contented though shut out from the activities in which he delighted. The editor of THE REGISTER has pleasant me[illegible]f many d[illegible] interviews with Brother Hempst[illegible]ng 1864–18[illegible] was always interested in

LESTER WARREN, born in 1815, died at his home in North Montpelier, Vt., July 16, 1901. His name first appears in the REGISTER in 1838. A year later he was ordained. Few men in any rank in life were better known in Vermont than was he, his active ministry of more than sixty years being spent in that State. "He was an able and devout preacher. . . . He was called to attend more weddings and funerals than was any other minister within the radius of his activities and his name has long been a revered and household word in many homes. His life was charmingly fragrant and beautiful and touched other lives like a heavenly benediction. . . . . The fond companion and devoted daughter, besides relatives, friends, neighbors and co-workers in the ministry, sincerely mourn the departure of a loyal companion and devoted father, a faithful friend, and upright citizen and devout, worthy minister of Jesus Christ."

JAMES A. RHYNE, born in Georgia, 1835, died at Jasper, Ga., July 24, 1901. After the close of the war, in which he served in the Confederate Army, Mr. Rhyne turned his thoughts towards the Christian ministry in the Universalist Church. He was ordained in 1869, and his ministry has been in Georgia and Alabama. It was said of him: "When the first call came he answered with his youth and strength; when the higher call came he gave his heart and time, and answered with a gentle, kind, consistent life that breathed forth the spirit of true religion."

CASSIUS L. HASKELL, born in Munroe Co., Iowa, May 20th, 1850, died in New York, August 11th, 1901. He was educated at the Iowa Wesleyan University, Mt. Pleasant, and was for several years an Attorney at law. While in the practice of this profession his heart went forth to the Christian ministry and he took up a course of study which led him to the pulpit. His first settlement was at Oxford, Ohio, where he was ordained, October 10th, 1878. Subsequently he was settled at Hamilton, Ohio, for six years itinerated in Iowa, then had a pastorate of three years at LeRoy, N. Y. In 1893 he moved to New West Brighton, N. Y., where he became an efficient temperance worker, and during the remainder of his life was a lecturer in the interest of that reform He made a good record and leaves the memory of an honorable and useful life. His death occurred suddenly from a pulmonary trouble.

WATSON WILBERFORCE SMITH, born in Bucksport, Me., in 1837, died in Los Angeles, Cal., July 19, 1901. He was reared in the Methodist Episcopal church and was for a few years a minister in that denomination. Uniting with the Universalist [illegible] 1864, he was fellowshipped as a minister with us in [illegible] pastorate in Turner, Me., for a few years, but

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Sem nary, in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in the Deering suburb of Portland, Me.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, a dining hall connecting the two, Alumni Hall and the McArthur Gymnasium. Extensive repairs have been made in all the halls, through the generosity of Mrs. Goddard and others. Ten thousand dollars have been recently expended and the halls are supplied with all modern improvements. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

All the buildings are heated by steam and have other conveniences so as to accommodate one hundred boarders. Alumni Hall contains a general school-room, recitation rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall. The McArthur Gymnasium, erected in 1900, is a brick building and is first-class in all respects; it is lighted with electricity.

The institution offers five courses of study. The English course, the college preparatory, the scientific, the ladies' classical and the modern language course, each of four years, and the oratory course of three years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of these courses and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete the scientific or ladies' classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for any college.

Expenses.—Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition, $10.00 per term. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches, for the full school year, vary from $170 to $185.

organs continue to keep pace with the modern requirements of churches, chapels and homes. Upwards of 50 years of experience in the manufacture of reed organs is a guarantee that both instruments of Estey make will excel in perfection of tone, beauty of design and excellence of construction. The capacity of our pipe organs for church or chapel use begins where our reed organs leave off. . . . . .
